GARNER MIGHT TOSS SUPPORT TO ROOSEVELT

SPEAKER LIKELY TO BE RUNNING MATE OF GOVERNOR

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Senator Norris (R. Neb.) said tonight he would not support President Hoover in the November elections but would throw his strength behind Franklin D. Roosevelt if the Democratic party nominates the New York governor.

Norris, who bolted the Hoover standard in 1928 to support Alfred E. Smith, said the president "has not done anything he said he was going to do."

New York, May 5 (AP) Serious consideration is being given to the possibility of offering John N. Garner the Democratic vice presidential nomination and lining up Garner's presidential support behind Franklin D. Roosevelt, it was learned tonight in the Roosevelt camp.

Garner's victory in the three-cornered race for California's 44 delegates and the assurance he will get the 46 from Texas have made him a formidable figure in the pre-convention picture.

Roosevelt's campaign managers are convinced the New York governor will be shy only about 100 votes of the 770 necessary for nomination when the convention opens next month. Garner's 90, in that event, would almost clinch the nomination.

No overtures have been made, however, to Garner as yet, it was said.

Farley Is Silent

The possibility of the Roosevelt-Garner combine was mentioned in Washington by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, favorite son in Illinois, which has 58 convention votes.

James A. Farley, field marshal of the Roosevelt forces said nothing when asked his opinion of the idea.

Farley spent most of the day making and answering long distance telephone calls from as far away as Wyoming. To everyone he asserted that the "bandwagon" has not been stopped, and that "I'm still positive it will be a first ballot nomination for Roosevelt."

But Farley has made it clear he does not think his candidate will have 770 votes all "in the bag" when the convention opens. He said it will require the switching of support from some other candidate or "favorite son," after the first roll call, to give Roosevelt the nomination.

In the meantime, the launching of a nationwide campaign for Garner is being planned, and Alfred E. Smith, with 46 votes definitely pledged to him already, is counting on picking up enough more to go to Chicago with about 200.

Tydings Asks Hoover Views On Prohibition

Washington, May 5 (AP)—An expression of President Hoover's views on prohibition was demanded in the senate today by Senator Tydings of Maryland, who said the president lacked the courage to give them.

The Democrat, an opponent of prohibition, said some Republicans had attempted to "curry favor with the voters" by hinting there would be a wet plank in the Republican platform.

Secretary Hurley and Assistant Secretary Jahncke of the navy, Tydings said, had indicated President Hoover would agree to "some sort of wet or modification" platform, but Chairman Fess of the national committee had said the party would remain dry.

Fess Remains Silent

"It is a rather sad commentary on democracy," he added, "that with a great question like this, the president of the United States is absolutely silent. No man in the country knows whether he is going to be for a continuation of this glorious experiment or advocate some change."

Fess remained silently reading at his desk while Tydings challenged anyone in the chamber to tell how President Hoover stands on the liquor question.

Tydings said if the president is going to come out for modification he should do it now, so that beer could be used as a source of taxation. He claimed it would raise $500,000,000 and would obviate the necessity for a number of nuisance taxes.

"There is not a spot in the United States," he continued, "where liquor cannot be purchased. Yet this industry, illegal though it is, is not taxed a dollar."

Chinese and Japanese Delegates Sign Armistice

Shanghai, May 5 (AP) The Japanese high command announced tonight that excavation of the troops that fought the battle of Shanghai already had been ordered in accordance with the terms of a formal armistice signed earlier in the day by emissaries of the Chinese and Japanese governments.

The signing of the truce was a most unusual procedure. It was necessary to carry the document to two sickbeds. Namoru Shigemitru signed the pact in the hospital where he has been a patient since the Sanguinary Hongkew bombing last week and a short time after he had written his name he was taken to an operating room where one of his legs was amputated.

Compromise Armistice

Quo Tai-Chai, the Chinese representative, signed in his home, where he is recuperating from wounds inflicted by a group of students who attacked him Tuesday because they thought he was going to approve a peace in which China would be the loser.

The closest thing to a ceremony such as usually marks the signing of such an international agreement took place at the British consulate, where Sir Miles W. Lampson, British minister to China and leader among the peace negotiators, and the representatives of other neutral parties, affixed their signatures.

An unofficial version of the Armistice indicated that both the Japanese and Chinese had compromised. Japan apparently

Ishpeming, Negaunee Vote for Fast Time

Marquette, Mich., May 5 (AP)—Marquette county is a county divided against itself tonight.

Negaunee residents, after a four day poll, voted for fast time, it was disclosed tonight when the ballots were counted, by a margin of 192 votes. There were 708 for an 516 against fast time. Ishpeming, Negaunee's neighbor city, three miles away, set its clocks ahead last Saturday at midnight, and Negaunee clocks will be advanced an hour this Saturday at midnight.

Marquette, 13 miles from Negaunee, has voted for slow time by a margin of 238 votes. Whether the Negaunee vote will influence persons here is a matter of conjecture. The court house, in Marquette, is operating on fast time under state law.

$100,000 BABY RANSOM PAID TO HIM, CLAIM

WIFE OF PUBLISHER ACTIVE IN LINDBERGH CASE

Washington, May 5 (AP)—The world-wide search for the kidnaped Lindbergh baby was echoed dramatically today in the arrest of Gaston B. Means on a charge of obtaining $100,000 on false representations that he could obtain the child from his abductors.

Department of justice agents arrested the former justice department investigator after a secret inquiry into allegations that he had been paid the money by Mrs. Edward B. McLean, wife of the publisher of the Washington Post.

Mrs. McLean said in a statement through her attorney, Albert W. Fox, that Colonel Lindbergh knew of her activities but that they were kept secret from her closest friends.

Negotiations Stopped

The weird negotiations conducted by Mrs. McLean, her attorney said, led her to Aiken, S. C., where she met Means and a rough-looking individual armed with guns, who represented himself to be one of the kidnaping gang.

She was told, her attorney added, that it would be necessary for her to go to El Paso, Texas, as the baby was in Mexico. Arriving there, Fox continued, she was informed there had been a hitch in the plans and she would have to return to Washington and re-establish contact with the gang.

Later, after additional demands for money had been made and Mrs. McLean was ready to pawn some of her jewelry to raise additional funds, her attorneys learned of the negotiations, Fox said, and put a stop to them.

A demand was made upon Means to return the $100,000, Fox added, and he was given until last Wednesday to do so. Upon his failure, attorneys for Mrs. McLean went to the department of justice and told the story, Fox said. Arraigned before a United States commissioner late today, Means, who served more than three years in the Atlanta penitentiary for accepting a bribe and for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act, pleaded not guilty.

Leo A. Rover, United States district attorney, demanded bail be fixed at $100,000, saying his information regarding Means' "past activities leads me to believe that if the bond is not set he will not be here." Means was placed in jail on his failure to make bond.

Questioned by newspapermen, Means said he could not disclose whether he had been working on the Lindbergh case as that would "violate a confidence."

"A good many people have said a good many things about me," he added, "but you will always notice I always stand pat and I never break a confidence until they do—then I do, quick."

No Clue Discovered

In her statement, Mrs. McLean said she conferred with Captain Emory S. Land, attached to the navy department here and a cousin of Lindbergh, and the Rev. Francis J. Hurney, a local Catholic priest, and "arranged to place the ransom money in the custody of an intermediary whom I employed to make the ransom payment in case the Lindbergh baby were found." She added:

"My plan was carried out without the knowledge of my closest friends and without the knowledge of my attorneys. When it became evident that no clue of any value had been discovered, I

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

President Hoover in special message demanded conclusive budget-balancing program of congress and criticized house for its handling of tax-economy program.

Senate finance committee raised income tax and surtax levies in revenue bill.

House passed Hill Muscle Shoals bill.

Senator Borah (R. Idaho) demanded in senate real disarmament, settlement of reparations problem and silver restoration as means to economic recovery.

House appropriations committee reported war department appropriations bill cut to $386,794,000.

Senator Tydings (D. Md.) asked in senate expression President Hoover's views on prohibition.

AL CHEERFUL ON "LAST RIDE"

His "last ride" actually under way, Alphonse Capone was chatty as the train carrying him to the Atlanta penitentiary rolled south from Chicago. He was snapped as he sat in his compartment with United States Marshal H. C. W. Laubenheimer.

Definite Program for Balancing U. S. Budget Demanded by Hoover

Washington, May 5. (AP)—Arraigning the house of representatives in stinging terms, President Hoover addressed to congress late today a special message demanding a "definite and conclusive program for balancing the budget."

"It would go far to restore business, employment and agriculture alike," he declared after decrying uncertainty as "disastrous."

The pronouncement, coming as it did when the senate finance committee had just lifted income taxes to still higher levels and after an impassioned speech by Senator Borah of Idaho on the need for drastic international action to combat disaster, climaxed a day fraught with evidence of the troubled times.

Robinson Retaliates

No sooner had the senate listened to the message than the Democratic leader, Robinson of Arkansas, rose to blame "unaccountable errors" by the administration in estimating the money needed to run the government for the situation in which congress finds itself. In the house, Representative Rainey—leader for the Democratic majority—termed the Hoover message "The first speech in his campaign for re-election."

Answering Robinson's insistence that specific suggestions are needed instead of general advice, Senator Reed (R. Pa.) maintained those had been forthcoming. And Representative Snell (R. N. Y.) told Rainey whether the speech was campaign material or not, "the Democrats will have to answer."

The president asserted that in spite of beneficial remedial measures "and the gradual improvement in fundamental conditions, fear and alarm prevail because of events in Washington which have greatly disturbed the public mind."

He proceeded to list house actions in rejecting the treasury and ways and means committee tax programs, road building authorizations, enlarging veterans benefits, "virtual destruction" of economy programs, and "the threat of further legislation looking to uncontrolled inflation."

These, he avowed, "have all resulted in diminishing public confidence."

As plainly required now, he listed prompt enactment of budget-balancing and equitable taxation and an incisive economy program including authority for him to reorganize the government.

But a while before, Borah of Idaho had set up disarmament, settlement of the reparations problem and restoration of silver as pathways to economic recovery everywhere. He indicted international leadership and "timidity of governments" calling the masses restless and saying he could not tell "how long the people will be willing to carry the burden they now are carrying."

Assails Minorities

Senators in a nearby room were busily tacking higher levies on the house tax bill, adding another $100,000,000 to the billion already called for. The measure now carries the stiffest provisions since war time rates were modified.

In particular, President Hoover assailed dictation by "organized

STATE BUDGET BILL TANGLED

Senators Engel and Wood Lead Attack On Measure

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, Mich., May 5 (AP)—The administration budget bill became enmeshed in a tangle of debate so violent that the senate was unable to reach a decision this afternoon. The measure was carried over into a night session.

Senators Arthur D. Wood, of Detroit, and Albert J. Engle, of Lake City, attacked the bill as a pet of Governor Brucker which he insists the legislature adopt.

They asserted the administration proposal for an average 15 percent cut in payrolls and operating appropriations is only "a gesture." Prices and costs have descended so low that the governor's reductions could be absorbed without reducing operations in any institution or department, they claimed. As a substitute they offered a schedule of appropriation and payroll cuts which they said would decrease the state tax next year 21 percent. They advocated appropriations for the next fiscal year of $23,834,318 for the affected department and institutions, as compared with $25,066,432 recommended by the governor and $28,783,404 allowed by the last legislature.

Senators Norman B. Harton, of Lenawee, Herbert P. Orr, of Caro, and James T. Upjohn, of Kalamazoo, defended the administration budget. They asserted that to adopt the figures offered by Wood and Engle would be to cripple institutions and departments. Senator Horton contended it would be "disastrous" to accept hit and miss reductions.

Charge "Blind Cut"

After hours of argument it was discovered that both the administraion budget and the schedule supported by a minority of the finance committee proposed to cut the pay of constitutional officers. Their salaries may not be reduced

Three In Prison May Get Freedom

Jackson, Mich., May 5 (AP)—Three men now serving terms in the Michigan state prison here will be given full pardons in the event that two other men, also in the same prison for another crime, are found guilty of the robbery of the Bellevue State Bank, in Eaton county, last year.

Forrest Shepard, Joe Gralowski and Harold Lee are serving terms for the robbery. Last week police arrested Edward Dawson, who pleaded guilty to the holdup, implicated Edward Hessmer and Lisle McIlvain, and declared Shepard, Gralowski and Lee had no part in the crime. Hessmer and McIlvain are serving terms for another robbery. Dawson is beginning a 20 to 30 year term.

NATIONS MUST DISARM, BORAH TELLS SENATE

ALSO RECOMMENDS RESTORATION OF SILVER

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Three pathways to the economic recovery of the world were charted in the senate today by Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee in a denunciation of international leadership and "timidity of governments."

Disarmament, settlement of the reparations problem, and restoration of silver were demanded by the Idaho orator, his powerful voice booming a challenge to the rulers of the world.

Borah's frank discussion of economic and international problems held a crowded senate intent through most of the usual lunch hour. Unheralded, however, the speech was made before half-filled galleries.

Masses Restless

Borah warned that a failure of the Geneva disarmament conference would have world-wide effects and discourage investors.

He pointed to a restlessness of the masses, everywhere, at the failure of governments to meet the problems, adding: "I do not know how long the people will be willing to carry the burden they are now carrying."

Denouncing "gold mentality," Borah called upon the American government to take the lead in an international conference looking to the restoration of silver.

He warned that Rome did not fall from a lack of wealth, but because of a "defect" in its administration.

Turning to reparations, Borah clapped his hands for emphasis and warned they would "destroy Europe" unless they are settled.

"I venture this opinion," he said, "that unless armaments are reduced so that burden is lifted, unless reparations are settled so that Europe can start on economic recovery and unless silver is restored to the place it occupied prior to 1925, to restore to some extent the purchasing power of one-half the world, there will not be any ready return to prosperity."

The Idaho senator began with a statement that "when a man is lying on his bed with a broken leg and gangrene is setting in, he needs a doctor."

Then turning to the Geneva conference, he said it is now generally believed, that it "will not accomplish anything of great moment in the way of reducing armaments."

Asserting that the leading nations are now devoting 75 percent of their budget to wars, past and present, Borah said:

"I do not know of anything so calculated to discourage investors as the knowledge that the burden of armaments is not to be lifted, but increased.

"We must not be unmindful of the fact that the masses everywhere, including our own country, are becoming restless.

"We do not accomplish things generally in this country by revolution, but there can be no doubt of a general feeling among the peoples that the governments are meeting the task before them."

Predicting failure of the Lausanne conference, Borah said:

"It must be apparent to all that unless those who hold in their hands the reins of power, who represent government in Europe, can grapple with the problems and work to a common solution, the conditions in Europe will be beyond the power of human language to express."

On the monetary problem, Borah

With Legislators At State Capitol

(By The Associated Press)

The house passed the administration highway finance bill. The measure provided that the entire weight tax be returned to the counties. Upper peninsula members were defeated in three major fights in debate.

Administration bill to print the names of presidential electors on the ballots instead of candidates was passed by the house.

The house went on record against nepotism in state employment.

Administration budget bill attacked as a "gesture" in the senate.

Buy Michigan Products, Says Sen. Rushton

Lansing, Mich., May 5 (AP)—The senate, by a unanimous vote, today adopted a resolution directing Governor Brucker and the state purchasing agents to buy Michigan products whenever possible.

The measure was introduced by Senator Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba.

"Unemployment commissions and other bodies are so much bunk when compared to acts which will start wheels turning," Rushton said. "If the state and political subdivisions would buy Michigan products men would go back to work. I wrote to the administrative board some time ago trying to get the state to use Michigan paper. As far as I know the request never even got before the board. We can't sell a pound of Michigan paper but the state uses products of Russia. We can't compete with foreign low paid labor.

Gas Price Inquiry

"Two Michigan members of congress, one from the Second and one from the Ninth districts, voted against a tariff on copper. I can't understand what was in their minds. Another voted against protection for sugar. Grand Rapids has used a million pounds of Michigan sugar for welfare distribution. If other cities would do that unemployment would be relieved."

The senate also adopted a resolution providing for a commission to study the Iowa plan of establishing a state fund to protect bank depositors, and to make recommendations to the next legislature.

The Turner bill to permit the state banking commissioner to regulate withdrawals of bank deposits was defeated for a second time. The senate adopted Speaker Fred R. Ming's resolution providing for an inquiry into gasoline prices. It provides for a legislative committee of six to report to the next legislature.

The Miller bill, repealing the law requiring extra probate judges in Oakland county, was adopted.

CROWD OBJECTS TO SALARY CUT

Discussion of Escanaba Budget Brings Out Adverse Comment

Wholesale objections were heard from a large city hall audience last night when the Escanaba city council opened a discussion of graduated salary reductions for year-round city employes as a preparatory step in the framing of the 1932 budget. A motion which invoked a flood of audible criticism provided for a reduction of 10 per cent for employes receiving $100 a month and under, and a reduction of 15 per cent for those receiving over $100. The motion, offered for the guidance of the city manager in drawing up the budget for the ensuing year, failed to pass, receiving no supporting vote.

May 24 was set as the date for the regular public hearing on the annual budget. As submitted last night by City Manager T. F. Kessler, the first draft of the budget calls for a total appropriation of $109,487.90, which is $53,644.74 less than the actual expenditure for 1931 and $7,781.60 less than the budget estimate of 1931.

Public Wants Baseball

In response to requests from many local citizens, the council took up the matter of providing a diamond for regulation baseball games and passed a motion instructing the city manager to secure an estimate of the cost of such an undertaking and report back at the next meeting, which will probably be next week. The state fair grounds has been proposed as the logical place for a hardball diamond, and the ground will be gone over today to determine where a diamond can best be laid out and what will be the approximate cost.

A petition presented by representatives of S. A. Valentine camp, Spanish American war veterans, asked the city to donate $500 in cash, a display of fireworks, and the municipal band, for the reunion and convention of the 34th Michigan regiment, to be held in this city July 2, 3 and 4. The request was held over for action at a future meeting. Otto K. Scherif,

ROAD BUILDING IN U. P. SUFFERS HARD SETBACK

ENTIRE WEIGHT TAX TO BE RETURNED TO COUNTIES

BY SAM B. McCOOL
(Ass'd Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, Mich., May 5 (AP)—The administration highway finance bill, bulwark of Gov. Brucker's tax relief program, rode through the house today to passage in substantially the same form that it left the senate.

After a fiery debate which diverted from regular legislative lines the measure was adopted by a vote of 79 to 13.

The final draft provided that the entire weight tax estimated at $20,000,000 be returned to the counties and that the McNitt township road appropriation beginning at $2,500,000 next year be taken out of gasoline revenues. Fifty four members voted for the entire return.

A strange leaderhip which brought about the alignment of Urban and rural members of southern Michigan ran roughshod over the combined opposition of northern Michigan and upper peninsula leaders. The debate found Rep. Gus T. Hartman, the administration floor leader, forsaking the bill at the last minute and casting his vote against the measure.

Fight Losing Battle

Once the members had eliminated the house committee amendment to take the McNitt appropriation out of the weight tax, passage of the bill was accompanied by comparative quiet. Numerous amendments were attached but few provoked controversy. Advocates were predicting speedy acceptance of the amendments by the senate.

The membership voted the return of the entire weight tax under the cry of "bread or cement for the people." Threats that petitions would seek the return of all highway revenues were hurled from the floor. Upper Peninsula members fought a losing battle for a larger construction fund.

Rep. Charles H. Reed, of Clio, insisted that Detroit's inability to absorb the entire $3,228,000 permitted under its agreement with the state together with $750,000 in federal aid would permit additions to safeguard adequate construction. Rep. Arthur C. MacKinnon, of Bay City, replied that return of the entire weight tax, "will wreck one of the best highway departments" in the country.

MacKinnon opposed the bill as "a waste of money," contending that a number of counties and communities would receive aid when not in need of it. Oscoda—which, he said, had levied a $100 road tax the last two years—would get $35,000 from the bill.

"Are you going to help the taxpayer or the cement manufacturer and road contractor?" Rep. Philemon J. Miller asked.

To this question Rep. Conrad J. Netting added, "will it be bread or cement for the people?"

Rep. Hartman, pressing for a larger construction fund, said that only 9.6 per cent of the roads in the upper peninsula are paved compared with 98.5 per cent in Wayne county. He charged that southern Michigan counties had engaged in a "drunken orgy of road building and are now waking up with a headache."

Two other assaults were made on proposals by upper peninsula leaders. An amendment permitting the return of the new revenue to the counties in that section on the same basis as the present apportionment was defeated when Rep. George C. Watson, of Capac, declared it unconstitutional. A final attempt by Rep. Hartman to set aside from construction money $2,000,000

Ishpeming, Negaunee Vote for Fast Time

Marquette, Mich., May 5 (AP)—Marquette county is a county divided against itself tonight.

Negaunee residents, after a four day poll, voted for fast time, it was disclosed tonight when the ballots were counted, by a margin of 192 votes. There were 708 for an 516 against fast time. Ishpeming, Negaunee's neighbor city, three miles away, set its clocks ahead last Saturday at midnight, and Negaunee clocks will be advanced an hour this Saturday at midnight.

Marquette, 13 miles from Negaunee, has voted for slow time by a margin of 238 votes. Whether the Negaunee vote will influence persons here is a matter of conjecture. The court house, in Marquette, is operating on fast time under state law.

$100,000 BABY RANSOM PAID TO HIM, CLAIM

WIFE OF PUBLISHER ACTIVE IN LINDBERGH CASE

Washington, May 5 (AP)—The world-wide search for the kidnaped Lindbergh baby was echoed dramatically today in the arrest of Gaston B. Means on a charge of obtaining $100,000 on false representations that he could obtain the child from his abductors.

Department of justice agents arrested the former justice department investigator after a secret inquiry into allegations that he had been paid the money by Mrs. Edward B. McLean, wife of the publisher of the Washington Post.

Mrs. McLean said in a statement through her attorney, Albert W. Fox, that Colonel Lindbergh knew of her activities but that they were kept secret from her closest friends.

Negotiations Stopped

The weird negotiations conducted by Mrs. McLean, her attorney said, led her to Aiken, S. C., where she met Means and a rough-looking individual armed with guns, who represented himself to be one of the kidnaping gang.

She was told, her attorney added, that it would be necessary for her to go to El Paso, Texas, as the baby was in Mexico. Arriving there, Fox continued, she was informed there had been a hitch in the plans and she would have to return to Washington and re-establish contact with the gang.

Later, after additional demands for money had been made and Mrs. McLean was ready to pawn some of her jewelry to raise additional funds, her attorneys learned of the negotiations, Fox said, and put a stop to them.

A demand was made upon Means to return the $100,000, Fox added, and he was given until last Wednesday to do so. Upon his failure, attorneys for Mrs. McLean went to the department of justice and told the story, Fox said. Arraigned before a United States commissioner late today, Means, who served more than three years in the Atlanta penitentiary for accepting a bribe and for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act, pleaded not guilty.

Leo A. Rover, United States district attorney, demanded bail be fixed at $100,000, saying his information regarding Means' "past activities leads me to believe that if the bond is not set he will not be here." Means was placed in jail on his failure to make bond.

Questioned by newspapermen, Means said he could not disclose whether he had been working on the Lindbergh case as that would "violate a confidence."

"A good many people have said a good many things about me," he added, "but you will always notice I always stand pat and I never break a confidence until they do—then I do, quick."

No Clue Discovered

In her statement, Mrs. McLean said she conferred with Captain Emory S. Land, attached to the navy department here and a cousin of Lindbergh, and the Rev. Francis J. Hurney, a local Catholic priest, and "arranged to place the ransom money in the custody of an intermediary whom I employed to make the ransom payment in case the Lindbergh baby were found." She added:

"My plan was carried out without the knowledge of my closest friends and without the knowledge of my attorneys. When it became evident that no clue of any value had been discovered, I

President Hoover in special message demanded conclusive budget-balancing program of congress and criticized house for its handling of tax-economy program.

Senate finance committee raised income tax and surtax levies in revenue bill.

House passed Hill Muscle Shoals bill.

Senator Borah (R. Idaho) demanded in senate real disarmament, settlement of reparations problem and silver restoration as means to economic recovery.

House appropriations committee reported war department appropriations bill cut to $386,794,000.

Senator Tydings (D. Md.) asked in senate expression President Hoover's views on prohibition.

Definite Program for Balancing U. S. Budget Demanded by Hoover

Washington, May 5. (AP)—Arraigning the house of representatives in stinging terms, President Hoover addressed to congress late today a special message demanding a "definite and conclusive program for balancing the budget."

"It would go far to restore business, employment and agriculture alike," he declared after decrying uncertainty as "disastrous."

The pronouncement, coming as it did when the senate finance committee had just lifted income taxes to still higher levels and after an impassioned speech by Senator Borah of Idaho on the need for drastic international action to combat disaster, climaxed a day fraught with evidence of the troubled times.

Robinson Retaliates

No sooner had the senate listened to the message than the Democratic leader, Robinson of Arkansas, rose to blame "unaccountable errors" by the administration in estimating the money needed to run the government for the situation in which congress finds itself. In the house, Representative Rainey—leader for the Democratic majority—termed the Hoover message "The first speech in his campaign for re-election."

Answering Robinson's insistance that specific suggestions are needed instead of general advice, Senator Reed (R. Pa.) maintained those had been forthcoming. And Representative Snell (R. N. Y.) told Rainey whether the speech was campaign material or not, "the Democrats will have to answer."

The president asserted that in spite of beneficial remedial measures "and the gradual improvement in fundamental conditions, fear and alarm prevail because of events in Washington which have greatly disturbed the public mind."

He proceeded to list house actions in rejecting the treasury and ways and means committee tax programs, road building authorizations, enlarging veterans benefits, "virtual destruction" of economy programs, and "the threat of further legislation looking to uncontrolled inflation."

These, he avowed, "have all resulted in diminishing public confidence."

As plainly required now, he listed prompt enactment of budget-balancing and equitable taxation and an incisive economy program including authority for him to reorganize the government.

But a while before, Borah of Idaho had set up disarmament, settlement of the reparations problem and restoration of silver as pathways to economic recovery everywhere. He indicted international leadership and "timidity of governments" calling the masses restless and saying he could not tell "how long the people will be willing to carry the burden they now are carrying."

Assails Minorities

Senators in a nearby room were busily tacking higher levies on the house tax bill, adding another $100,000,000 to the billion already called for. The measure now carries the stiffest provisions since war time rates were modified.

STATE BUDGET BILL TANGLED

Senators Engel and Wood Lead Attack On Measure

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, Mich., May 5 (AP)—The administration budget bill became enmeshed in a tangle of debate so violent that the senate was unable to reach a decision this afternoon. The measure was carried over into a night session.

Senators Arthur D. Wood, of Detroit, and Albert J. Engle, of Lake City, attacked the bill as a pet of Governor Brucker which he insists the legislature adopt.

They asserted the administration proposal for an average 15 percent cut in payrolls and operating appropriations is only "a gesture." Prices and costs have descended so low that the governor's reductions could be absorbed without reducing operations in any institution or department, they claimed. As a substitute they offered a schedule of appropriation and payroll cuts which they said would decrease the state tax next year 21 percent. They advocated appropriations for the next fiscal year of $23,834,318 for the affected department and institutions, as compared with $25,066,432 recommended by the governor and $28,783,404 allowed by the last legislature.

Senators Norman B. Harton, of Lenawee, Herbert P. Orr, of Caro, and James T. Upjohn, of Kalamazoo, defended the administration budget. They asserted that to adopt the figures offered by Wood and Engle would be to cripple institutions and departments. Senator Horton contended it would be "disastrous" to accept hit and miss reductions.

Charge "Blind Cut"

After hours of argument it was discovered that both the administrtaion budget and the schedule supported by a minority of the finance committee proposed to cut the pay of constitutional officers. Their salaries may not be reduced

Three In Prison May Get Freedom

Jackson, Mich., May 5 (AP)—Three men now serving terms in the Michigan state prison here will be given full pardons in the event that two other men, also in the same prison for another crime, are found guilty of the robbery of the Bellevue State Bank, in Eaton county, last year.

Forrest Shepard, Joe Gralowski and Harold Lee are serving terms for the robbery. Last week police arrested Edward Dawson, who pleaded guilty to the holdup, implicated Edward Hessmer and Lisle McIlvain, and declared Shepard, Gralowski and Lee had no part in the crime. Hessmer and McIlvain are serving terms for another robbery. Dawson is beginning a 20 to 30 year term.

NATIONS MUST DISARM, BORAH TELLS SENATE

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Three pathways to the economic recovery of the world were charted in the senate today by Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee in a denunciation of international leadership and "timidity of governments."

Disarmament, settlement of the reparations problem, and restoration of silver were demanded by the Idaho orator, his powerful voice booming a challenge to the rulers of the world.

Borah's frank discussion of economic and international problems held a crowded senate intent through most of the usual lunch hour. Unheralded, however, the speech was made before half-filled galleries.

Masses Restless

Borah warned that a failure of the Geneva disarmament conference would have world-wide effects and discourage investors.

He pointed to a restlessness of the masses, everywhere, at the failure of governments to meet the problems, adding: "I do not know how long the people will be willing to carry the burden they are now carrying."

Denouncing "gold mentality," Borah called upon the American government to take the lead in an international conference looking to the restoration of silver.

He warned that Rome did not fall from a lack of wealth, but because of a "defect" in its administration.

Turning to reparations, Borah clapped his hands for emphasis and warned they would "destroy Europe" unless they are settled.

"I venture this opinion," he said, "that unless armaments are reduced so that burden is lifted, unless reparations are settled so that Europe can start on economic recovery and unless silver is restored to the place it occupied prior to 1925, to restore to some extent the purchasing power of one-half the world, there will not be any ready return to prosperity."

The Idaho senator began with a statement that "when a man is lying on his bed with a broken leg and gangrene is setting in, he needs a doctor."

Then turning to the Geneva conference, he said it is now generally believed, that it "will not accomplish anything of great moment in the way of reducing armaments."

Asserting that the leading nations are now devoting 75 percent of their budget to wars, past and present, Borah said:

"I do not know of anything so calculated to discourage investors as the knowledge that the burden of armaments is not to be lifted, but increased.

"We must not be unmindful of the fact that the masses everywhere, including our own country, are becoming restless.

"We do not accomplish things generally in this country by revolution, but there can be no doubt of a general feeling among the peoples that the governments are meeting the task before them."

Predicting failure of the Lausanne conference, Borah said:

"It must be apparent to all that unless those who hold in their hands the reins of power, who represent government in Europe, can grapple with the problems and work to a common solution, the conditions in Europe will be beyond the power of human language to express."

On the monetary problem, Borah

With Legislators At State Capitol

(By The Associated Press)

The house passed the administration highway finance bill. The measure provided that the entire weight tax be returned to the counties. Upper peninsula members were defeated in three major fights in debate.

Administration bill to print the names of presidential electors on the ballots instead of candidates was passed by the house.

The house went on record against nepotism in state employment.

Administration budget bill attacked as a "gesture" in the senate.

Buy Michigan Products, Says Sen. Rushton

Lansing, Mich., May 5 (AP)—The senate, by a unanimous vote, today adopted a resolution directing Governor Brucker and the state purchasing agents to buy Michigan products whenever possible.

The measure was introduced by Senator Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba.

"Unemployment commissions and other bodies are so much bunk when compared to acts which will start wheels turning," Rushton said. "If the state and political subdivisions would buy Michigan products men would go back to work. I wrote to the administrative board some time ago trying to get the state to use Michigan paper. As far as I know the request never even got before the board. We can't sell a pound of Michigan paper but the state uses products of Russia. We can't compete with foreign low paid labor.

Gas Price Inquiry

"Two Michigan members of congress, one from the Second and one from the Ninth districts, voted against a tariff on copper. I can't understand what was in their minds. Another voted against protection for sugar. Grand Rapids has used a million pounds of Michigan sugar for welfare distribution. If other cities would do that unemployment would be relieved."

The senate also adopted a resolution providing for a commission to study the Iowa plan of establishing a state fund to protect bank depositors, and to make recommendations to the next legislature.

The Turner bill to permit the state banking commissioner to regulate withdrawals of bank deposits was defeated for a second time. The senate adopted Speaker Fred R. Ming's resolution providing for an inquiry into gasoline prices. It provides for a legislative committee of six to report to the next legislature.

The Miller bill, repealing the law requiring extra probate judges in Oakland county, was adopted.

Discussion of Escanaba Budget Brings Out Adverse Comment

Wholesale objections were heard from a large city hall audience last night when the Escanaba city council opened a discussion of graduated salary reductions for year-round city employes as a preparatory step in the framing of the 1932 budget. A motion which invoked a flood of audible criticism provided for a reduction of 10 per cent for employes receiving $100 a month and under, and a reduction of 15 per cent for those receiving over $100. The motion, offered for the guidance of the city manager in drawing up the budget for the ensuing year, failed to pass, receiving no supporting vote.

May 24 was set as the date for the regular public hearing on the annual budget. As submitted last night by City Manager T. F. Kessler, the first draft of the budget calls for a total appropriation of $109,487.90, which is $53,644.74 less than the actual expenditure for 1931 and $7,781.60 less than the budget estimate of 1931.

Public Wants Baseball

In response to requests from many local citizens, the council took up the matter of providing a diamond for regulation baseball games and passed a motion instructing the city manager to secure an estimate of the cost of such an undertaking and report back at the next meeting, which will probably be next week. The state fair grounds has been proposed as the logical place for a hardball diamond, and the ground will be gone over today to determine where a diamond can best be laid out and what will be the approximate cost.

A petition presented by representatives of S. A. Valentine camp, Spanish American war veterans, asked the city to donate $500 in cash, a display of fireworks, and the municipal band, for the reunion and convention of the 34th Michigan regiment, to be held in this city July 2, 3 and 4. The request was held over for action at a future meeting. Otto K. Scheriff,

ROAD BUILDING IN U. P. SUFFERS HARD SETBACK

ENTIRE WEIGHT TAX TO BE RETURNED TO COUNTIES

BY SAM B. McCOOL
(Ass'd Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, Mich., May 5 (AP)—The administration highway finance bill, bulwark of Gov. Brucker's tax relief program, rode through the house today to passage in substantially the same form that it left the senate.

After a fiery debate which diverted from regular legislative lines the measure was adopted by a vote of 79 to 13.

The final draft provided that the entire weight tax estimated at $20,000,000 be returned to the counties and that the McNitt township road appropriation beginning at $2,500,000 next year be taken out of gasoline revenues. Fifty four members voted for the entire return.

A strange leaderhip which brought about the alignment of Urban and rural members of southern Michigan ran roughshod over the combined opposition of northern Michigan and upper peninsula leaders. The debate found Rep. Gus T. Hartman, the administration floor leader, forsaking the bill at the last minute and casting his vote against the measure.

Fight Losing Battle

Once the members had eliminated the house committee amendment to take the McNitt appropriation out of the weight tax, passage of the bill was accompanied by comparative quiet. Numerous amendments were attached but few provoked controversy. Advocates were predicting speedy acceptance of the amendments by the senate.

The membership voted the return of the entire weight tax under the cry of "bread or cement for the people." Threats that petitions would seek the return of all highway revenues were hurled from the floor. Upper Peninsula members fought a losing battle for a larger construction fund.

Rep. Charles H. Reed, of Clio, insisted that Detroit's inability to absorb the entire $3,228,000 permitted under its agreement with the state together with $750,000 in federal aid would permit additions to safeguard adequate construction. Rep. Arthur C. MacKinon, of Bay City, replied that return of the entire weight tax, "will wreck one of the best highway departments" in the country.

MacKinnon opposed the bill as "a waste of money," contending that a number of counties and communities would receive aid when not in need of it. Oscoda—which, he said, had levied a $100 road tax the last two years—would get $35,000 from the bill.

"Are you going to help the taxpayer or the cement manufacturer and road contractor?" Rep. Philemon J. Miller asked.

To this question Rep. Conrad J. Netting added, "will it be bread or cement for the people?"

Rep. Hartman, pressing for a larger construction fund, said that only 9.6 per cent of the roads in the upper peninsula are paved compared with 98.5 per cent in Wayne county. He charged that southern Michigan counties had engaged in a "drunken orgy of road building and are now waking up with a headache."

Two other assaults were made on proposals by upper peninsula leaders. An amendment permitting the return of the new revenue to the counties in that section on the same basis as the present apportionment was defeated when Rep. George C. Watson, of Capac, declared it unconstitutional. A final attempt by Rep. Hartman to set aside from construction money $2,000,000 minorities," saying:

"Such action will undermine all popular government. I know these actions do not reflect the will of the country, and I refuse to believe that the country is unable to reflect its will in legislation."

"The most esential factor to economic recovery today is the restoration of confidence," he said. "In spite of the unquestioned beneficial effect of the remedial measures already taken and the gradual improvement in fundamental conditions, fear and alarm prevail in the country because of events in Washington which have greatly disturbed the public mind.

"The manner in which the house of representatives rejected both the revenue program proposed by the treasury and the program unanimously reported by the committee on ways and means; the character of the tax measures passed; the action of the house which would increase governmental expenditure by $132,000,000 for road building; the action further to enlarge expenditures in non-service connected benefits for the veterans' bureau at the very time when the house was refusing to remedy abuse in these same services; the virtual destruction of both the national economy program proposed by the executive officials and the program of the special house committee on economy; the failure of the house to give adequate authority for early reduction of government bureaus and commissions; the passage of legislation by the house placing burden of impossible execution upon the federal reserve system over the protest of the federal reserve board; the threat of further legislation looking to uncontrolled inflation—have all resulted in diminishing public confidence and offsetting the constructive, unified efforts of the executive and the congress undertaken earlier in the year for recovery of employment and agriculture.

"I need not recount that the revenues of the government as estimated for the next fiscal year show a decrease of about $1,700,000,000 below the fiscal year 1929 and inexorably require a broader basis of taxation and a drastic reduction of expenditures in order to balance the budget. Nothing is more necessary at this time than balancing the budget. Nothing will put more confidence in this country than prompt and courageous and united action in enacting the legislation which this situation imperatively demands, and an equally determined stand in defeating unwise and unnecessary legislation.

"Most expeditious action is necessary if the revenues, appropriations, economy legislation and a balanced budget are to be attained before the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1st next."

Gangsters Hurry With Payments Of Their Income Tax

Chicago, May 5 (AP)—The government's court room hunt for income taxes already has flushed more than $1,000,000 out of frightened gangsters' pockets.

It held the names of gamblers, racketeers, liquor operators and muscle men who so far have hurried into the collector's office to settle up their obligations as Johnson's legal steam roller flattened their gang friends one after another. They are still coming.

Warden Wants To Keep Fall In Jail

Santa Fe, N. M., May 5 (AP) Warden Ed Swote of the Santa Fe prison balked today at releasing Albert B. Fall next Sunday upon orders of Attorney General Mitchell.

Swope contended the former secretary of the interior, who is completing a federal sentence, should remain in prison until he takes a pauper's oath that he is unable to pay $100,000 fine, or his freedom is authorized by President Hoover or the federal parole board.

The warden, however, had not yet received instructions from the department of justice. Officials in Washington said they would be forwarded probably tomorrow and the department expected the orders to be obeyed.

during their terms. A recess was taken to permit the preparation of amendments, with the question of which budget should be approved still unanswered.

The debate ranged principally around the methods by which reductions should be determined and the administration anti-administration angle. Senators Engel and Wood charged the five members of the finance committee who reported favorably the administration bill "didn't know what they were doing." Administration leaders retorted that the minority group was stabbing in the dark. Members challenged each others' veracity.

"Governor Brucker's bill is a blind cut of 15 percent," Engel said, "with no one knowing what departments should be cut or raised. The governor would even cut $40 a month employes of state hospitals; we wouldn't. He would reduce the forest fire funds and would prevent the opening of state parks. We would provide enough money for those purposes but would cut elsewhere so the saving to the taxpayers, on the state tax would be 21 percent."

Wood said he believes he knows more about the needs of state institutions than the governor.

"If the governor can influence any of you, that is your business, but I'm going on record as favoring real economy," Wood declared. "I am not going to have my reputation blasted by passing a bill that constitutes only semi-economy."

He charged that during the last regular session Governor Brucker promised not to veto the budget bill if it was passed in accordance with his recommendations.

"He said he wouldn't but he did to show up the legislature. I took it to the supreme court and now we know that this body and not the governor can do the appropriating," Wood added. "I intend to reserve that right for the legislature, if I can."

Ask Street Extension

A petition from north side residents, asking that Eighth avenue be opened up through to 22nd street was tabled for further investigation. It was found that the city would have to purchase six lots to open up the street. Interested property owners said that the lots could be bought for $200 each.

A written request for a sanitary sewer extension to block 14 in the Seldon addition was not considered, due to the fact that it lacked the necessary number of signers.

By unanimous vote, the council passed a motion reducing the city's membership in the Chamber of Commerce from 20 to eight.

A poor report for the month of March read by City Clerk Carl E. Anderson showed expenditures of $1,815.15, of which $410 was for rent paid for indigent families. This represents 41 homes, the city allowing a maximum of $10 a month on rent items.

CURTIS RETURNS

Norfolk, Va., May 5 (AP) John Hughes Curtis returned to the naval base tonight aboard the yacht Marcon from another of his now numerous cruises as a negotiator for the return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

The Norfolk boat builder and others working with him in efforts to complete negotiations with the kidnapers or their representatives were said to have remained at the base upon the return of the boat.

Hoover Requested To Ask Reduction In Vets' Payments

Washington, May 5, (AP) A plea that President Hoover take a determined stand for a reduction in veterans' compensations, and place the issue squarely before the entire nation was lodged with the chief executive today by Archibald Roosevelt, son of the former president.

Representing the national economy committee, he called at the White House personally to place a letter of protest in the president's hands. He charged that in the present payments "a vast legalized 'racket' has been foisted on the people."

Meanwhile, the proposal for cash payment of the $2,000,000,000 soldiers bonus remained before the house ways and means committee.

The body and the grave were found this afternoon after an all-day search that started when his family discovered he had disappeared from his home near Crump, Mich., during the night.

Rolf was 59 years old. His act was attributed to despondency over loss of his farm. The widow and six children survive.

Another Muscle Shoals Bill Gets Approval In House

Washington, May 5 (AP) One of the annual congressional chores was performed today by the house in passing another Muscle Shoals bill and sending it to the senate.

Again the plan to dispose of the $140,000,000 Alabama properties contained a government operation provision, twice the chief cause of presidential vetoes.

The standing count on final passage was 183 to 132. A few minutes earlier an effort by administration Republicans to eliminate the government operation alternative was defeated by a 200 to 149 record vote.

Detroit, May 5 (AP) William Retty, 17, who calls himself a "bad man" from the west, is in jail today because of what he describes as "another lucky break for the cops."

The first "lucky break," he said, came when they arrested him April 1 in a hotel room with a number of firearms. He was placed on six months probation. He told the arresting officers then that if he had seen them first they wouldn't have lived to tell about it.

He will appear in court on a charge of violating his parole because an officer found him with a revolver in his car.

for the upper peninsula and $2,000,000 for the northern part of the lower peninsula likewise met defeat. The measure provides that each section be given one-fourth the amount available for construction.

Urban members won a skirmish with rural leaders when the priority voted by the house committee to township road maintenance was set aside. As the bill left committee, it provided that 50 per cent of funds remaining after covert and other county obligations had been met be used for township road maintenance. The house accepted the amendment of Rep. Harry E. Barnard, of Jackson, removing the mandatory provision of the clause but permitting rural counties to take advantage of it upon a three-fifths vote of the supervisors.

Should counties not use the first money for township road maintenance after meeting general county obligations, the apportionment for twp. roads would come after that for cities and villages.

Rep. William B. Wreford, of Detroit, was successful in inserting an amendment transposing the priority of city bonds and obligations for city projects under agreements with the state.

Two important amendments were rejected by members. One proposed that counties under 50,000 population be excluded from the provision of the bill earmarking the city and village money. Sixty-seven counties would have been affected by the proposal. Rep. Frank P. Darin, of River Rouge, failed in his attempt to remove a provision which would permit the use of the first half of the weight tax money by counties to meet covert and other county obligations. The provision is not mandatory.

Members voting against the measure were:

Reps. Birk, Bruce, Da Prato, Douville, William Green, Hartman, Holbeck, Jewell, MacKinnon, McNitt, Palmer, Sias and Thomas.

Reps. Bradley, Coates, Lee, Look, Rummel, Teagan, and Wilson were absent and Speaker Ming did not vote.

Two companion bills to the main highway measure were also passed. The Horton bill limiting county road taxes to one-fourth of their present restriction was adopted. On a not of two thirds of the supervisors, the limitation could be raised to meet covert obligations, general county bond, or for obligations already incurred. The Dykstra bill amending the weight tax law to conform with the highway finance measure was also passed and sent to the senate.

Spending to save ... through

Advertising

Not many of us, these days, are troubled with so much money that we cannot spend it. But we are interested in spending the money we have, to get the most out of it.

One way—and not a new way either—is to make a budget. Put down, week by week, the money that comes in. Put down beside it, week by week, the money that goes out. So much for food, so much for clothing, so much for rent. So much for giving, and for luxuries.

It won't always be easy, of course, to stay within the budget. That's where advertising helps you. Advertisements in this newspaper tell you how much rugs, butter, breakfast foods, dishes, homes, autmobiles will cost, before you go shopping! They point out ways to save money. They show you how to cut a little here, a little there. And each day, they tell about new inventions, new products, new ways of doing things, that help make this life of ours very much worth living!

DEFINITE PLAN TO BALANCE U. S. BUDGET SOUGHT

minorities," saying:

"Such action will undermine all popular government. I know these actions do not reflect the will of the country, and I refuse to believe that the country is unable to reflect its will in legislation."

"The most esential factor to economic recovery today is the restoration of confidence," he said. "In spite of the unuestioned beneficial effect of the remedial measures already taken and the gradual improvement in fundamental conditions, fear and alarm prevail in the country because of events in Washington which have greatly disturbed the public mind.

"The manner in which the house of representatives rejected both the revenue program proposed by the treasury and the program unanimously reported by the committee on ways and means; the character of the tax measures passed; the action of the house which would increase governmental expenditure by $132,000,000 for road building; the action further to enlarge expenditures in non-service connected benefits for the veterans' bureau at the very time when the house was refusing to remedy abuse in these same services; the virtual destruction of both the national economy program proposed by the executive officials and the program of the special house committee on economy; the failure of the house to give adequate authority for early reduction of government bureaus and commissions; the passage of legislation by the house placing burden of impossible execution upon the federal reserve system over the protest of the federal reserve board; the threat of further legislation looking to uncontrolled inflation—have all resulted in diminishing public confidence and offsetting the constructive, unified efforts of the executive and the congress undertaken earlier in the year for recovery of employment and agriculture.

"I need not recount that the revenues of the government as estimated for the next fiscal year show a decrease of about $1,700,000,000 below the fiscal year 1929 and inexorably require a broader basis of taxation and a drastic reduction of expenditures in order to balance the budget. Nothing is more necessary at this time than balancing the budget. Nothing will put more confidence in this country than prompt and courageous and united action in enacting the legislation which this situation imperatively demands, and an equally determined stand in defeating unwise and unnecessary legislation.

"Most expeditious action is necessary if the revenues, appropriations, economy legislation and a balanced budget are to be attained before the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1st next."

Gangsters Hurry With Payments Of Their Income Tax

Chicago, May 5 (AP)—The government's court room hunt for income taxes already has flushed more than $1,000,000 out of frightened gangsters' pockets.

George E. Q. Johnson, the United States district attorney who has sent seven hoodlums and two politicians to prison without one judicial setback, glanced over a sheet of government stationery.

It held the names of gamblers, racketeers, liquor operators and muscle men who so far have hurried into the collector's office to settle up their obligations as Johnson's legal steam roller flattened their gang friends one after another. They are still coming.

"While I am a believer in the protective tariff, it is obvious that our tariff will not permit payment in kind. There is no opportunity to render payment by services."

Warden Wants To Keep Fall In Jail

Santa Fe, N. M., May 5 (AP)—Warden Ed Swote of the Santa Fe prison balked today at releasing Albert B. Fall next Sunday upon orders of Attorney General Mitchell.

Swope contended the former secretary of the interior, who is completing a federal sentence, should remain in prison until he takes a pauper's oath that he is unable to pay $100,000 fine, or his freedom is authorized by President Hoover or the federal parole board.

The warden, however, had not yet received instructions from the department of justice. Officials in Washington said they would be forwarded probably tomorrow and the department expected the orders to be obeyed.

STATE BUDGET BILL TANGLED

during their terms. A recess was taken to permit the preparation of amendments, with the question of which budget should be approved still unanswered.

The debate ranged principally around the methods by which reductions should be determined and the administration—anti-administration angle. Senators Engel and Wood charged the five members of the finance committee who reported favorably the administration bill "didn't know what they were doing." Administration leaders retorted that the minority group was stabbing in the dark. Members challenged each others' veracity.

"Governor Brucker's bill is a blind cut of 15 percent," Engel said, "with no one knowing what departments should be cut or raised. The governor would even cut $40 a month employes of state hospitals; we wouldn't. He would reduce the forest fire funds and would prevent the opening of state parks. We would provide enough money for those purposes but would cut elsewhere so the saving to the taxpayers, on the state tax would be 21 percent."

Wood said he believes he knows more about the needs of state institutions than the governor.

"If the governor can influence any of you, that is your business, but I'm going on record as favoring real economy," Wood declared. "I am not going to have my reputation blasted by passing a bill that constitutes only semi-economy."

He charged that during the last regular session Governor Brucker promised not to veto the budget bill if it was passed in accordance with his recommendations.

"He said he wouldn't but he did—to show up the legislature. I took it to the supreme court and now we know that this body and not the governor can do the appropriating," Wood added. "I intend to reserve that right for the legislature, if I can."

chairman of the convention committee, appeared before the council to outline some of the attractions to be brought here by the convention.

Ask Street Extension

A petition from north side residents, asking that Eighth avenue be opened up through to 23rd street was tabled for further investigation. It was found that the city would have to purchase six lots to open up the street. Interested property owners said that the lots could be bought for $200 each.

A written request for a sanitary sewer extension to block 14 in the Seldon addition was not considered, due to the fact that it lacked the necessary number of signers.

By unanimous vote, the council passed a motion reducing the city's membership in the Chamber of Commerce from 20 to eight.

A poor report for the month of March read by City Clerk Carl E. Anderson showed expenditures of $1,815.15, of which $410 was for rent paid for indigent families. This represents 41 homes, the city allowing a maximum of $10 a month on rent items.

St. Joseph, Mich., May 5. (AP)—Children had their inning today in the Southwestern Michigan Blossom Festival.

A thunderstorm lifted to permit the annual children's parade and tonight Jean Vincent Bestar, 7, of St. Joseph, and Gertrude Gartz, 6, of Benton Harbor, were crowned the miniature greens of the festival.

Tomorrow, a pageant will be presented in the afternoon and evening at Filstrup Field, Benton Harbor. The day's program will close with a display of fireworks.

Captain Land said in another statement through Fox that, after a conference with Mrs. McLean early in March he visited Colonel Lindbergh and Col. Henry Breckenridge, the flier's personal attorney, and "explained to them that Mrs. McLean had offered to help" in the search.

"Colonel Lindbergh and Colonel Breckenridge," the statement added, "both gave their approval and authorized me so to inform Mrs. McLean. This I promptly did early in March."

CURTIS RETURNS

Norfolk, Va., May 5 (AP)—John Hughes Curtis returned to the naval base tonight aboard the yacht Marcon from another of his now numerous cruises as a negotiator for the return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

The Norfolk boat builder and others working with him in efforts to complete negotiations with the kidnapers or their representatives were said to have remained at the base upon the return of the boat.

Captain F. H. Lackmann, skipper of the boat, said another trip would be made tomorrow probably starting during the morning.

Hoover Requested To Ask Reduction In Vets' Payments

Washington, May 5. (AP)—A plea that President Hoover take a determined stand for a reduction in veterans' compensations, and place the issue squarely before the entire nation, was lodged with the chief executive today by Archibald Roosevelt, son of the former president.

Representing the national economy committee, he called at the White House personally to place a letter of protest in the presidents hands. He charged that in the present payments "a vast legalized 'racket' has been foisted on the people."

Meanwhile, the proposal for cash payment of the $2,000,000,000 soldiers bonus remained before the house ways and means committee.

Digs Own Grave, Buries Himself, Then Shoots Self

Bay City, Mich., May 5. (AP)—Albert Rolf, farmer, dug his own grave by lantern-light early today, then buried himself except for his head and arms before killing himself with a shotgun.

The body and the grave were found this afternoon after an all-day search that started when his family discovered he had disappeared from his home near Crump, Mich., during the night.

Rolf was 59 years old. His act was attributed to despondency over loss of his farm. The widow and six children survive.

Another Muscle Shoals Bill Gets Approval In House

Washington, May 5 (AP)—One of the annual congressional chores was performed today by the house in passing another Muscle Shoals bill and sending it to the senate.

Again the plan to dispose of the $140,000,000 Alabama properties contained a government operation provision, twice the chief cause of presidential vetoes.

The standing count on final passage was 183 to 132. A few minutes earlier an effort by administration Republicans to eliminate the government operation alternative was defeated by a 200 to 149 record vote.

His Arrest Lucky "Break for Cops"

Detroit, May 5 (AP)—William Retty, 17, who calls himself a "bad man" from the west, is in jail today because of what he describes as "another lucky break for the cops."

The first "lucky break," he said, came when they arrested him April 1 in a hotel room with a number of firearms. He was placed on six months probation. He told the arresting officers then that if he had seen them first they wouldn't have lived to tell about it.

He will appear in court on a charge of violating his parole because an officer found him with a revolver in his car.

for the upper peninsula and $2,000,000 for the northern part of the lower peninsula likewise met defeat. The measure provides that each section be given one-fourth the amount available for construction.

Urban members won a skirmish with rural leaders when the priority voted by the house committee to township road maintenance was set aside. As the bill left committee, it provided that 50 per cent of funds remaining after covert and other county obligations had been met be used for township road maintenance. The house accepted the amendment of Rep. Harry E. Barnard, of Jackson, removing the mandatory provision of the clause but permitting rural counties to take advantage of it upon a three-fifths vote of the supervisors.

Should counties not use the first money for township road maintenance after meeting general county obligations, the apportionment for twp. roads would come after that for cities and villages.

Rep. William B. Wreford, of Detroit, was successful in inserting an amendment transposing the priority of city bonds and obligations for city projects under agreements with the state.

Two important amendments were rejected by members. One proposed that counties under 50,000 population be excluded from the provision of the bill earmarking the city and village money. Sixty-seven counties would have been affected by the proposal. Rep. Frank P. Darin, of River Rouge, failed in his attempt to remove a provision which would permit the use of the first half of the weight tax money by counties to meet covert and other county obligations. The provision is not mandatory.

Members voting against the measure were:

Reps. Birk, Bruce, Da Prato, Douville, William Green, Hartman, Holbeck, Jewell, MacKinnon, McNitt, Palmer, Sias and Thomas.

Reps. Bradley, Coates, Lee, Look, Rummel, Teagan, and Wilson were absent and Speaker Ming did not vote.

Two companion bills to the main highway measure were also passed. The Horton bill limiting county road taxes to one-fourth of their present restriction was adopted. On a not of two thirds of the supervisors, the limitation could be raised to meet covert obligations, general county bond, or for obligations already incurred. The Dykstra bill amending the weight tax law to conform with the highway finance measure was also passed and sent to the senate.

Capital Wives Found Handy Adjuncts to Business Heads

This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with state payrolls. Others to follow will go more into detail and some will do with a discussion of what certain boards, bureaus and commissions are engaged upon. The facts stated are taken from original records on file at the state capitol and are available to any citizen of the state desiring information.

By V. J. BROWN

One of the finest examples of state commissions, how they are created, how they function, how they grow and how their cost is thrust upon lesser units of government came to light during the past month.

Township, village and city clerks all over Michigan will understand what is meant when reference is made to sets of blanks recently received by them from the state treasurer. These blanks call for information concerning strictly local expense and the levying of taxes therefor during the past five years. Hundreds of town clerks are still struggling to secure information from which the queries asked by an inquisitive commonwealth may be accurately answered.

Late in the session of 1931 there appeared a very innocent bill, introduced by Senator Claud Stevens of the Highland Park district. The bill created no discussion, slipped through the senate, went over to the house where it received an affirmative roll call during the closing hours of the session. Probably had it appeared earlier or had it been sponsored by a member whose judgment is less highly regarded, the bill might have been more closely scanned.

Helps Auditors

This bill became Act 315 and the next heard of it by legislators was when local clerks began growling at a lot of work asked of them and inquiring as to who was to pay for it. City councils also began to hear from certified public accountants regarding the complicated record searching required and offering for a substantial fee to come into the picture with an audit and to install a new system of public accounting, now required.

At the last session of the Ingham county board of supervisors two auditors from a Detroit firm appeared. They explained that for a very nominal charge the auditors could set up a set of books for each township. One rural supervisor had the temerity to inquire just what the "nominal" charge meant in dollars and cents. No cents were mentioned but the auditor said that the "nominal" charge would be something over $200 for each township.

Members of the legislature began to hear from their constituents also. They were greatly surprised. They knew of the passing of no such bill. They went to the state treasurer from whose department the demand for these reports had come and that official calmly pointed to a joker tucked carefully away in the text of the law making him the dictator who is forced, under the act, to put into effect a system of uniform accounting for townships, villages and cities. This system was devised by a commission appointed by the governor, under terms of the same law, and headed by the administrative board accountant.

Intricate Accounting

Every architect dreams of the day when he may create a great cathedral. Every engineer desires to some day draw designs for a monumental bridge. And so every accountant yields to the desire to create a system of accounting which none but he may master. And here was the opportunity sought. The state administrative board accountant must have been given a free hand. To provide the blanks required, budgets of the vocational school and the state prison were raided and the blanks printed by inmate labor. A lot of postage was required to send them out but that money was found about the capitol. But there is no convict labor out among the township and village clerks and local funds must meet the expense imposed upon those units by the state. Some of the information requested cannot be had from the township or village records. A trip by each clerk must be made to the county seat. Before the experiment is completed a complete set of record books must be had for every township.

There are approximately 1400 townships in the state. A conservative estimate of the cost of supplying the present demands of the state and to provide even a modest set of binders and required record sheets for each township would reach to at least $40 for each or around $50,000 to be included in the 1932 local tax budgets. Cities and villages will be required to spend at least another $50,000. And there are hundreds of township clerks whose judgment and integrity are unquestioned who will not want to put in the time required to keep a set of complicated books for the simple business of a township. Eventually every township will be forced to pay more to their clerks.

Should every township engage a certified accountant as was recommended to the Ingham board of supervisors the cost would amount to $280,000 for the 1400 Michigan townships besides the cost of the records and the cost of checking them.

More Traveling Expense

But even this is not all. To make the uniform accounting of townships of any account there must be traveling auditors to check the books and records. It costs the state $70,000 a year to audit county books—83 sets. What will it cost for the army of auditors required to cover all the townships and villages and cities of the state? Furthermore this is a separate commission set up to be operated by the state treasurer. County accounting is controlled by the auditor general. Why was not the present force in the department of the auditor general expanded to include lesser municipalities, if the work was to be undertaken at all?

Where did this idea spring from? Early in 1931 Governor Brucker appointed a special advisory group to aid him in steering the ship of state. Included among those called to this duty was Mr. Clarence Ayers of Detroit, who has had much to say about the extravagancies of local government. This bill was one of the most loved of the children born to this group of super-advisors.

When this mass of figures is assembled it will be of no value until tabulated, graphed, edited and printed. When completed it may interest a half-dozen persons of the state. But the taxpayer may just as well realize that a new bureau has been born to his already large collection of such luxuries and that it may be reasonably expected that it will consume at least $100,000 annually, perhaps much more—and that so far as said taxpayer is concerned its product will not be worth one-tenth of one per cent of that amount.

Much of existing bureaucracy came about by similar means. Much of it is of similar value.

Pay Check Question

The question of one pay check to a family has received much attention. During the winter months when the highway program was being used to relieve unemployment distress, staggered employment was urged from the state capitol and elsewhere. Is it practiced at the capitol?

Suppose we examine the payrolls for an answer.

In the department of conservation alone may be found nearly a score of women employees whose husbands are employed at good salaries elsewhere, most of them in some other state department. One husband is a well paid traveling salesman; another is in business at East Lansing while his wife brings home $1600 in state money; another husband has a fine position with the Reo Motor Car company while his wife puts her money into squirrel coats and expensive finery. One young couple boasts they are banking more than $100 a month, both being employed in the same department.

Other departments show equally as flagrant violations of the rule to live and let live. There is a married woman secretary in the department of agriculture whose husband holds a responsible position in one of Lansing's leading industries. They have no children, drive a beautiful and expensive car and live on a high social scale. In another instance in this same department of agriculture are found both husband and wife with combined salaries of $3100. They recently disposed of their own car and their neighbors report the state owned car placed at their disposal is subjected to much night and Sunday driving. At least one city mail carrier has a wife employed in the capitol at a salary equal to or greater than his.

$12,000 to One Family

The state board of health payroll discloses a husband employed at $8000 while his wife draws $4000—$12,000 annually for one family. One wife here has a husband in the retail clothing business, owning his own store.

The scrutinizer finds them everywhere. A vice president of the largest bank in Lansing permits his wife to remain on a state payroll for $2,000. A wealthy widow with large real estate holdings draws $3000 annually in another department.

There is yet another interesting sidelight on state payrolls. State jobs seem to run in certain families. Here is one example. A man and his wife are both employed. So is a brother. So is a sister and so is her son. That family ought to be able to deliver some votes. Many other family circles are dotted almost as closely with state pay checks while taxpayers go hungry.

A lot of people will be asking how these jobs are secured. Well, of course every member of the house and senate is expected to ask for some patronage and some effort has to be made to appease this demand else department appropriations will not receive favorable consideration. Members are not expected to raise the question of high salaries as long as their political friends are being cared for. And so when a department head can be prevailed upon to open his employee and appointee lists for inspection it is found that a great many are backed by senators and representatives. A lot more are backed by big shots in the world of party politics.

Editor's Wife Has Job

Then, too, there is the matter of proper and favorable publicity. One Lansing newspaper has fought hard and vigorously against any cut in state pay. The wife of the editor of that newspaper is employed in the department of state.

As one rambles through these state payrolls, he is struck with familiar names. Inquiry leads him to the discovery that a number of news correspondents assigned to cover state house offices for metropolitan dailies and the several press groups find it convenient to have their wives on the state payroll. Of course the money comes in handy and there might be hot tips now and then. It works out well for department heads, too, because every time the hand of the correspondent is poised for a word of criticism to let the people out in the state know of something off-color he remembers his wife's pay check and the next payment on the new car. The criticism is softened and the wife keeps her job.

Commissions Make Jobs

Every time a new commission is thought of and long before the bills providing for new jobs are through the legislature one may find boosters around capitol corridors urging the passage of the bills. Already their eyes are on the jobs for themselves or their friends or both. Some are eminently successful in this respect.

One such came up from Indiana to teach economics at the state college. He soon found a better job as tax expert and lobbyist for the state farm bureau interests. He fought hard against income and other new ideas in taxation during the 1931 session. But business even for farm bureaus became bad and so this alleged economist was slipped off the Farm Bureau payroll and placed on that of the state commission for inquiry into county and local taxation. Later when unemployment became severe, another commission had to be created to give every man a job—at least one to a family if the reader remembers. While business men, industrial leaders, lawyers and men of affairs in every part of the state were giving freely of their time to this worthy cause, without expecting a cent of pay, this individual, who can jump from payroll to payroll with the agility of the squirrel but with the added ability to sit in two trees at once, had his name put down for another pay check. He now draws two for a total of $4,450 per annum. A clever move in the house last week robbed him of a third salary when a bill he himself had drawn was changed to rule him outside the appropriation. Around legislative halls this agile pay-check grabber is known as prime minister to the present administration. R. Wayne Newton is the name.

A recent Washington correspondent referred to the wails that go up when the axe swings. He said, "Politicians bleed easily." How true! If the reader doubts this let him try pruning the payrolls—or even writing about them.

Escanaba School Is Written Up In National Journal

The American School Board Journal, foremost periodical of school administration, carries a lengthy illustrated article concerning Escanaba's new junior high school building.

A view of one of the front entrances of the school is shown on the cover of the journal, and on the inside pages are fine pictures of the exterior and interior building, including the various departments such as the home economics laboratory, auditorium, gymnasium, woodworking shop, general science laboratory, shower rooms, board room and a study room. Drawings of the first and second floor plans are also shown.

Various departments and equipment are described in the article.

Capital Wives Found Handy Adjuncts to Business Heads

This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with state payrolls. Others to follow will go more into detail and some will do with a discussion of what certain boards, bureaus and commissions are engaged upon. The facts stated are taken from original records on file at the state capitol and are available to any citizen of the state desiring information.

By V. J. BROWN

One of the finest examples of state commissions, how they are created, how they function, how they grow and how their cost is thrust upon lesser units of government came to light during the past month.

Township, village and city clerks all over Michigan will understand what is meant when reference is made to sets of blanks recently received by them from the state treasurer. These blanks call for information concerning strictly local expense and the levying of taxes therefor during the past five years. Hundreds of town clerks are still struggling to secure information from which the queries asked by an inquisitive commonwealth may be accurately answered.

Late in the session of 1931 there appeared a very innocent bill, introduced by Senator Claud Stevens of the Highland Park district. The bill created no discussion, slipped through the senate, went over to the house where it received an affirmative roll call during the closing hours of the session. Probably had it appeared earlier or had it been sponsored by a member whose judgment is less highly regarded, the bill might have been more closely scanned.

Helps Auditors

This bill became Act 315 and the next heard of it by legislators was when local clerks began growling at a lot of work asked of them and inquiring as to who was to pay for it. City councils also began to hear from certified public accountants regarding the complicated record searching required and offering for a substantial fee to come into the picture with an audit and to install a new system of public accounting, now required.

At the last session of the Ingham county board of supervisors two auditors from a Detroit firm appeared. They explained that for a very nominal charge the auditors could set up a set of books for each township. One rural supervisor had the temerity to inquire just what the "nominal" charge meant in dollars and cents. No cents were mentioned but the auditor said that the "nominal" charge would be something over $200 for each township.

Members of the legislature began to hear from their constituents also. They were greatly surprised. They knew of the passing of no such bill. They went to the state treasurer from whose department the demand for these reports had come and that official calmly pointed to a joker tucked carefully away in the text of the law making him the dictator who is forced, under the act, to put into effect a system of uniform accounting for townships, villages and cities. This system was devised by a commission appointed by the governor, under terms of the same law, and headed by the administrative board accountant.

Intricate Accounting

Every architect dreams of the day when he may create a great cathedral. Every engineer desires to some day draw designs for a monumental bridge. And so every accountant yields to the desire to create a system of accounting which none but he may master. And here was the opportunity sought. The state administrative board accountant must have been given a free hand. To provide the blanks required, budgets of the vocational school and the state prison were raided and the blanks printed by inmate labor. A lot of postage was required to send them out but that money was found about the capitol. But there is no convict labor out among the township and village clerks and local funds must meet the expense imposed upon those units by the state. Some of the information requested cannot be had from the township or village records. A trip by each clerk must be made to the county seat. Before the experiment is completed a complete set of record books must be had for every township.

There are approximately 1400 townships in the state. A conservative estimate of the cost of supplying the present demands of the state and to provide even a modest set of binders and required record sheets for each township would reach to at least $40 for each or around $50,000 to be included in the 1932 local tax budgets. Cities and villages will be required to spend at least another $50,000. And there are hundreds of township clerks whose judgment and integrity are unquestioned who will not want to put in the time required to keep a set of complicated books for the simple business of a township. Eventually every township will be forced to pay more to their clerks.

Should every township engage a certified accountant as was recommended to the Ingham board of supervisors the cost would amount to $280,000 for the 1400 Michigan townships besides the cost of the records and the cost of checking them.

More Traveling Expense

But even this is not all. To make the uniform accounting of townships of any account there must be traveling auditors to check the books and records. It costs the state $70,000 a year to audit county books—83 sets. What will it cost for the army of auditors required to cover all the townships and villages and cities of the state? Furthermore this is a separate commission set up to be operated by the state treasurer. County accounting is controlled by the auditor general. Why was not the present force in the department of the auditor general expanded to include lesser municipalities, if the work was to be undertaken at all?

Where did this idea spring from? Early in 1931 Governor Brucker appointed a special advisory group to aid him in steering the ship of state. Included among those called to this duty was Mr. Clarence Ayers of Detroit, who has had much to say about the extravagancies of local government. This bill was one of the most loved of the children born to this group of super-advisors.

When this mass of figures is assembled it will be of no value until tabulated, graphed, edited and printed. When completed it may interest a half-dozen persons of the state. But the taxpayer may just as well realize that a new bureau has been born to his already large collection of such luxuries and that it may be reasonably expected that it will consume at least $100,000 annually, perhaps much more—and that so far as said taxpayer is concerned its product will not be worth one-tenth of one per cent of that amount.

Much of existing bureaucracy came about by similar means. Much of it is of similar value.

Pay Check Question

The question of one pay check to a family has received much attention. During the winter months when the highway program was being used to relieve unemployment distress, staggered employment was urged from the state capitol and elsewhere. Is it practiced at the capitol?

Suppose we examine the payrolls for an answer.

In the department of conservation alone may be found nearly a score of women employees whose husbands are employed at good salaries elsewhere, most of them in some other state department. One husband is a well paid traveling salesman; another is in business at East Lansing while his wife brings home $1600 in state money; another husband has a fine position with the Reo Motor Car company while his wife puts her money into squirrel coats and expensive finery. One young couple boasts they are banking more than $100 a month, both being employed in the same department.

Other departments show equally as flagrant violations of the rule to live and let live. There is a married woman secretary in the department of agriculture whose husband holds a responsible position in one of Lansing's leading industries. They have no children, drive a beautiful and expensive car and live on a high social scale. In another instance in this same department of agriculture are found both husband and wife with combined salaries of $3100. They recently disposed of their own car and their neighbors report the state owned car placed at their disposal is subjected to much night and Sunday driving. At least one city mail carrier has a wife employed in the capitol at a salary equal to or greater than his.

The state board of health payroll discloses a husband employed at $8000 while his wife draws $4000—$12,000 annually for one family. One wife here has a husband in the retail clothing business, owning his own store.

The scrutinizer finds them everywhere. A vice president of the largest bank in Lansing permits his wife to remain on a state payroll for $2,000. A wealthy widow with large real estate holdings draws $3000 annually in another department.

There is yet another interesting sidelight on state payrolls. State jobs seem to run in certain families. Here is one example. A man and his wife are both employed. So is a brother. So is a sister and so is her son. That family ought to be able to deliver some votes. Many other family circles are dotted almost as closely with state pay checks while taxpayers go hungry.

A lot of people will be asking how these jobs are secured. Well, of course every member of the house and senate is expected to ask for some patronage and some effort has to be made to appease this demand else department appropriations will not receive favorable consideration. Members are not expected to raise the question of high salaries as long as their political friends are being cared for. And so when a department head can be prevailed upon to open his employee and appointee lists for inspection it is found that a great many are backed by senators and representatives. A lot more are backed by big shots in the world of party politics.

Editor's Wife Has Job

Then, too, there is the matter of proper and favorable publicity. One Lansing newspaper has fought hard and vigorously against any cut in state pay. The wife of the editor of that newspaper is employed in the department of state.

As one rambles through these state payrolls, he is struck with familiar names. Inquiry leads him to the discovery that a number of news correspondents assigned to cover state house offices for metropolitan dailies and the several press groups find it convenient to have their wives on the state payroll. Of course the money comes in handy and there might be hot tips now and then. It works out well for department heads, too, because every time the hand of the correspondent is poised for a word of criticism to let the people out in the state know of something off-color he remembers his wife's pay check and the next payment on the new car. The criticism is softened and the wife keeps her job.

Commissions Make Jobs

Every time a new commission is thought of and long before the bills providing for new jobs are through the legislature one may find boosters around capitol corridors urging the passage of the bills. Already their eyes are on the jobs for themselves or their friends or both. Some are eminently successful in this respect.

One such came up from Indiana to teach economics at the state college. He soon found a better job as tax expert and lobbyist for the state farm bureau interests. He fought hard against income and other new ideas in taxation during the 1931 session. But business even for farm bureaus became bad and so this alleged economist was slipped off the Farm Bureau payroll and placed on that of the state commission for inquiry into county and local taxation. Later when unemployment became severe, another commission had to be created to give every man a job—at least one to a family if the reader remembers. While business men, industrial leaders, lawyers and men of affairs in every part of the state were giving freely of their time to this worthy cause, without expecting a cent of pay, this individual, who can jump from payroll to payroll with the agility of the squirrel but with the added ability to sit in two trees at once, had his name put down for another pay check. He now draws two for a total of $4,450 per annum. A clever move in the house last week robbed him of a third salary when a bill he himself had drawn was changed to rule him outside the appropriation. Around legislative halls this agile pay-check grabber is known as prime minister to the present administration. R. Wayne Newton is the name.

A recent Washington correspondent referred to the wails that go up when the axe swings. He said, "Politicians bleed easily." How true! If the reader doubts this let him try pruning the payrolls—or even writing about them.

Escanaba School Is Written Up In National Journal

The American School Board Journal, foremost periodical of school administration, carries a lengthy illustrated article concerning Escanaba's new junior high school building.

A view of one of the front entrances of the school is shown on the cover of the journal, and on the inside pages are fine pictures of the exterior and interior building, including the various departments such as the home economics laboratory, auditorium, gymnasium, woodworking shop, general science laboratory, shower rooms, board room and a study room. Drawings of the first and second floor plans are also shown.

Various departments and equipment are described in the article.

THE MASSIE CASE

BOTH justice and mercy have been displayed in the Massie case to bring about a sensible solution of a problem, which has stirred the emotions of people on both sides of the Pacific for several weeks.

The commutation of the manslaughter sentence of the naval lieutenant and his three co-defendants by Governor Judd to only one hour will win the approval of the majority of people at home, although the native Hawaiians may feel that favoritism has been shown by the government.

The jury that convicted the honor slayers, however, is deserving of commendation, rather than the abuse some newspapers and individuals have been heaping upon its members. It is notable that the jurors paid no heed to the fact that another jury failed to convict the alleged attackers of Mrs. Massie, but saw that their duty was simply to consider the evidence in the lynching of Kahawaii.

Two wrongs never make a right. It may be true that the government of Hawaii has been lax in the enforcement of the law, a situation which gave rise to a wave of criminal assaults upon woman. It may be also true that Kahawaii and his four accomplices assaulted Mrs. Massie, and that the jury should have reached an agreement and found them guilty. But it was not within the province of the Massie jurors to right the previous wrongs.

Condonement of the lynching of the alleged Hawaiian rapist would be only placing the stamp of approval on a crime, which is bitterly denounced throughout this country. It would be a vindication of mob rule, which denies crime suspects of the orderly processes of a trial by jury in the established courts of justice. A lynching in Hawaii is no different than a lynching here.

In rendering its verdict, in conformity with the evidence, the Massie jury merely performed its duty. The merciful act of Governor Judd will meet with widespread approval, too, for most everyone feels that Massie and the three other defendants have suffered enough already.

CALIFORNIA RESULTS

SPEAKER John N. Garner of Texas stepped way out in front in the three-way contest in California's primary, leaving Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith in second and third places respectively, and further complicated the Democratic presidential situation.

Garner's surprising strength in California, undoubtedly, was due to a large degree to the support given by William G. McAdoo, who blocked Smith's nomination for president in the Madison Square Garden convention of 1924, and William Randolph Hearst's chain of widely circulating newspapers.

The California results show that Smith is a relatively weak candidate in the far west, but the Smith forces welcome Garner's victory as another obstacle in the path of the Roosevelt candidacy. With California lost, Roosevelt will have a harder row to hoe, but he still has a chance to win the Democratic presidential nomination. Had Roosevelt won decisively, however, the faction opposed to him would have been fairly squelched. Now, however, they have been given encouragement to fight more determinedly.

THE REFERENDUM

THE prohibition referendum issue, brought to the fore recently by action of the state republican convention endorsing a referendum on national promibition, is the subject of discussion by several Michigan newspapers.

The Kalamazoo Gazette points out that the plan endorsed by the Michigan republicans is one which is undoubtedly gaining favor as a means of dealing with this "vital and highly controversial issue."

The Gazette warns against confusing the resolution adopted by the republicans with a movement to repeal the state enfrocement law and goes on to say:

"The latter is a purely separate and distinct matter on which the people will vote next fall, and its settlement will in no way affect the larger question of prohibition as a national policy. It will not even serve as a clear-cut expression of Michigan's sentiment on the wet-dry issue, since a great many citizens will no doubt give considerable thought to the related question of whether any state should refuse to cooperate in support of the federal constitution. If the advocates of repeal should prove victorious in this state test, prohibition would still be the law of the land even though the police powers of Michigan would not be exerted in its enforcement.

"Obviously, a nationwide referendum is the only kind of referendum which could have any practical effect one way or the other in settling the wet-dry issue. It could take the form of an expression of popular opinion for the guidance of congress, or it could be accomplished through the submission of a repeal or substitute amendment to special state conventions elected by the people for the express purpose of ratifying or refusing to ratify the proposal. The latter plan would have all the effect of a referendum and it would provide for the actual settlement of the issue on a definite constitutional basis."

Opposition of the drys to a referendum is described as wrong in principle and worse than wrong in tactics by The Muskegon Chronicle which continues:

"With such widespread opposition and resistence to a government policy, those opposed have a right to demand the test of its popular support provided in the constitution itself. Reasons for opposition to repeal do not apply to opposition to a test of sentiment to see if repeal is supported by the necessary majority. That is the mistake in principle.

"The mistake in tactics is more deplorable. The conviction had been established that prohibition is contrary to public sentiment. Enforcement will be impossible so long as that impression persists. And resistance to the attempt to secure a referendum instantly confirmed a large body of doubtful ones in a suspicion that the drys themselves no longer believe they are supported by the popular will, and hence are seeking to deny the public the opportunity for expression.

"That has been the biggest error since the prohibition movement began."

AUSTRALIANS ADVANCE

On May 6, 1918, Australian troops drove the Germans back near Morlancourt, between the Ancre and Somme river, in a day of heavy fighting

The advance relieved the pressure on Amiens and was regarded as an important gain although it was of a local nature.

Canadian troops in the same sector of the western front made slight, unimportant gains. Americans brigaded with the British were shelled heavily by the Germans, but no attack was made. Countless mustard gas shell were dropped in the American sector.

The Third Liberty Loan drive, for $3,000,000,000, was oversubscribed, it was announced in Washington.

Removal of John K. Caldwell, U. S. Consul at Vladivostok, was demanded by the Soviet government. The State Department in Washington immediately announe that he would not be removed.

The Man Hunters

(By NEA Service) By MABEL MCELLIOTT

CHAPTER XXXII

IT was one of those sharp bitter days of late January. Snow had fallen the day before and overnight had changed into sleet. The pavements were an icy menace along which taxicabs cautiously slid. At five o'clock Susan looked out and shivered, dreading the walk to the street car. For the past half hour she had noticed Mr. Heath fussing about in his own office. There did not seem to be any particular reason for his lingering. She was putting on her hat when he appeared in the doorway.

"Miss Carey, I have the car and it's a wretched night. Let me drop you at your home."

Surprise showed in the girl's face. "Oh, that's awfully kind of you but isn't it out of your way?"

"Not at all. I should be very happy to do it. Just one moment and I'll be with you."

They rode down in the elevator together, the girl, as always, more than a little shy with this man. Simon, waiting in the sleet, sprang down to open the door for them. He tucked a thick, soft rug around Susan's knees.

"Are you quite comfortable?

Susan said she was. She felt as warm as toast.

"Good." Her employer's voice was brisk and business-like as ever. "I wanted especially to talk to you," he went on, still in that quiet, impersonal way. The girl waited silently. She loved the luxury of this car, the rich robe under her fingers. She was quite unprepared for what was to follow.

Abruptly the man blurted out, "You knew, didn't you, that Mrs. Heath's term of residence in Reno will be over next week?"

"No, I didn't know that." Susan looked at him innocently.

"Yes. That's the way it is. I shall be free then."

"Yes, of course." Susan didn't know what else to say.

"I'm afraid I'm doing all this very badly," Heath continued. He stared down at her, his thin, aristocratic features curiously illumined. "I want to ask you something important."

SUSAN felt a surge of excitement. She sat quite still, waiting for him to go on.

"Would you think me quite mad if I asked you to be my wife when all this is over?"

Now that the question lay between them Susan felt numb with astonishment.

"I know I shouldn't have done it this way," the man blundered on, "but I have been so distressed about the whole affair, so anxious to keep you out of it, that the necessary preamble to a proposal of marriage had to be forgone. You don't understand, do you?"

"I'm afraid I don't," Susan admitted.

"What I mean is this. A young girl can and does expect the preliminaries of courtship. My position made them impossible but can't you—won't you overlook them all and consider the matter in a reasonable light?"

Was there ever, Susan wondered, so strange a proposal? The man's manner was as quiet and businesslike as his phrases. He might have been discussing a raise in salary. She began to speak, but he stopped her.

"Don't answer me now. You must have time to think about it, naturally. I have been thinking that 'The Olympian' sails on a Mediterranean cruise February 15. I could get reservations and arrange everything, and we could be married in New York just before sailing. Your aunt—it is your aunt, isn't it?—could come to New York with you. It would be all perfectly simple and we would avoid unpleasant publicity."

Susan felt a tightening in her throat. What an incredible proposal! "We—we scarcely know each other," she stammered.

Ernest Heath smiled. "I know enough about you," he murmured, cursing himself for an inarticulate fellow. Why couldn't he tell this girl, as he longed to, that she represented glamorous youth to him, a chance to recapture his own dreams? Why couldn't he say those things?

"I have grown very fond of you," he told her instead. "The night I first realized it was the one when you called for my help. I am a lonely man. All this may mean nothing to you but as my wife you would naturally have an easy, agreeable existence. You have great beauty. In the proper setting you would be exquisite."

SUSAN shivered, wishing he had not reminded her of that autumn night when, frantic with jealousy and anger, she had run away from Bob. She would never be able to forget Bob—never! Then she caught her breath, thinking that perhaps the solution to her problem lay before her. Marriage with Ernest Heath would widen her horizon. She would travel, meet new people, wear beautiful clothes. In all of this would there not, perhaps, be an anodyne for the fever which possessed her?

"I feel greatly honored," she murmured, "but I don't know what to say."

"I didn't expect you to give me an answer tonight," he said. "I want you to think it over. I am afraid I have been very clumsy about it." The look of melancholy she had become used to in the past few weeks clouded his face. Susan hastened to reassure him.

"It's I who am clumsy and stupid, too," she amended. She had the satisfaction of seeing that rare smile lighten his features.

Heath was thinking, "The girl has tact and, what is more, graciousness." He had considered himself a completely disillusioned man but there was something in Susan's freshness which delighted him and gave him hope for the future. What could he not do with this girl at his side? He liked to think of her in soft fine fabrics with pearls at her throat. He would build her a new home somewhere in the country where low hills lay. She should have a French house with fine, delicate furniture and velvet textured rugs. That would be the proper setting for her.

"Let me think about it," the girl was saying, her fine, soft eyes luminous. What color were they, Heath wondered? Gray or black or were they a lambent hazel? Some day, perhaps, he would really know.

The car jolted around a corner. In spite of Simon's careful driving the going was rough. The motion flung Susan almost into Heath's arms, and the fragrance of the burden momentarily intoxicated him. She righted herself, laughing, but a bright apricot stain colored the pure oval of her face and the man fell silent. He had not realized before how his heart was set on this marriage. Now he knew fully how much he had builded upon it. It was Ruth with her irrational jealousies, her fierce and sudden decision to try to blacken this girl's name who had made him see. It had been the last thing Ruth had meant to do but she had accomplished it.

HEATH took up the speaking tube and told Simon in a low, stern tone to be more careful. Nothing should happen to this girl through fault of his, Heath swore in his heart. Nothing but good!

Susan thrilled to the tone, realizing in some small measure what prompted it. She glanced sidewise at his nicely etched profile.

THE NICEST THING OF ALL

A fellow doesn't think a lot
About his home, it's just a spot
To come to nights and go from days;
And yet, I guess, in lots of ways,
Of all the things a fellow knows,
When nights he comes or days he goes,
A home is, whether big or small,
About the nicest thing of all.

A fellow doesn't think a heap
About his folks, the way they keep
The home fires burning right along
Just like you sing it in the song.
There's good old Dad who works all day,
And Mother in another way.
You're likely to forget about
When you're just running in and out.

A fellow maybe ought to do
A little bit to help them, too,
Save Mother steps and Father care,
Hang up your hat, or bring a chair,
And try to do your level best
To show your parents and the rest
You realize if big or small,
A home's the nicest thing of all.

Do You Remember?

When the Institute Jacques Cartier, local French Canadian fraternal organization gave their annual picnics on June 24 in Eden Park west of St. Francis Hospital and adjoining the first baseball park in this city? Those were the days when the late Noel Bissonette dressed as Jacques Cartier, rode aboard a float which represented a boat. The black velvet cape, the velvet hat with a large ostrich plume, the white stockings and low cut shoes were good to look upon.

The driver of the float was very proud of his part of the program. The little boy who had long curls represented St. John the Baptist and wore a garment made of Sheep's skin. The float was covered with green turf, the child held a banner and the children followed this float for miles during the street parade. In later years the picnics were held at South Park.

Do you remember the good old fashioned dances held at Peter Lemmer's hall when Charles Bouton, sr., played the violin and Jos. Buch, the barber, called for the quadrilles. One feature of the dance was the Lancers' Quadrille which was called by Jos. Bush singing the calls. "Sashey by partner, opposite corner salute, sashey back again" are melodies that will never be forgotten.

Charles Bouton also conducted a dancing school in Regis Peron's hall. That building is now occupied by the Michael Gunter family who have divided the second floor into apartments.

THE MASSIE CASE

BOTH justice and mercy have been displayed in the Massie case to bring about a sensible solution of a problem, which has stirred the emotions of people on both sides of the Pacific for several weeks.

The commutation of the manslaughter sentence of the naval lieutenant and his three co-defendants by Governor Judd to only one hour will win the approval of the majority of people at home, although the native Hawaiians may feel that favoritism has been shown by the government.

The jury that convicted the honor slayers, however, is deserving of commendation, rather than the abuse some newspapers and individuals have been heaping upon its members. It is notable that the jurors paid no heed to the fact that another jury failed to convict the alleged attackers of Mrs. Massie, but saw that their duty was simply to consider the evidence in the lynching of Kahawaii.

Two wrongs never make a right. It may be true that the government of Hawaii has been lax in the enforcement of the law, a situation which gave rise to a wave of criminal assaults upon woman. It may be also true that Kahawaii and his four accomplices assaulted Mrs. Massie, and that the jury should have reached an agreement and found them guilty. But it was not within the province of the Massie jurors to right the previous wrongs.

Condonement of the lynching of the alleged Hawaiian rapist would be only placing the stamp of approval on a crime, which is bitterly denounced throughout this country. It would be a vindication of mob rule, which denies crime suspects of the orderly processes of a trial by jury in the established courts of justice. A lynching in Hawaii is no different than a lynching here.

In rendering its verdict, in conformity with the evidence, the Massie jury merely performed its duty. The merciful act of Governor Judd will meet with widespread approval, too, for most everyone feels that Massie and the three other defendants have suffered enough already.

CALIFORNIA RESULTS

SPEAKER John N. Garner of Texas stepped way out in front in the three-way contest in California's primary, leaving Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith in second and third places respectively, and further complicated the Democratic presidential situation.

Garner's surprising strength in California, undoubtedly, was due to a large degree to the support given by William G. McAdoo, who blocked Smith's nomination for president in the Madison Square Garden convention of 1924, and William Randolph Hearst's chain of widely circulating newspapers.

The California results show that Smith is a relatively weak candidate in the far west, but the Smith forces welcome Garner's victory as another obstacle in the path of the Roosevelt candidacy. With California lost, Roosevelt will have a harder row to hoe, but he still has a chance to win the Democratic presidential nomination. Had Roosevelt won decisively, however, the faction opposed to him would have been fairly squelched. Now, however, they have been given encouragement to fight more determinedly.

THE REFERENDUM

THE prohibition referendum issue, brought to the fore recently by action of the state republican convention endorsing a referendum on national prohibition, is the subject of discussion by several Michigan newspapers.

The Kalamazoo Gazette points out that the plan endorsed by the Michigan republicans is one which is undoubtedly gaining favor as a means of dealing with this "vital and highly controversial issue."

The Gazette warns against confusing the resolution adopted by the republicans with a movement to repeal the state enfrocement law and goes on to say:

"The latter is a purely separate and distinct matter on which the people will vote next fall, and its settlement will in no way affect the larger question of prohibition as a national policy. It will not even serve as a clear-cut expression of Michigan's sentiment on the wet-dry issue, since a great many citizens will no doubt give considerable thought to the related question of whether any state should refuse to cooperate in support of the federal constitution. If the advocates of repeal should prove victorious in this state test, prohibition would still be the law of the land even though the police powers of Michigan would not be exerted in its enforcement.

"Obviously, a nationwide referendum is the only kind of referendum which could have any practical effect one way or the other in settling the wet-dry issue. It could take the form of an expression of popular opinion for the guidance of congress, or it could be accomplished through the submission of a repeal or substitute amendment to special state conventions elected by the people for the express purpose of ratifying or refusing to ratify the proposal. The latter plan would have all the effect of a referendum and it would provide for the actual settlement of the issue on a definite constitutional basis."

Opposition of the drys to a referendum is described as wrong in principle and worse than wrong in tactics by The Muskegon Chronicle which continues:

"With such widespread opposition and resistence to a government policy, those opposed have a right to demand the test of its popular support provided in the constitution itself. Reasons for opposition to repeal do not apply to opposition to a test of sentiment to see if repeal is supported by the necessary majority. That is the mistake in principle.

"The mistake in tactics is more deplorable. The conviction had been established that prohibition is contrary to public sentiment. Enforcement will be impossible so long as that impression persists. And resistance to the attempt to secure a referendum instantly confirmed a large body of doubtful ones in a suspicion that the drys themselves no longer believe they are supported by the popular will, and hence are seeking to deny the public the opportunity for expression.

"That has been the biggest error since the prohibition movement began."

The trouble with the stock market was not so much that all the water was squeezed out as it was that the little fellow was squeezed out at the same time.

La Guardia says the stock market is crooked! Something will have to be done about him. Next he'll be telling us that wrestling matches are fixed.

When steel went off the dividend for its common stock, it broke a precedent of 17 years' standing. Stockholders are unanimously against following the new precedent that long.

AUSTRALIANS ADVANCE

On May 6, 1918, Australian troops drove the Germans back near Morlancourt, between the Ancre and Somme river, in a day of heavy fighting.

The advance relieved the pressure on Amiens and was regarded as an important gain although it was of a local nature.

Canadian troops in the same sector of the western front made slight, unimportant gains. Americans brigaded with the British were shelled heavily by the Germans, but no attack was made. Countless mustard gas shell were dropped in the American sector.

The Third Liberty Loan drive, for $3,000,000,000, was oversubscribed, it was announced in Washington.

Removal of John K. Caldwell, U. S. Consul at Vladivostok, was demanded by the Soviet government. The State Department in Washington immediately announe that he would not be removed.

The Man Hunters

(By NEA Service) By MABEL MCELLIOTT

CHAPTER XXXII

IT was one of those sharp bitter days of late January. Snow had fallen the day before and overnight had changed into sleet. The pavements were an icy menace along which taxicabs cautiously slid. At five o'clock Susan looked out and shivered, dreading the walk to the street car. For the past half hour she had noticed Mr. Heath fussing about in his own office. There did not seem to be any particular reason for his lingering. She was putting on her hat when he appeared in the doorway.

"Miss Carey, I have the car and it's a wretched night. Let me drop you at your home."

Surprise showed in the girl's face. "Oh, that's awfully kind of you but isn't it out of your way?"

"Not at all. I should be very happy to do it. Just one moment and I'll be with you."

They rode down in the elevator together, the girl, as always, more than a little shy with this man. Simon, waiting in the sleet, sprang down to open the door for them. He tucked a thick, soft rug around Susan's knees.

"Are you quite comfortable?

Susan said she was. She felt as warm as toast.

"Good." Her employer's voice was brisk and business-like as ever. "I wanted especially to talk to you," he went on, still in that quiet, impersonal way. The girl waited silently. She loved the luxury of this car, the rich robe under her fingers. She was quite unprepared for what was to follow.

Abruptly the man blurted out. "You knew, didn't you, that Mrs. Heath's term of residence in Reno will be over next week?"

"No, I didn't know that," Susan looked at him innocently.

"Yes. That's the way it is. I shall be free then."

"Yes, of course," Susan didn't know what else to say.

"I'm afraid I'm doing all this very badly," Heath continued. He stared down at her, his thin, aristocratic features curiously illumined. "I want to ask you something important."

SUSAN felt a surge of excitement. She sat quite still, waiting for him to go on.

"Would you think me quite mad if I asked you to be my wife when all this is over?"

Now that the question lay between them Susan felt numb with astonishment.

"I know I shouldn't have done it this way," the man blundered on, "but I have been so distressed about the whole affair, so anxious to keep you out of it, that the necessary preamble to a proposal of marriage had to be forgone. You don't understand, do you?"

"I'm afraid I don't," Susan admitted.

"What I mean is this. A young girl can and does expect the preliminaries of courtship. My position made them impossible but can't you—won't you overlook them all and consider the matter in a reasonable light?"

Was there ever, Susan wondered, so strange a proposal? The man's manner was as quiet and businesslike as his phrases. He might have been discussing a raise in salary. She began to speak, but he stopped her.

"Don't answer me now. You must have time to think about it, naturally. I have been thinking that 'The Olympian' sails on a Mediterranean cruise February 15. I could get reservations and arrange everything, and we could be married in New York just before sailing. Your aunt—it is your aunt, isn't it?—could come to New York with you. It would be all perfectly simple and we would avoid unpleasant publicity."

Susan felt a tiglitening in her throat. What an incredible proposal! "We—we scarcely know each other," she stammered.

Ernest Heath smiled. "I know enough about you," he murmured, cursing himself for an inarticulate fellow. Why couldn't he tell this girl, as he longed to, that she represented glamorous youth to him, a chance to recapture his own dreams? Why couldn't he say those things?

"I have grown very fond of you," he told her instead. "The night I first realized it was the one when you called for my help. I am a lonely man. Edward Fuqua, Escanaba high school orator, will deliver his oration, "In Terms of Humanity" with which he won the sub-district contest at Manistique, at the sixth district contest at Ishpeming tonight. Fuqua and his coach, J. H. Shipman, of the high school factulty, are leaving today for Ishpeming. In addition to his attainments in oratory, Edward Fuqua has been a member of Escanaba high school debate teams and has won his letter in track.

Jack and "Lena" Clever Role In Comedy Drama

Can you imagine a young man jumping from his own identity to that of Lena, an awkward but hard-working "Cherman girl," every half minute or so?

That is the role which Dr. Gordon J. Gleich has in "George in a Jam," the hilarious comedy which will be presented by St. Stephen's Episcopal Guild Thursday evening, May 12, in the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium.

Dr. Gleich, who is Jack, George's best friend, who impersonates "Lena" to aid him in his rooming house scheme which is his only way of raising funds of which he is badly in need, is only one of the clever characters appearing in the comedy.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. G. W. Moll.

P-T-A Invited to Menominee Meeting

An invitation has been extended by the Menominee Parent-Teacher association to Escanaba members of the association to visit Menominee Monday afternoon or evening to hear Gary Cleveland Myers, national child educator, of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, who is appearing on their program. Mr. Myers will speak at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening. All interested in going, those who have transportation and room in their cars for other members and those who wish transportation are asked to call Mrs. Arthur Peterson, 788, or Mrs. F. J. Earle, 1338.

Sprinkling Filter Under Construction

Stone is being hauled for the sprinkling filter beds at Escanaba's new sewage disposal plant, the last working unit to be completed.

In this filter bed, the stone is laid in graded sizes, with a tile underdrain and an overhead sprinkler rotating in the circular concrete tank.

Dedication ceremonies are planned at the sewage plant as soon as the final stages of construction are completed, and the public will be invited to inspect the modern establishment.

Injuries Received In Accident Fatal To Former Resident

Injuries received Monday when thrown from the seat of a disking machine and run over while working about his farm, yesterday proved fatal to Mike Ammel, prominent Buena Vista, Iowa, farmer and former resident of Escanaba, a telegram received here by a brother, Jacob Ammel, 412 S. Twelfth street, revealed.

Thrown from the seat of the disk when a four-horse team which he was driving ran away, Mr. Ammel was run over and suffered spinal injuries which paralyzed both arms and legs, numerous abrasions about the body and two broken ribs.

He was found lying in the field sometime later by a neighbor and taken to St. Michael's hospital at Stevens Point, Wis., where he lingered for three days, death ensuing yesterday morning about 11 o'clock.

Mr. Ammel who was conscious when found, said that one of the horses, a hot-blooded animal, became unruly when the bridle caught on a snap, jerking it off. He attempted to control the animal by checking the other three, but was unable to do so and the horses dashed about the field finally throwing him off. He said the horses circled the field three times and believed he had been run over twice. He was dragged and crushed against stones in the field and was unable to move or call for help.

Mr. Ammel was a widower and lived alone on his farm. He resided here about 20 years ago and each fall since has returned to this city to attend the annual fair.

His brother, Jacob, will leave today or Saturday to attend the funeral.

HORSE LAUGHS AT THE HIGHLAND

Exclusive news regarding a new innovation for golfers at the Highland course comes to the Salt and Pepper snooper from an authentic source, the audacity of which is unquestioned. It seems that a well known Escanaba divot disciple went out the other day and the luck was not with him. He dubbed and dribbled and dug, and decided that all his practice during the winter had been immaterial, irrelevant and useless. A ferocious swing caused the ball to hop only a few feet at a tangent, and finally he was moved to profanity. Just at that moment, as if timed for a talkie comedy, an innocent old horse browsing nearby raised his head and indulged in a hearty horse laugh. At least, it passed for equine laughter among the eye and ear witnesses, and they insist that they have proven horses really have a sense of humor.

Bark River Club To Present Play On May 28 and 29

The Bark River Dramatic club is planning to present a play in the new auditorium of St. George's church at Bark River of which Father J. Breault is pastor, on Saturday and Sunday, May 28 and 29. The play chosen is "Listen to Leon" a three-act farce comedy filled with amusing situations and well adapted to the talents of the members of the club.

Rev. Father Tom Drengacz of Perronville will direct the play. Members of the cast are now being selected and rehearsals will begin in the near future.

AT ISHPEMING

Edward Fuqua, Escanaba high school orator, will deliver his oration, "In Terms of Humanity" with which he won the sub-district contest at Manistique, at the sixth district contest at Ishpeming tonight. Fuqua and his coach, J. H. Shipman, of the high school factulty, are leaving today for Ishpeming. In addition to his attainments in oratory, Edward Fuqua has been a member of Escanaba high school debate teams and has won his letter in track.

Jack and "Lena" Clever Role In Comedy Drama

Can you imagine a young man jumping from his own identity to that of Lena, an awkward but hard-working "Cherman girl," every half minute or so?

That is the role which Dr. Gordon J. Gleich has in "George in a Jam," the hilarious comedy which will be presented by St. Stephen's Episcopal Guild Thursday evening, May 12, in the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium.

Dr. Gleich, who is Jack, George's best friend, who impersonates "Lena" to aid him in his rooming house scheme which is his only way of raising funds of which he is badly in need, is only one of the clever characters appearing in the comedy.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. G. W. Moll.

P-T-A Invited to Menominee Meeting

An invitation has been extended by the Menominee Parent-Teacher association to Escanaba members of the association to visit Menominee Monday afternoon or evening to hear Gary Cleveland Myers, national child educator, of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, who is appearing on their program. Mr. Myers will speak at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening. All interested in going, those who have transportation and room in their cars for other members and those who wish transportation are asked to call Mrs. Arthur Peterson, 788, or Mrs. F. J. Earle, 1338.

Sprinkling Filter Under Construction

Stone is being hauled for the sprinkling filter beds at Escanaba's new sewage disposal plant, the last working unit to be completed.

In this filter bed, the stone is laid in graded sizes, with a tile underdrain and an overhead sprinkler rotating in the circular concrete tank.

Dedication ceremonies are planned at the sewage plant as soon as the final stages of construction are completed, and the public will be invited to inspect the modern establishment.

Injuries Received In Accident Fatal To Former Resident

Injuries received Monday when thrown from the seat of a disking machine and run over while working about his farm, yesterday proved fatal to Mike Ammel, prominent Buena Vista, Iowa, farmer and former resident of Escanaba, a telegram received here by a brother, Jacob Ammel, 412 S. Twelfth street, revealed.

Thrown from the seat of the disk when a four-horse team which he was driving ran away, Mr. Ammel was run over and suffered spinal injuries which paralyzed both arms and legs, numerous abrasions about the body and two broken ribs.

He was found lying in the field sometime later by a neighbor and taken to St. Michael's hospital at Stevens Point, Wis., where he lingered for three days, death ensuing yesterday morning about 11 o'clock.

Mr. Ammel who was conscious when found, said that one of the horses, a hot-blooded animal, became unruly when the bridle caught on a snap, jerking it off. He attempted to control the animal by checking the other three, but was unable to do so and the horses dashed about the field finally throwing him off. He said the horses circled the field three times and believed he had been run over twice. He was dragged and crushed against stones in the field and was unable to move or call for help.

Mr. Ammel was a widower and lived alone on his farm. He resided here about 20 years ago and each fall since has returned to this city to attend the annual fair.

His brother, Jacob, will leave today or Saturday to attend the funeral.

FRATERNAL

North Star Society

The regular meeting of the North Star lodge this evening is being called for seven o'clock sharp, so as to allow those who wish, to get away in time to attend the entertainment at the Swedish Methodist church. Matters of importance will be brought up at this meeting, and a good attendance is desired.

HORSE LAUGHS AT THE HIGHLAND

Exclusive news regarding a new innovation for golfers at the Highland course comes to the Salt and Pepper snooper from an authentic source, the audacity of which is unquestioned. It seems that a well known Escanaba divot disciple went out the other day and the luck was not with him. He dubbed and dribbled and dug, and decided that all his practice during the winter had been immaterial, irrelevant and useless. A ferocious swing caused the ball to hop only a few feet at a tangent, and finally he was moved to profanity. Just at that moment, as if timed for a talkie comedy, an innocent old horse browsing nearby raised his head and indulged in a hearty horse laugh. At least, it passed for equine laughter among the eye and ear witnesses, and they insist that they have proven horses really have a sense of humor.

Bark River Club To Present Play On May 28 and 29

The Bark River Dramatic club is planning to present a play in the new auditorium of St. George's church at Bark River of which Father J. Breault is pastor, on Saturday and Sunday, May 28 and 29. The play chosen is "Listen to Leon" a three-act farce comedy filled with amusing situations and well adapted to the talents of the members of the club.

Rev. Father Tom Drengacz of Perronville will direct the play. Members of the cast are now being selected and rehearsals will begin in the near future.

Jackson—Arrest of three youths Tuesday was said by police to clear up more than 20 burglaries of business houses in the past month here. The youths held are Chester Ohmielewski, 15, Stanley Okrazinsky, 16, and Joe Cichy, 17.

Red and Pink New Color Combination

Paris (AP)—Red and pink have been added to the season's unusual color combinations.

One smart Parisian appeared at a recent gala wearing a frock of soft pink crepon designed wtih an Empire waistline and long slender skirt and accented wth a scarf of deep rose-red crepe.

With it she wore a short wrap of rose-red velvet edged with sable.

Judge Scores Order

Bessemer—A scathing denunciation of the Modern Woodmen of America was made by Circuit Judge George O. Driscoll in an opinion in which he awarded Abe Abelman, Bessemer merchant, $1,000 damages against the association.

Sault was brought by Mr. Abelman for "breach and wrongful and fraudulent termination of a contract of insurance." It was Mr. Abelman's contention that the insurance company refused to accept assessments and dues and refused to pay him the cash surrender or face amount value of his certificate.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Proceeds will be used to erase the deficits of several student activity funds. High school athletes, who have received their letters, will take part in the production.

The end men will be Kenneth Thompson, Elmer Nelson, Edward Lucas, Robert Lemire, Jack Duranceau and Dick Carlton. "E" men will make up the circle, and will be assisted by members of the Boys' Glee club.

Long Illness Fatal To Mrs. Kenel, 58, Houghton Resident

Mrs. Delphie Kenel, 58, formerly of Houghton, passed away Thursday morning at 7 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pilotti, 936 Sheridan Road, where she had been making hr home.

Mrs. Kenel was born October 22, 1873, in Himmelred, Switzerland, and came to this country several years ago. The family formerly lived in Houghton where her husband, Godfrey Kenel, died ten years ago. Mrs. Kenel was stricken with carcinoma of the stomach three years ago and for the past seven months her condition was serious.

The body was prepared for burial at the Allo Funeral Home and will be sent to Houghton this afternoon. The funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's church in Hancock Saturday morning with burial in Houghton cemetery in the family lot.

The survivors are four sons and two daughters, Alfred and Roy of Detroit, Ernest and Walter of Fort Madison, Iowa, Mrs. Charles Teter of Lawrence, Kas., and Mrs. Joseph Pilotti of Escanaba. Two sisters, Mrs. John Pilotti of Norway, Mich., and Mrs. Barbara Block of Grellinger, Switzerland, and fifteen grandchildren also survive. Mr. and Mrs. Pilotti of this city will accompany the remains to Houghton.

OBITUARY

JAMES R. RYAN

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Funeral services for James R. Ryan, lifelong resident and business man of this city, were held in St. Mary's church and burial was made in the family lot at Riverside cemetery.

A solemn high mass was sung by the Very Rev. Dean John J. Stenglein with the Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Duquette and Rev. Fr. Casimir Adasiewic as assistants.

The church was filled to capacity with friends and members of the Ancient Order of Tibernians, of which Mr Ryan had been a charter member, the Knights of Columbus, and the Elks who attended in a body.

JOHN McNEIL

Ishpeming John McNeil, 82, resident of Ishpeming for 60 years, died at his home, 514 North First street. He had been ill for a long time.

Mr. McNeil's wife died in 1922. He leaves four sons, four daughters and nine grandchildren. The sons are James and Peter, of Butte, Mont.; John, of Iron Mountain, and William, of Ishpeming. The daughters are Mrs. Michael Fitzpatrick, of Butte, Mont.; Mrs. Grover Hicks, of Paso Robles, Calif.; Mrs. W. E. Senob, of Tuscon, Ariz., and Mrs. Peter Lafreniere, of Ishpeming.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 8:30 in St. John's chuch, the Rev. Henry Kron officiating. Interment will take place in the Ishpeming cemetery.

MRS. LUCY BLAIR

The body of Mrs Lacy Blair arrived last evening from Marquette and was taken to the Allo Funeral Home, where it will remain until Saturday morning at 9 o'clock when funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's church with Rev. Fr. Edward Leary as the celebrant at the requiem high mass. Burial will be made in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Blair was well known in Escanaba, coming from Oconto, Wis., about thirty years ago. She lived here with her daughter, Mrs. John Lang, formerly Miss Vin Blair, later moving to Marquette to make her home with her daughter. Mrs. Blair visited here several times since going to Marquette and for a number of months was housekeeper for several families in this city. The only survivor is her daughter, Mrs. John Lang, of Marquette, and several grandchildren.

Gypsy Band Eludes Escanaba Officers

Two bands of Gypsies, one at Hurley, Wis., and another at Superior, Wis., have been detained for Escanaba authorities, but neither proved to be the group wanted here for defrauding an Escanaba man of $708.

Local officers representing the city and county returned yesterday from Superior, after their second futile trip. The Gypsies held there were not the same ones who left Escanaba hurriedly last week although their description tallied in many respects. While in Escanaba, the Gypsies occupied a business place on Ludington street and represented themselves as exponents of phrenology.

New Washington Quarter Dollar Comes Out June 1

The new George Washington quarter dollar, to be issued by the United States Treasury as a feature of the nation-wide George Washington Bicentennial Celebration, will be coined in large enough quantities to satisfy a normal demand, officials of the Treasury have informed the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission. It is expected that the quarter will be ready for distribution before June 1.

The design of the new coin was approved by Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills from more than a hundred models, many of them submitted by leading American artists. It was executed by John Flanagan, New York sculptor and the designer of the Department of Agriculture World War Memorial.

The obverse of the new coin bears the portrait of George Washington in profile. Over the head appears the word "Liberty," and below is stamped the date "1932." To one side is the motto "In God We Trust."

No Change In Size

The principal design on the other side is a spread eagle with the inscription "United States of America" and "E Pluribus Unum" above, and "Quarter Dollar" below. An olive branch also appears below the eagle to complete a stately, dignified design. The new coin is exactly the same size, weight and fineness as the present quarter dollar.

The George Washington quarter is the first coin of regular issue ever to bear the image of the First President. It was authorized by special act of Congress making it possible for the Treasury to share in the Bicentennial Celebration.

As a coin of regular issue the George Washington quarter will replace the twenty-five cent piece now in circulation. No other quarter dollar will be coined for the next twenty-five years unless authorized by special act of Congress.

Minted at San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia the coins will be placed in circulation through the regular channels of the Federal Reserve Banks, and will appear simultaneously in all parts of the country.

City Salaries Cut

Ishpeming—The city council tonight voted a straight reduction of 10 per cent in the compensation of all salaried city officers and employes by adopting the recommendation of its special committee on salaries.

The cut will save approximately $12,000 annually, on the basis of last year's salary list. The straight 10 per cent cut was opposed by Mayor Sjolander, who declared that he favored, instead, a graduated scale providing for a five per cent minimum cut for employes receiving small salaries, with greater reductions for those receiving more compensation.

Man's Body Found

Negaunee—The lifeless body of William E. Neely, prominent Negaunee resident, was found at daylight yesterday morning by Chief Bert Agnoli and F. E. Tompkins, brother-in-law of the dead man, at the foot of the north side of Teal Lake bluff.

Mr. Neely, who had been in poor health for a year, left his home during the night and was missed at 2:30 a. m. when members of the family notified Chief Agnoli. A search was started with relatives and friends of the deceased participating.

Iron River Reduces

Iron River—Members of the city commission sharpened the economy ax at a meeting last night and slashed right and left at salaries and wages of city employes, with the purpose of reducing taxes at least 15 per cent.

The salary cuts, effective June 1, ranged from 25 to 35 percent all along the line, and, it compared with the pay received by the employes during the fiscal year ending in 1931, amount to 50 per cent.

1st Year Typists Hold Contest At Sr. High Today

Fourteen pupils of the Junior and Senior high school will take part in an inter-class typing contest during the activities period at 10:10 o'clock this morning at the Senior high school. The winner of the contest will be the May champion of the first year typing students.

Contestants were required to write a fifteen minute test with not more than seven errors to qualify. A contest to determine the champion for the month of June will be held at some time during the last months of school.

Following are the contestants: Vincent Bergman, Orville Kallin, Thelma Johnson, Carmen Kramer, Elizabeth Anthony, Doris Olson, Vesta Gayan, Mattat Greenles, Mae Malstrom, Karine Labo, Doris Thorn, Evelyn Nelson, Jelvin Holm, and Robert Coplan.

Esky Writers' Club Admits New Members

At a meeting held in the Senior high school on Wednesday evening the Writers club of the high school accepted eight new members for the 1932-33 school year. The Writers' club is an organization of high school students who are interested in literary pursuits and have formed the club in order to help one another through the interchange of ideas and constructive criticism. Miss Florence Langley is the faculty adviser of the club.

New members admitted into the club are William Kramer, John Davidson, Jean McEwen, Leone Johnson, Louise Flink, Charlotte Molloy, Dorothy Sohn, and Harriet Harris. Members of the club who will be returning to school next fall in addition to the new members are John Anthony, Ned Buckbee, Gertrude Grabowski, Margaret Kamrath, Carol Crain and Alice Promer.

To gain admission to the club the candidates must be recommended by their English teacher and must submit a sample of writing. The club members all write under pen names to make criticism of the results free and impersonal.

New Weight Slips Increase Revenue On Truck Licenses

Lansing, May 5—Michigan's revenue from collection of the weight tax on trucks will be increased more than $100,000 in 1932 because of the use of official weight receipts, records of the Department of State show, according to Orville E. Atwood, chief of the motor vehicle division.

Records show that the new change in issuing truck license plates only upon presentation of an official weight receipt, has resulted in an increase in the registered weights of many trucks this year as compared with the 1931 weight for the same vehicle.

Judge Scores Order

Bessemer—A scathing denunciation of the Modern Woodmen of America was made by Circuit Judge George O. Driscoll in an opinion in which he awarded Abe Abelman, Bessemer merchant, $1,000 damages against the association.

Sault was brought by Mr. Abelman for "breach and wrongful and fraudulent termination of a contract of insurance." It was Mr. Abelman's contention that the insurance company refused to accept assessments and dues and refused to pay him the cash surrender or face amount value of his certificate.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Vincent Bergman Is Interlocutor Of Minstrel Show

Vincent Bergman has been selected to be the interlocutor for the "E" Men's Red Ink Minstrel show, which will be given at the Oliver Memorial auditorium May 17 and 18.

Proceeds will be used to erase the deficits of several student activity funds. High school athletes, who have received their letters, will take part in the production.

The end men will be Kenneth Thompson, Elmer Nelson, Edward Lucas, Robert Lemire, Jack Duranceau and Dick Carlton. "E" men will make up the circle, and will be assisted by members of the Boys' Glee club.

Long Illness Fatal To Mrs. Kenel, 58, Houghton Resident

Mrs. Delphie Kenel, 58, formerly of Houghton, passed away Thursday morning at 7 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pilotti, 936 Sheridan Road, where she had been making hr home.

Mrs. Kenel was born October 22, 1873, in Himmelred, Switzerland, and came to this country several years ago. The family formerly lived in Houghton where her husband, Godfrey Kenel, died ten years ago. Mrs. Kenel was stricken with carcinoma of the stomach three years ago and for the past seven months her condition was serious.

The body was prepared for burial at the Allo Funeral Home and will be sent to Houghton this afternoon. The funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's church in Hancock Saturday morning with burial in Houghton cemetery in the family lot.

The survivors are four sons and two daughters, Alfred and Roy of Detroit, Ernest and Walter of Fort Madison, Iowa, Mrs. Charles Teter of Lawrence, Kas., and Mrs. Joseph Pilotti of Escanaba. Two sisters, Mrs. John Pilotti of Norway, Mich., and Mrs. Barbara Block of Grellinger, Switzerland, and fifteen grandchildren also survive Mr. and Mrs. Pilotti of this city will accompany the remains to Houghton.

OBITUARY

JAMES R. RYAN

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Funeral services for James R. Ryan, lifelong resident and business man of this city, were held in St. Mary's church and burial was made in the family lot at Riverside cemetery.

A solemn high mass was sung by the Very Rev. Dean John J. Stenglein with the Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Duquette and Rev. Fr. Casimir Adasiewic as assistants.

The church was filled to capacity with friends and members of the Ancient Order of Tibernians, of which Mr. Ryan had been a charter member, the Knights of Columbus, and the Elks who attended in a body.

JOHN McNEIL

Ishpeming—John McNeil, 82, resident of Ishpeming for 60 years, died at his home, 514 North First street. He had been ill for a long time.

Mr. McNeil's wife died in 1922. He leaves four sons, four daughters and nine grandchildren. The sons are James and Peter, of Butte, Mont.; John, of Iron Mountain, and William, of Ishpeming. The daughters are Mrs. Michael Fitzpatrick, of Butte, Mont.; Mrs. Grover Hicks, of Paso Robles, Calif.; Mrs. W. E. Senob, of Tuscon, Ariz., and Mrs. Peter Lafreniere, of Ishpeming.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 8:30 in St. John's chuch, the Rev. Henry Kron officiating. Interment will take place in the Ishpeming cemetery.

MRS. LUCY BLAIR

The body of Mrs. Lucy Blair arrived last evening from Marquette and was taken to the Allo Funeral Home, where it will remain until Saturday morning at 9 o'clock when funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's church with Rev. Fr. Edward Leary as the celebrant at the requiem high mass. Burial will be made in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Blair was well known in Escanaba, coming from Oconto, Wis., about thirty years ago. She lived here with her daughter, Mrs. John Lang, formerly Miss Vin Blair, later moving to Marquette to make her home with her daughter. Mrs. Blair visited here several times since going to Marquette and for a number of months was housekeeper for several families in this city. The only survivor is her daughter, Mrs. John Lang, of Marquette, and several grandchildren.

Gypsy Band Eludes Escanaba Officers

Two bands of Gypsies, one at Hurley, Wis., and another at Superior, Wis., have been detained for Escanaba authorities, but neither proved to be the group wanted here for defrauding an Escanaba man of $708.

Local officers representing the city and county returned yesterday from Superior, after their second futile trip. The Gypsies held there were not the same ones who left Escanaba hurriedly last week, although their description tallied in many respects. While in Escanaba, the Gypsies occupied a business place on Ludington street, and represented themselves as exponents of phrenology.

New Washington Quarter Dollar Comes Out June 1

The new George Washington quarter dollar, to be issued by the United States Treasury as a feature of the nation-wide George Washington Bicentennial Celebration, will be coined in large enough quantities to satisfy a normal demand, officials of the Treasury have informed the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission. It is expected that the quarter will be ready for distribution before June 1.

The design of the new coin was approved by Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills from more than a hundred models, many of them submitted by leading American artists. It was executed by John Flanagan, New York sculptor and the designer of the Department of Agriculture World War Memorial.

The obverse of the new coin bears the portrait of George Washington in profile. Over the head appears the word "Liberty," and below is stamped the date "1932." To one side is the motto "In God We Trust."

No Change In Size

The principal design on the other side is a spread eagle with the instruction "United States of America" and "E Pluribus Unum" above, and "Quarter Dollar" below. An olive branch also appears below the eagle to complete a stately, dignified design. The new coin is exactly the same size, weight and finneness as the present quarter dollar.

The George Washington quarter is the first coin of regular issue ever to bear the image of the First President. It was authorized by special act of Congress making it possible for the Treasury to share in the Bicentennial Celebration.

As a coin of regular issue the George Washington quarter will replace the twenty-five cent piece now in circulation. No other quarter dollar will be coined for the next twenty-five years unless authorized by special act of Congress.

Minted at San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia the coins will be placed in circulation through the regular channels of the Federal Reserve Banks, and will appear simultaneously in all parts of the country.

An Illinois state law has been invoked to prohibit the selling of gasoline "by the dollar's worth" instead of by volume units.

City Salaries Cut

Ishpeming—The city council tonight voted a straight reduction of 10 per cent in the compensation of all salaried city officers and employes by adopting the recommendation of its special committee on salaries.

The cut will save approximately $12,000 annually, on the basis of last year's salary list. The straight 10 per cent cut was opposed by Mayor Sjolander, who declared that he favored, instead, a graduated scale providing for a five per cent minimum cut for employes receiving small salaries, with greater reductions for those receiving more compensation.

Man's Body Found

Negaunee—The lifeless body of William E. Neely, prominent Negaunee resident, was found at daylight yesterday morning by Chief Bert Agnoli and F. E. Tompkins, brother-in-law of the dead man, at the foot of the north side of Teal Lake bluff.

Mr. Neely, who had been in poor health for a year, left his home during the night and was missed at 2:30 a. m. when members of the family notified Chief Agnoli. A search was started with relatives and friends of the deceased participating.

Iron River Reduces

Iron River—Members of the city commission sharpened the economy ax at a meeting last night and slashed right and left at salaries and wages of city employes, with the purpose of reducing taxes at least 15 per cent.

The salary cuts, effective June 1, ranged from 25 to 35 percent all along the line, and, if compared with the pay received by the employes during the fiscal year ending in 1931, amount to 50 per cent.

1st Year Typists Hold Contest At Sr. High Today

Fourteen pupils of the Junior and Senior high school will take part in an inter-class typing contest during the activities period at 10:10 o'clock this morning at the Senior high school. The winner of the contest will be the May champion of the first year typing students.

Contestants were required to write a fifteen minute test with not more than seven errors to qualify. A contest to determine the champion for the month of June will be held at some time during the last months of school.

Following are the contestants: Vincent Bergman, Orville Kallin, Thelma Johnson, Carmel Kramer, Elizabeth Anthony, Doris Olson, Vesta Gayan, Marian Greenles, Mae Malstrom, Rayme Labre, Doris Thorin, Evelyn Nelson, Melvin Holm, and Robert Coplan.

Esky Writers' Club Admits New Members

At a meeting held in the Senior high school on Wednesday evening the Writers' club of the high school accepted eight new members for the 1932-33 school year. The Writers' club is an organization of high school students who are interested in literary pursuits and have formed the club in order to help one another through the interchange of ideas and sonstructive criticism. Miss Florence Langley is the faculty advisor of the club.

New members admitted into the club are: William Kramer, John Davidson, Jean McEwen, Leone Johnson, Louise Flink, Charlotte Molloy, Dorothy Sohn, and Harriet Haring. Members of the club who will be returning to school next fall in addition to the new members are: John Anthony, Ned Buckbee, Gertrude Grabowski, Margaret Kamrath, Carol Crain and Alice Promer.

To gain admission to the club the candidates must be recommended by their English teacher and must submit a sample of writing. The club members all write under pen names to make criticism of the results free and impersonal.

New Weight Slips Increase Revenue On Truck Licenses

Lansing, May 5—Michigan's revenue from collection of the weight tax on trucks will be increased more than $100,000 in 1932 because of the use of official weight receipts, records of the Department of State show, according to Orville E. Atwood, chief of the motor vehicle division.

Records show that the new change in issuing truck license plates only upon presentation of an official weight receipt, has resulted in an increase in the registered weights of many trucks this year as compared with the 1931 weight for the same vehicle.

Wescoat to Start Isle Royale Line; Gets New Plane

A Sikorsky S-38, mamoth amphibian airplane, which will be used by The Royale Line for transportation service between the Copper Country and Isle Royale this summer, will arrive in Houghton on or about May 12, according to word received yesterday from C. Harold Wascoat, manager, who has been in Chicago and Milwaukee for the past ten days making final preparations for bringing the ship to the Copper Country.

Before coming to Houghton the plane will make a tour of the principal cities of the lower peninsula to advertise the service which The Royale Line intends to inaugurate to Isle Royale.

According to advices received from Mr. Wescoat yesterday, his company had taken over the amphibian, employed a pilot and mechanic and has arranged for the necessary insurance to engage in transport flying.

Mr. Wescoat said he was leaving Milwaukee, where the ship was purchased, Tuesday, for Chicago, where he would transact business for a few hours and then proceeded to Detroit on a tour of the principal cities of lower Michigan. Stops will be made at Lansing, Grand Rapids, Flint, Pontiac, Saginaw, Petosky and other points of advantage. After crossing the straits Mr. Wescoat plans to have the ship stop at Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba and Marquette before arriving in Houghton.

Carries 12 People

The Sikorsky S-38, which The Royale Line is bringing to the Copper Country, is one of the finest ships of its kind on the market today. It will carry 10 passengers and two pilots and will land on either land or water. It is equipped with two engines and will carry a full load on either engine. It is elaborately appointed, with roomy and comfortable quarters for passengers. The ship is larger by far than any that has ever landed in the Copper Country on land or water.

Lester E. Shealy, who has been engaged to pilot The Royale Line ship, is a veteran pilot with many hours experience in piloting a Sikorsky. He holds U. S. Naval aviator's certificate, F. A. I. License, Department of Commerce mechanic's license and a transport license for all types of planes, both land and water. One of his most outstanding records is a 50-mile flight in the wilderness of Venezuela without a forced landing. This flight was made while he was in the employ of the Creole Petroleum corporation, subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, and was made in a twin Wasp Sikorsky S-38 which is the same type that will be brought to the Copper Country.

Mr. Shealy will bring his own mechanic and assistant pilot.

MISSED THE TRAIN? GEE, THAT'S SWELL!

By NEA Service

Paris—It'll be a pleasure to miss a train after they install the special moving picture shows at the Gare St. Lazarre here. The shows are going to be set up in the station just for the pleasure of those who miss trains.

The shows will run continuously, and will enable patrons to see films of current events and comic skits. A charge so small that passengers who have only a few minutes to wait will not hesitate about passing the time at the movies will be made.

A train announcer will be inside the show to announce the various departing trains in time for passengers to leave and catch them.

Trapping Reduces Loss from Wolves

Lansing—The fact that 23 wolves have been trapped out of the vicinity of McMillan in Luce County during the past year had a material effect on deer losses through attacks of predators, according to a report of H. P. Williams, leader of predatory animal control. While 32 deer killed by predators were found in the region during the winter of 1930-31 no losses were reported last winter.

He recently arrived here and announced he was on his way to tramp 7000 miles through France, Belgium, Spain and South America.

Wescoat to Start Isle Royale Line; Gets New Plane

A Sikorsky S-38, mamoth amphibian airplane, which will be used by The Royale Line for transportation service between the Copper Country and Isle Royale this summer, will arrive in Houghton on or about May 12, according to word received yesterday from C. Harold Wascoat, manager, who has been in Chicago and Milwaukee for the past ten days making final preparations for bringing the ship to the Copper Country.

Before coming to Houghton the plane will make a tour of the principal cities of the lower peninsula to advertise the service which The Royale Line intends to inaugurate to Isle Royale.

According to advices received from Mr. Wescoat yesterday, his company had taken over the amphibian, employed a pilot and mechanic and has arranged for the necessary insurance to engage in transport flying.

Mr. Wescoat said he was leaving Milwaukee, where the ship was purchased, Tuesday, for Chicago, where he would transact business for a few hours and then proceeded to Detroit on a tour of the principal cities of lower Michigan. Stops will be made at Lansing, Grand Rapids, Flint, Pontiac, Saginaw, Petosky and other points of advantage. After crossing the straits Mr. Wescoat plans to have the ship stop at Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba and Marquette before arriving in Houghton.

Carries 12 People

The Sikorsky S-38, which The Royale Line is bringing to the Copper Country, is one of the finest ships of its kind on the market today. It will carry 10 passengers and two pilots and will land on either land or water. It is equipped with two engines and will carry a full load on either engine. It is elaborately appointed, with roomy and comfortable quarters for passengers. The ship is larger by far than any that has ever landed in the Copper Country on land or water.

AMUSEMENTS

"Tarzan, the Ape Man," at last reaches the screen with all of the thrills and breath-taking adventures of the famous Edgar Rice Burroughs story depicted in the picture which opened yesterday at the Delft Theatre. Johnny Weismuller, world's champion swimmer, who was cast in the title role because of his tremendous physical build, is excellent in the part, giving a vivid personification of the strange human being who was raised by the apes as one of their own.

Others who give creditable performances in this engrossing story of adventure in the African jungle include Neil Hamilton, C. Aubrey Smith, Maureen O'Sullivan, Doris Lloyd, Forester Harvey and Curtis Nero. The direction of W. S. Van Dyke is in every way up to the high standard set by his previous success, "Trader Horn."

There are no rich men in America today. We don't know where they stand. The highest type of riches, as personified in this country, has practically vanished, and they are afraid to look at their ledgers to see if they are worth anything.
—Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate.

"Tarzan, the Ape Man," at last reaches the screen with all of the thrills and breath-taking adventures of the famous Edgar Rice Burroughs story depicted in the picture which opened yesterday at the Delft Theatre. Johnny Weismuller, world's champion swimmer, who was cast in the title role because of his tremendous physical build, is excellent in the part, giving a vivid personification of the strange human being who was raised by the apes as one of their own.

Others who give creditable performances in this engrossing story of adventure in the African jungle include Neil Hamilton, C. Aubrey Smith, Maureen O'Sullivan, Doris Lloyd, Forester Harvey and Curtis Nero. The direction of W. S. Van Dyke is in every way up to the high standard set by his previous success, "Trader Horn."

There are no rich men in America today. We don't know where they stand. The highest type of riches, as personified in this country, has practically vanished, and they are afraid to look at their ledgers to see if they are worth anything.
—Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate.

Macaroni Salad Something New And Nutritious

While all the old ways of serving the paste-foods are good, if you yearn for something rather out-of-the-ordinary, try a macaroni salad or two for your spring meals.

The cooking of macaroni for salads is most important for there must not be the slightest trace of stickness or mushiness. Drop macaroni into plenty of boiling water—3 quarts and 1 tablespoon salt to 2 cups macaroni are good proportions—and boil until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain it well and rinse with cold water. Chill and have all the other materials cold, too, before combining them.

Macaroni Ham Salad

This salad is particularly good served on a bed of shredded cabbage.

One cup cooked and chilled macaroni, 1 cup chopped cold boiled ham, 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish, 2 pimentoes, 1 cup salad dressing (mayonnaise or cooked dressing), shredded cabbage.

Mix horseradish and ham thoroughly and combine lightly with macaroni and pimentoes which have been cut in shreds. Moisten with dressing and serve on a bed of shredded cabbage.

Another substantial salad is made with eggs in combination with macaroni.

Macaroni Egg Salad

One cup cooked macaroni, 2 hard cooked eggs, ½ cup diced celery, 4 tablespoons sliced stuffed olives, salad dressing, shredded leaf lettuce.

Chop eggs and combine with macaroni, celery and olives. Add salad dressing to make moist and serve on a bed of shredded leaf lettuce. Garnish with halves of stuffed olives. Use olives stuffed with pimentoes rather than those stuffed with celery or nuts.

Macaroni also makes a good filler for chicken salad. Diced cucumber is a good addition at this time of year with strips of red and green sweet pepper.

Most of our citizens are of foreign extraction. They are home-loving people and ask only for peace and good government. They will get it.
—Joseph George Cerny, new mayor of Cicero, Ill.

From present signs it looks very much as if the whole country out here will go Democratic next fall. I'll be back this way after June.
—Franklin D. Roosevelt, in speech in Wisconsin.

Being Hostess Not Difficult

Washington (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover finds it much easier being a hostess to many women than to have a number of them acting as hostesses for her.

She expressed that opinion at a Congressional club luncheon given in her honor and attended by 400 Congressmen's wives.

She entertains almost every night in the White House and often receives as many as 600 women at a reception. She has a greeting for every one, but when she herself is the sole guest of honor with 400 hostesses she is unable to talk with them all.

The Japanese are living under a military machine which may bring much trouble upon them.
—Professor Cyrus Peake of Columbia University.

Macaroni Salad Something New And Nutritious

While all the old ways of serving the paste-foods are good, if you yearn for something rather out-of-the-ordinary, try a macaroni salad or two for your spring meals.

The cooking of macaroni for salads is most important for there must not be the slightest trace of stickness or mushiness. Drop macaroni into plenty of boiling water—2 quarts and 1 tablespoon salt to 2 cups macaroni are good proportions—and boil until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain it well and rinse with cold water. Chill and have all the other materials cold, too, before combining them.

Macaroni Ham Salad

This salad is particularly good served on a bed of shredded cabbage.

One cup cooked and chilled macaroni, 1 cup chopped cold boiled ham, 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish, 2 pimentoes, 1 cup salad dressing (mayonnaise or cooked dressing), shredded cabbage.

Mix horseradish and ham thoroughly and combine lightly with macaroni and pimentoes which have been cut in shreds. Moisten with dressing and serve on a bed of shredded cabbage.

Another substantial salad is made with eggs in combination with macaroni.

Macaroni Egg Salad

One cup cooked macaroni, 2 hard cooked eggs, ½ cup diced celery, 4 tablespoons sliced stuffed olives, salad dressing, shredded leaf lettuce.

Chop eggs and combine with macaroni, celery and olives. Add salad dressing to make moist and serve on a bed of shredded leaf lettuce. Garnish with halves of stuffed olives. Use olives stuffed with pimentoes rather than those stuffed with celery or nuts.

Macaroni also makes a good filler for chicken salad. Diced cucumber is a good addition at this time of year with strips of red and green sweet pepper.

Most of our citizens are of foreign extraction. They are home-loving people and ask only for peace and good government. They will get it.
—Joseph George Cerny, new mayor of Cicero, Ill.

From present signs it looks very much as if the whole country out here will go Democratic next fall. I'll be back this way after June.
—Franklin D. Roosevelt, in speech in Wisconsin.

Being Hostess Not Difficult

Washington (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover finds it much easier being a hostess to many women than to have a number of them acting as hostesses for her.

She expressed that opinion at a Congressional club luncheon given in her honor and attended by 400 Congressmen's wives.

She entertains almost every night in the White House and often receives as many as 600 women at a reception. She has a greeting for every one, but when she herself is the sole guest of honor with 400 hostesses she is unable to talk with them all.

The Japanese are living under a military machine which may bring much trouble upon them.
—Professor Cyrus Peake of Columbia University.

St. Joseph's Music History Dates from '84

Music activities in St. Joseph's high school, which will have two organizations in Saturday's Music Festival here, started with the arrival of the Sisters of Notre Dame in Escanaba and the opening of St. Joseph's school in 1884.

The Department of Music, under the direction of Sister Gerald, one of the pioneer teachers, offered opportunity for instruction in piano, violin, mandolin, guitar, finger zither, bow zither and voice. A Music Club was organized for the purpose of primary ensemble work, the instruments of the day then being the mandolin and guitar.

Singing was taught throughout the school, the National Graduated Course in School Singing being then in use. In 1917 this method was superseded by the Progressive Series School Music. Chorus singing has always been customary throughout the history of the school and to this day it is indulged in, not only as a form of recreation, but also for the development of musical feeling and imagination.

A glimpse of the old repertoire of early days reveals choruses as: "Music and Her Sister Song," and "Our Beautiful Mountain Home," sung by Mayme Barth and Nellie Conahan; "Come Where the Lilies Bloom," a quartet number, sung by Nicholas Walsh, Mary Kessler, Nellie Conahan, Agnes Fleming, Mayme Boddy and others.

In the "Landing of Columbus," Ralph Finley sang "Ave Maris Stella." Sacred music with its devotional appeal was given due attention. Charter members of St. Joseph choir who deserve special mention are: Mrs. Henry Wilke, Miss Caroline Hamacher, Flora Roemer Sipchen, Cary Roemer Quinn, Mrs. J. P. Rooney, Jenny Tormy, Jean Tyrell, John Roemer, Conrad Lins, Edward Van Deweile, James C. Tolan, Ralph R. Finley.

Commencement Chorus

The old commencement chorus, "The Lily and the Rose," sung by Sadie Nearman, Barbara Will and Augusta Martin, was revived by the sophomore class of 1929 in tableau and the dance by Ruth Henry, Lillian Frasher, Marion Fredrickson, Irene LaCrosse, Catherine Morin, Eleanor Bolger, Grace Bennett, Margaret Plant, Lorraine Ammel, Delima Scheer, Ruth Fillion, Catherine Groleau. Today, as of old, girls and boys of St. Joseph's high still enjoy the hour of song and for the more gifted student, the Glee and Choral Clubs have been organized.

Outstanding among the St. Joseph's music organizations in the past was the Drum Corps which served as an escort to Governor Albert E. Sleeper on the occasion of his visit here in 1918, and which won first prize that year at the Eagles' convention in Appleton. This was under the direction of Otto K. Scheriff, Spanish War veteran, and its members were: Herbert Iverson, Edward Van de Wiele, Lester Johnson, Joseph Steinmetz, James Wirley, Paul Jolly, Benjaman Valind, Clifford Dubuis, Thomas Manneback, Harry Lemer, Conrad Lemer, Theodore Scheriff, Victor Blomstrom, Herman Bittner, Clarence Gunderson, Clarence Greis, Melvin Jorgenson, William Hermes, Harry Tolan, Wilfred Dupont, William Bink, Nicholas Bink, Jr., Edward Vogel.

St. Joseph's orchestra also numbered among its members some of the most talented young people in the city.

Its string ensemble which is appearing in Saturday's program was organized in 1928 and has progressed steadily since that time.

Appearing in Saturday's program are the following:

Girls' Glee Club

L. Ammel, A. Brotherton, M. Frederickson, L. Delorier, R. Fillion, L. Frasher, R. Moras, M. Hoffman, E. Reynolds, L. Laviolette, I. Cyr, E. Hirn, M. Welch, E. Garrett, M. Brotherton.

Accompanist, Helen Jean Beck.

String Ensemble

First Violin—B. Peltier.
Second Violin—F. Annutta.
Third Violin—E. Garrett.
Fourth Violin—R. Moras.
Cello—A. Brotherton.
Piano—J. Lewis.
Vocal soloist, Lawrence Girard.

A. Grabowski held here Wednesday afternoon.

Music Important In Escanaba's High Schools

Music organization activities in Escanaba high school which are taking a prominent part in the upper peninsula district Music Festival here on Saturday, opened in 1911 with the formation of the high school orchestra, which up to 1915 had only twelve members.

The Glee Clubs gave Christmas cantatas up to that year, and in the spring of 1914 these clubs joined giving an operetta, "The Nautical Knot," under the direction of Miss Theresa Ryan, head of the department of music. The next important event was a big outdoor pageant given by all musical organizations on June 15, 1916, in Ludington park.

The comic operetta, "Pocahontas," was presented in 1922 under the direction of Miss Best and Miss Vaupelle. In 1924, the high school orchestra, directed by Leonard Shanklin, toured small towns around Escanaba, and the Junior Music club was organized by Miss Dunn. In 1925, the orchestra of 15 players appeared in radio programs and organization of an elementary orchestra, and a jazz orchestra, the Senior Syncopators, were completed. The music department in 1926 under R. W. Nordling's direction, included an assembly orchestra, a 100-piece orchestra, and a string quartet. The Escanaba high school band made its appearance this year, and the following year, 1927, its members were presented with uniforms, in use at present, donated by the student body. The band of 34 uniformed members and the drum major had a successful year and the string quartet placed second at the Marquette music conference.

In 1929 the music department had ten active divisions, Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, Girls' and Boys' Freshmen Glee Clubs, Symphony Orchestra, Band, Girls' Band, Assembly Orchestra and String Orchestra. "The Belle of Bagdad" was presented in 1930 under the direction of Miss Ruth Sundwick and R. P. Bowers.

313 Music Students

This year, 313 students, duplicates eliminated, are enrolled in the various musical organizations of the school system. These are:

The Senior High School Band of 32 members which played at football and basketball games, assembly and pep sessions and gave a series of concerts in neighboring towns.

Orchestra, 29 members, which played before civic organizations, furnished music for all plays in William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium, played for assemblies, and took part in the auditorium dedication.

Mixed Chorus of 36 members which appeared before the Woman's Club, the assembly and Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs.

Girls' Glee Club, 26 members, programs before Rotary, Kiwanis and assembly, and part in "Miss Cherryblossom," operetta.

Boys' Glee Club, 28 members, programs at Rotary and Kiwanis planned, part in "Miss Cherryblossom."

String Quartet, Melvin Holm, first violin; Clara Karas, second violin; Melba Anderson, viola; Jean Royce, cello; Frank Karas, director, appearances before school and civic organizations; first place in contest at Iron River a year ago, first at Iron Mountain two years ago.

Vocal Quartet, Lillian Gleisner, soprano; Vivian Gleisner, contralto, Edward Lucas, tenor; Richard Carlton, bass; various programs.

Esky Krauts, Jack Geniesse, clarinet; Robert Bartella, cornet; John Duranceau trombone; Ira Smith, clarinet; Rayne Labre, bass; special programs, also "Rube Band" concerts.

Junior High School

The Junior high school groups, all of which have taken an equally active part in programs and school productions, are:

Band, 45 members.

Boys' Glee Club, 18; Miss Sundwick, director.

P. E. O. Chapter Organized, Miss Pease, President

Organization of the first upper peninsula chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, Chapter Z, was completed here Wednesday at meetings held at the homes of Mrs. R. W. Haddock, 315 South Fifth street, and Miss Fern Fontanna, 212 Lake Shore Drive, at which Mrs. Berdie Salmons of Detroit, state organizer of the P. E. O., was present.

Officers elected are:

Miss Margaret Pease, president.
Miss Roma Irons, vice president.
Mrs. R. P. Bowers, recording secretary.
Miss Mary French, corresponding secretary.
Mrs. H. I. Davies, treasurer.
Mrs. J. H. Stephens, chaplain.
Miss Fern Fontanna, guard.

Organization of the chapter with initiation of members was held at the afternoon meeting at Mrs. Haddock's home. Following this a dinner was served at a local tea room and after dinner the group met at the home of Miss Fontanna for election and installation of officers.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood was founded in 1869 by seven girls who were students at Iowa Wesleyan college, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. Because the founders were not willing to yield active membership after leaving college, town chapters were organized, and after a number of years the college chapter was converted into a Greek letter sorority, thus leaving P. E. O. strictly a city institution.

The growth of the organization has been gradual but it has increased and expanded until there are over 1600 chapters located throughout the United States and Canada with a membership of 52,000. It is now the largest independent secret organization of women in the world.

The national headquarters of the Sisterhood is located at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, in a splendid Memorial Library building erected in 1927 as a tribute to the founders.

Through the year P. E. O. has done an outstanding educational and philanthropic work in connection with its literary and social activities. It maintains a large educational loan fund for girls and has recently become owner and sponsor of a Junior College for Girls.

Confirmation Sunday

Sunday, May 8, will be Confirmation Day in all three Catholic churches of the city and at Gladstone. Rt. Rev. Bishop Paul J. Nussbaum will come to this city to administer the Sacrament to four large classes. The first services will be held at St. Anne's church at the 7:30 o'clock mass. The services at St. Joseph's church will be held immediately after the 10:30 o'clock mass which is a low mass. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the class at St. Patrick's church will receive the sacrament and in the evening the bishop will confer Confirmation at All Saints' church, Gladstone. During the visit of the bishop priests from the city and surrounding places will assist in the impressive ceremony.

Christian Science Churches

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 8.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rev. 7:17): "For the Lamb which is the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them into living fountains of water: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 557): "Popular theology takes up the history of man as if he began materially right, but immediately fell into mental sin; whereas revealed religion proclaims the Science of Mind and its formations as being in accordance with the first chapter of the Old Testament, when God, Mind, spake and it was done."

Program at Whitefish

A Mother's Day program of vocal selections and readings will be presented under the auspices of the Luther League, at the Bethany Lutheran church, Whitefish, Sunday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The mothers of the congregation and of the community are especially invited to this service.

The program to be presented is as follows:

Reading, "The Origin and Purpose of Mother's Day"—Helen Johnson.

Reading, "Mother's Love"—Kathleen Holmgren.

Vocal solo, "Wonderful Mother O' Mine"—Marion Caswell.

Sermonette, "Mother's Sacrifice and Influence"—N. Edward Vickberg.

Reading, "Nobody Knows but Mother"—Friedolf Olson.

Vocal duet, "Mother's Day"—Helen and Harriett Oberg.

Vocal solo, "Lilla Mor" (Swedish)—Edward Vickberg.

Social - Club

Pythian Sisters

A meeting of the Pythian Sisters will be held this evening in the K. of P. hall, beginning at 8 o'clock. A good attendance is desired.

St. Stephen's Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. Fred Raymond, 223 North Fifteenth street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Eric Froberg will lead the book review.

Rebekah Dance

Phoebe Rebekah lodge will entertain at a dance Saturday evening, May 7, beginning at 9 o'clock at the I. O. O. F. hall, North Tenth street. Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their friends are invited to attend.

Foresters Meet

Holy Family Court No. 56, W. C. O. F., will hold a regular meeting this evening at St. Patrick's hall beginning at 8 o'clock. Following the business meeting there will be a social session with Mrs. Margaret Garrity and Mrs. Winifred Gallagher as hostesses.

Dinner Dance

The Fourth Degree Assembly, Knights of Columbus, are entertaining at a dinner dance the evening of Wednesday, May 11, at Peterson's tea room, Ford River. Johnson's Wolverines will play for the dance. The party guests will include all Fourth Degree Knights and their ladies.

Mary Rees Circle

Mary Rees Circle of the First Presbyterian church will meet in the parlors of the church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Each member is asked to invite a guest. Mrs. Nels Jensen, Mrs. William Jensen and Mrs. H. P. Hansen are hostesses. Mrs. Mary Rees, for whom the circle is named, will be the guest of honor at the meeting.

Guild Party Enjoyable

Thirty tables were occupied at the sixth card party given Wednesday evening at St. Patrick's hall by the church Guild. In bridge, prizes were awarded to Mrs. E. F. Sullivan, first; Mrs. Julia Maigetter, second; in five hundred to Mrs. William O'Connell, first, and Mrs. H. Cloutier, second; and in pinochle to Miss Rene LaFave, first, and James Harwood, second.

Surprise Party

Mrs. Gust Trottier, 1125 Lake Shore Drive, was the guest of honor at a surprise party arranged by a group of twelve friends on the occasion of her birthday anniversary and given Wednesday evening at her home. Cards were played and a birthday lunch was served with a large birthday cake forming the table centerpiece. Mrs. Trottier was presented with a lovely gift, a remembrance of the occasion.

Forest-Holmes

Miss Ann Forest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Forest, and Mason A. Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holmes, were united in marriage at a ceremony performed Thursday morning.

The service took place in the presence of a group of relatives and close friends in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. R. C. G. Williams, pastor, officiating. Attendants were Miss Bernice Forest and Clarence E. Cloutier.

The young people will make their home here.

Observe Mother's Day

Members of the Sunday School of the Norwegian Danish Lutheran church will present a program at the church Sunday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock when a tribute will be paid to all mothers. It is expected that the church will be filled on this occasion.

Recitation, "A Wish for Mothers"—Helen Olsen's class.

Song, "We Thank Thee"—Sunday School.

Benediction.

Mrs. Steinke 89 Years Old Today

An occasion of interest today for residents of Escanaba is the birthday anniversary of a pioneer, Mrs. Amelia Steinke, 204 North Twelfth street, who will be eighty-nine years old today. There will be open house at Mrs. Steinke's home today, as is customary on her birthday anniversary, and many of her old friends and her new friends will call today to extend their greetings and their best wishes to her.

Gubfest Tonight

The twenty-eighth annual "Gubfest" of the Swedish Methodist Episcopal church will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. and Mrs. John P. Miller of Chicago will feature the evening's program. Mrs. Miller will appear in the national costume of Sweden and sing songs of the homeland. Rev. Miller will show moving pictures of the "Land of Sunlit Nights." The men of the church will serve refreshments at the close of the program. The public is invited. A nominal admission fee will be taken at the door.

St. Anne's P-T Round - Up Work Is Completed

The summer round-up program sponsored by St. Anne's Parent-Teacher unit was completed on Thursday with examination of twenty-five children.

Dr. John Groos conducted the physical examinations, Dr. H. I. Miller, the dental tests, and Miss Gertrude Sheahan, school nurse, and Mrs. Leslie French assisted the doctors. Follow-up work where corrective measures are needed will be taken care of during the summer months in order that all pre-school children, entering school for the first time this fall will be free of all physical handicaps which might retard their progress.

The round-up at St. Anne's was in charge of special committees:

Mrs. Joseph Osier, chairman.

Visiting — Mrs. Frank Charboneau, Mrs. E. L. Beauchamp, Mrs. Med Beaudoin and Mrs. Thomas Tousignant.

Transportation — Mrs. Kenneth Wagenhauser, Mrs. Joseph Peltier and Mrs. Walter Richer.

Registration — Mrs. Thomas Thompson.

Council Members Urged To Attend Meeting May 11

Everyone eligible to membership in the Parent-Teacher Council is urged by Mrs. Arthur Peterson, president, to plan attendance at the special Council meeting which will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Carnegie public library on the occasion of the visit to Escanaba of Mrs. C. E. Roe, national field secretary.

This group includes every officer of all seven units and a special invitation is also extended to all newly elected officers to attend.

The big meeting of Parent-Teacher members and their friends will be held in the evening at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium, Junior high school, and it is expected that several hundred members of the organization will be present. The meeting, the detailed program of which will be announced later, will open with a music program at 7:15 o'clock, followed by a short talk by Mrs. Roe. Music selections will follow, and the program will close with a second talk by Mrs. Roe.

Lucille Gessner In Program at Iron Mountain

Miss Lucille Gessner, young Escanaba woman, who is widely recognized as a talented interpretator of dramatic art, will appear in a program today before members of the Woman's Club of Iron Mountain.

Miss Gessner will be assisted in her program by Mrs. W. H. Summers.

The program which will be given at the Iron Mountain club meeting this afternoon, will have as its first part the charming and intensely dramatic Indian group, which, it will be recalled, was given by Miss Gessner at the upper peninsula Federation of Woman's Clubs meeting here a year ago.

This group opens with a piano solo, "The Improvisation," MacDowell, played by Mrs. Summers. Miss Gessner's interpretation of the lovely pathos of the story of "Miantowona," by Thomas Baily Aldrich, will follow. Mrs. Summers will play "From an Indian Lodge," MacDowell, and the closing number of the group is "PowWow," Robert Gessner's story.

The program will continue after an intermission with the following numbers:

"Courting Under Difficulties," a humorous reading.

"Patchwork Quilt," Natalie Whitted Price, a musical reading; piano accompaniment by Mrs. Summers.

Irish monologue, "Och, I Don't Know."

The club meeting is being held at the Iron Mountain Country club.

President Hoover has inaugurated a program so efficient and so vital that it alone stands as a memorial not only to him but also to the wisdom of the public which chose a man capable of accomplishing this stupendous task.

—Ernest Lee Jahncke, assistant secretary of the navy.

St. Joseph's Music History Dates from '84

Music activities in St. Joseph's high school, which will have two organizations in Saturday's Music Festival here, started with the arrival of the Sisters of Notre Dame in Escanaba and the opening of St. Joseph's school in 1884.

The Department of Music, under the direction of Sister Gerald, one of the pioneer teachers, offered opportunity for instruction in piano, violin, mandolin, guitar, finger zither, bow zither and voice. A Music Club was organized for the purpose of primary ensemble work, the instruments of the day then being the mandolin and guitar.

Singing was taught throughout the school, the National Graduated Course in School Singing being then in use. In 1917 this method was superseded by the Progressive Series School Music. Chorus singing has always been customary throughout the history of the school and to this day it is indulged in, not only as a form of recreation, but also for the development of musical feeling and imagination.

A glimpse of the old repertoire of early days reveals choruses as: "Music and Her Sister Song," and "Our Beautiful Mountain Home," sung by Mayme Barth and Nellie Conahan; "Come Where the Lilies Bloom," a quartet number, sung by Nicholas Walsh, Mary Kessler, Nellie Conahan, Agnes Fleming, Mayme Boddy and others.

In the "Landing of Columbus," Ralph Finley sang "Ave Maris Stella." Sacred music with its devotional appeal was given due attention. Charter members of St. Joseph choir who deserve special mention are: Mrs. Henry Wilke, Miss Caroline Hamacher, Flora Roemer Sipchen, Cary Roemer Quinn, Mrs. J. P. Rooney, Jenny Tormy, Jean Tyrell, John Roemer, Conrad Lins, Edward Van Deweile, James C. Tolan, Ralph R. Finley.

Commencement Chorus

The old commencement chorus, "The Lily and the Rose," sung by Sadie Nearman, Barbara Will and Augusta Martin, was revived by the sophomore class of 1929 in tableau and the dance by Ruth Henry, Lillian Frasher, Marion Fredrickson, Irene LaCrosse, Catherine Morin, Eleanor Bolger, Grace Bennett, Margaret Plant, Lorraine Ammel, Delima Scheer, Ruth Fillion, Catherine Groleau. Today, as of old, girls and boys of St. Joseph's high still enjoy the hour of song and for the more gifted student, the Glee and Choral Clubs have been organized.

Outstanding among the St. Joseph's music organizations in the past was the Drum Corps which served as an escort to Governor Albert E. Sleeper on the occasion of his visit here in 1918, and which won first prize that year at the Eagles' convention in Appleton. This was under the direction of Otto K. Scheriff, Spanish War veteran, and its members were: Herbert Iverson, Edward Van de Wiele, Lester Johnson, Joseph Steinmetz, James Wirley, Paul Jolly, Benjaman Valind, Clifford Dubuis, Thomas Manneback, Harry Lemer, Conrad Lemer, Theodore Scheriff, Victor Blomstrom, Herman Bittner, Clarence Gunderson, Clarence Greis, Melvin Jorgenson, William Hermes, Harry Tolan, Wilfred Dupont, William Bink, Nicholas Bink, Jr., Edward Vogel.

St. Joseph's orchestra also numbered among its members some of the most talented young people in the city.

Its string ensemble which is appearing in Saturday's program was organized in 1928 and has progressed steadily since that time.

Appearing in Saturday's program are the following:

Girls' Glee Club

L. Ammel, A. Brotherton, M. Frederickson, L. Delorier, R. Fillion, L. Frasher, R. Moras, M. Hoffman, E. Reynolds, L. Laviolette, I. Cyr, E. Hirn, M. Welch, E. Garrett, M. Brotherton.

Accompanist, Helen Jean Beck.

Music Important In Escanaba's High Schools

Music organization activities in Escanaba high school which are taking a prominent part in the upper peninsula district Music Festival here on Saturday, opened in 1911 with the formation of the high school orchestra, which up to 1915 had only twelve members.

The Glee Clubs gave Christmas cantatas up to that year, and in the spring of 1914 these clubs joined giving an operetta, "The Nautical Knot," under the direction of Miss Theresa Ryan, head of the department of music. The next important event was a big outdoor pageant given by all musical organizations on June 15, 1916, in Ludington park.

The comic operetta, "Pocahontas," was presented in 1922 under the direction of Miss Best and Miss Vaupelle. In 1924, the high school orchestra, directed by Leonard Shanklin, toured small towns around Escanaba, and the Junior Music club was organized by Miss Dunn. In 1925, the orchestra of 15 players appeared in radio programs and organization of an elementary orchestra, and a jazz orchestra, the Senior Syncopators, were completed. The music department in 1926 under R. W. Nordling's direction, included an assembly orchestra, a 100-piece orchestra, and a string quartet. The Escanaba high school band made its appearance this year, and the following year, 1927, its members were presented with uniforms, in use at present, donated by the student body. The band of 34 uniformed members and the drum major had a successful year and the string quartet placed second at the Marquette music conference.

In 1929 the music department had ten active divisions, Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, Girls' and Boys' Freshmen Glee Clubs, Symphony Orchestra, Band, Girls' Band, Assembly Orchestra and String Orchestra. "The Belle of Bagdad" was presented in 1930 under the direction of Miss Ruth Sundwick and R. P. Bowers.

313 Music Students

This year, 313 students, duplicates eliminated, are enrolled in the various musical organizations of the school system. These are:

The Senior High School Band of 32 members which played at football and basketball games, assembly and pep sessions and gave a series of concerts in neighboring towns.

P. E. O. Chapter Organized, Miss Pease, President

Organization of the first upper peninsula chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, Chapter Z, was completed here Wednesday at meetings held at the homes of Mrs. R. W. Haddock, 315 South Fifth street, and Miss Fern Fontanna, 212 Lake Shore Drive, at which Mrs. Berdie Salmons of Detroit, state organizer of the P. E. O., was present.

Officers elected are:

Miss Margaret Pease, president.

Miss Roma Irons, vice president.

Mrs. R. P. Bowers, recording secretary.

Miss Mary French, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. H. I. Davies, treasurer.

Mrs. J. H. Stephens, chaplain.

Miss Fern Fontanna, guard.

Organization of the chapter with initiation of members was held at the afternoon meeting at Mrs. Haddock's home. Following this a dinner was served at a local tea room and after dinner the group met at the home of Miss Fontanna for election and installation of officers.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood was founded in 1869 by seven girls who were students at Iowa Wesleyan college, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. Because the founders were not willing to yield active membership after leaving college, town chapters were organized, and after a number of years the college chapter was converted into a Greek letter sorority, thus leaving P. E. O. strictly a city institution.

The growth of the organization has been gradual but it has increased and expanded until there are over 1600 chapters located throughout the United States and Canada with a membership of 52,000. It is now the largest independent secret organization of women in the world.

The national headquarters of the Sisterhood is located at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, in a splendid Memorial Library building erected in 1927 as a tribute to the founders.

Through the year P. E. O. has done an outstanding educational and philanthropic work in connection with its literary and social activities. It maintains a large educational loan fund for girls and has recently become owner and sponsor of a Junior College for Girls.

Christian Science Churches

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 8.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rev. 7:17): "For the Lamb which is the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them into living fountains of water; and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 557): "Popular theology takes up the history of man as if he began materially right, but immediately fell into mental sin; whereas revealed religion proclaims the Science of Mind and its formations as being in accordance with the first chapter of the Old Testament, when God, Mind, spake and it was done."

There will be open house at Mrs. Steinke's home today, as is customary on her birthday anniversary, and many of her old friends and her new friends will call today to extend their greetings and their best wishes to her.

St. Anne's P-T Round - Up Work Is Completed

The summer round-up program sponsored by St. Anne's Parent-Teacher unit was completed on Thursday with examination of twenty-five children.

Dr. John Groos conducted the physical examinations, Dr. H. I. Miller, the dental tests, and Miss Gertrude Sheahan, school nurse, and Mrs. Leslie French assisted the doctors. Follow-up work where corrective measures are needed will be taken care of during the summer months in order that all preschool children, entering school for the first time this fall will be free of all physical handicaps which might retard their progress.

The round-up at St. Anne's was in charge of special committees:

Mrs. Joseph Osier, chairman.

Visiting — Mrs. Frank Charbonneau, Mrs. E. L. Beauchamp, Mrs. Med Beaudoin and Mrs. Thomas Tousignant.

Transportation — Mrs. Kenneth Wagenhauser, Mrs. Joseph Peltier and Mrs. Walter Richer.

Registration — Mrs. Thomas Thompson.

Council Members Urged To Attend Meeting May 11

Everyone eligible to membership in the Parent-Teacher Council is urged by Mrs. Arthur Peterson, president, to plan attendance at the special Council meeting which will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Carnegie public library on the occasion of the visit to Escanaba of Mrs. C. E. Roe, national field secretary.

This group includes every officer of all seven units and a special invitation is also extended to all newly elected officers to attend.

The big meeting of Parent-Teacher members and their friends will be held in the evening at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium, Junior high school, and it is expected that several hundred members of the organization will be present. The meeting, the detailed program of which will be announced later, will open with a music program at 7:15 o'clock, followed by a short talk by Mrs. Roe. Music selections will follow, and the program will close with a second talk by Mrs. Roe.

Lucille Gessner In Program at Iron Mountain

Miss Lucille Gessner, young Escanaba woman, who is widely recognized as a talented interpretator of dramatic art, will appear in a program today before members of the Woman's Club of Iron Mountain.

Miss Gessner will be assisted in her program by Mrs. W. H. Summers.

The program which will be given at the Iron Mountain club meeting this afternon, will have as its first part the charming and intensely dramatic Indian group, which, it will be recalled, was given by Miss Gessner at the upper peninsula Federation of Woman's Clubs meeting here a year ago.

This group opens with a piano solo, "The Improvisation," MacDowell, played by Mrs. Summers. Miss Gessner's interpretation of the lovely pathos of the story of "Miantowona," by Thomas Baily Aldrich, will follow. Mrs. Summers will play "From an Indian Lodge," MacDowell, and the closing number of the group is "PowWow," Robert Gessner's story.

The program will continue after an intermission with the following numbers:

"Courting Under Difficulties," a humorous reading.

"Patchwork Quilt," Natalie Whitted Price, a musical reading; piano accompaniment by Mrs. Summers.

Irish monologue, "Och, I Don't Know."

The club meeting is being held at the Iron Mountain Country club.

President Hoover has inaugurated a program so efficient and so vital that it alone stands as a memorial not only to him but also to the wisdom of the public which chose a man capable of accomplishing this stupendous task.
—Ernest Lee Jahncke, assistant secretary of the navy.

BUTTER MAKERS IN COMPETITION

Rapid River and Daggett Entered in the 1933 Scoring Contest

Four Upper Peninsula creameries have enrolled along with thirty-seven creameries in the state in the 1933 Master Buttermakers' Scoring Contest, according to word received from G. Malcolm Trout, Assistant Professor of Dairy Manufacturing of Michigan State College, Mr. Russell E. Horwood stated today. Two additional creameries in the Upper Peninsula have stated their intentions of joining the contest to Mr. Horwood. The six creameries entering the contest are as follows:

Best Brothers Creamery, Iron Mountain.

Crystal Falls Dairy Products Co., Crystal Falls.

Daggett Farmers Coop. Creamery, Daggett.

Rapid River Creamery, Rapid River.

Bessemer Creamery, Bessemer.

Iron River Creamery, Iron River.

The Daggett Farmers Coop. Creamery, Bessemer Creamery and Iron River Creamery are entering the contest for the first time; the other members have taken part in the contest previously.

Praises U. P. Butter

The high rating buttermaker in the contest is the one whose analysis and score of his own regular product is the closest to the official state analysis and score. This contest is expected to be of assistance to the buttermaker in putting out a more uniform quality of product. P. S. Lucas, Associate Professor of Dairy Manufacturing, Michigan State College, and one of the judges stated the samples of butter received from the creameries in the Upper Peninsula ran the most uniform of any of the samples received from forty-eight creameries during the 1932 contest.

It is hoped that additional creameries in the Upper Peninsula will take advantage of this opportunity to improve the dairy products they put out. Creameries may still enter the contest by getting in touch with their county agricultural agent, or writing P. S. Lucas, Mr. Horwood stated.

2 TIRES FOR THE PRICE OF ONE

6 Truck Loads... OR 231,000 SILVER DOLLARS SAVED!!!

Can you picture a parade of six one-ton trucks and four or five wheel barrows loaded down with silver dollars? That's how the 231,000 silver dollars would look that we are saving the north and middle-west on this tire sale—the usual list price would total $462,000—we are selling them for just one-half of that amount—$231,000 is saved this territory for taxes, schools, etc.

THE FIRST TIME IN TIRE HISTORY THAT ONE SOLID TRAINLOAD HAS BEEN SHIPPED TO ONE COMPANY!

50,000 TIRES

A solid trainload shipped to one company—an unheard of thing up to this time—ALL TO BE SOLD AT TWO FOR THE LIST PRICE OF ONE—or less than inner tube prices in 1926.

Last year we bought 30,000 tires— but they went so fast and so many were disappointed that we ordered 50,000 this year... So that there can be no confusing comparisons—no misunderstanding, we have taken ALL THREE LINES—FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD LINE AND ARE SELLING THEM ALL AT TWO FOR THE LIST PRICE OF ONE.

These are NEW TIRES—BRAND NEW—from top to bottom—inside and outside—built within the last 90 days. These prices are low beyond seeming possibilities—but they are not $1.79 tires. Doubtless you have paid $5.00 for lesser quality. The abnormally low price of three and four cent rubber is responsible . . . Every tire in every line is covered with our WRITTEN lifetime guaranty and definite mileage guaranty . . . . We urge you and plead with you to come early . . . 50,000 tires is an enormous quantity—but the popular sizes go fast—especially the lower priced competitive or third line —which are very, very limited.

In fairness to ALL of our customers, we can't take mail orders—or telephone orders—we can't accept money for one single tire until 8 o'clock Saturday morning, May 7th.

Here's the check that started a cyclone of activity. It put 600 men back to work at the factory — 3 eight-hour shifts a day —7 days a week — an enormous number of men were required to produce the raw materials. It made work for railroad employees—train crews, etc. The transportation alone was $14,200. And besides extra men have been hired in many stores to help out for this tremendous sale.

1st LINE TIRES

3.18 EA. 4.40 — 7.65 EA. 6 PLY 6.00/20

Every Pharis Roadgripper tire carries the manufacturers' seal certifying that it is a 1st line tire. They are also covered by Gamble's WRITTEN guaranty for lifetime and a definite mileage, and are selling at less than 1926 inner tube prices.

BUTTER MAKERS IN COMPETITION

Rapid River and Daggett Entered in the 1933 Scoring Contest

Four Upper Peninsula creameries have enrolled along with thirty-seven creameries in the state in the 1933 Master Buttermakers' Scoring Contest, according to word received from G. Malcolm Trout, Assistant Professor of Dairy Manufacturing of Michigan State College, Mr. Russell E. Horwood stated today. Two additional creameries in the Upper Peninsula have stated their intentions of joining the contest to Mr. Horwood. The six creameries entering the contest are as follows:

Best Brothers Creamery, Iron Mountain.

Crystal Falls Dairy Products Co., Crystal Falls.

Daggett Farmers Coop. Creamery, Daggett.

Rapid River Creamery, Rapid River.

Bessemer Creamery, Bessemer.

Iron River Creamery, Iron River.

The Daggett Farmers Coop. Creamery, Bessemer Creamery and Iron River Creamery are entering the contest for the first time; the other members have taken part in the contest previously.

Praises U. P. Butter

The high rating buttermaker in the contest is the one whose analysis and score of his own regular product is the closest to the official state analysis and score. This contest is expected to be of assistance to the buttermaker in putting out a more uniform quality of product. P. S. Lucas, Associate Professor of Dairy Manufacturing, Michigan State College, and one of the judges stated the samples of butter received from the creameries in the Upper Peninsula ran the most uniform of any of the samples received from forty-eight creameries during the 1932 contest.

It is hoped that additional creameries in the Upper Peninsula will take advantage of this opportunity to improve the dairy products they put out. Creameries may still enter the contest by getting in touch with their county agricultural agent, or writing P. S. Lucas, Mr. Horwood stated.

2 TIRES FOR THE PRICE OF ONE

6 Truck Loads... OR 231,000 SILVER DOLLARS SAVED!!!

Can you picture a parade of six one-ton trucks and four or five wheel barrows loaded down with silver dollars? That's how the 231,000 silver dollars would look that we are saving the north and middle-west on this tire sale—the usual list price would total $462,000—we are selling them for just one-half of that amount—$231,000 is saved this territory for taxes, schools, etc.

THE FIRST TIME IN TIRE HISTORY THAT ONE SOLID TRAINLOAD HAS BEEN SHIPPED TO ONE COMPANY!

50,000 TIRES

A solid trainload shipped to one company—an unheard of thing up to this time—ALL TO BE SOLD AT TWO FOR THE LIST PRICE OF ONE—or less than inner tube prices in 1926.

Last year we bought 30,000 tires— but they went so fast and so many were disappointed that we ordered 50,000 this year . . . So that there can be no confusing comparisons—no misunderstanding, we have taken ALL THREE LINES—FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD LINE AND ARE SELLING THEM ALL AT TWO FOR THE LIST PRICE OF ONE.

These are NEW TIRES—BRAND NEW—from top to bottom—inside and outside—built within the last 90 days. These prices are low beyond seeming possibilities—but they are not $1.79 tires. Doubtless you have paid $5.00 for lesser quality. The abnormally low price of three and four cent rubber is responsible . . . Every tire in every line is covered with our WRITTEN lifetime guaranty and definite mileage guaranty . . . . We urge you and plead with you to come early . . . 50,000 tires is an enormous quantity—but the popular sizes go fast—especially the lower priced competitive or third line —which are very, very limited.

In fairness to ALL of our customers, we can't take mail orders—or telephone orders—we can't accept money for one single tire until 8 o'clock Saturday morning, May 7th.

Here's the check that started a cyclone of activity. It put 600 men back to work at the factory — 3 eight-hour shifts a day —7 days a week — an enormous number of men were required to produce the raw materials. It made work for railroad employees—train crews, etc. The transportation alone was $14,200. And besides extra men have been hired in many stores to help out for this tremendous sale.

"Little Theatre" Production Scores Heavily Wednesday

The first offering of the "Little Theatre" was given on Wednesday night in the high school auditorium before a fair-sized audience when Maud Fulton's "The Brat" was used as the medium through which the talent of the club members was evidenced. This three act play, made famous by a long run in New York, was given in an excellent manner. Marguerite Barrett, playing the title part, held the sympathy and interest of her audience all the way through, giving an exhibition of natural ability which has received a fine training in some of the best schools of dramatic art in the country.

Mrs. Barrett received fine support from the other members of the cast. Mrs. Tamblyn as Mrs. Forester, John Stephens, Jr., as her son, an author, were convincing in their portrayal of these characters. Wallace Thorson played the younger son, lovable and overlooked in a family which centered about MacMillan, the author. Pat Taylor as the bishop and Ruth Stephens as his wife were equally good and Virginia Meyers, the naughty little daughter of the clerical home completed this interesting family.

Mrs. Connie Purdy was Angela Smythe and Mrs. Blanche Kalmbach played Jane Depew. Both of these characters were fine. Tomson the butler was done by Dr. M. B. Purdy who in company with Stephen gave a finished production of how gentlemen drink wine. Mrs. Edna Hempkis played Margot, the kindly housekeeper.

The production was directed by J. Lynn McClung, was well werked out, the parts well emphasized, and will stand as one of the most finished productions given here. Russell Young was business manager and Alta Banfield assisted with costumes.

This group of Newberry people organized into a drama club a few weeks ago and decided to give three or four plays each year should their first production meet with the approval of the public. It is hoped to eventually become connected with the Little Theatre Guild, a national organization, and to foster in this community, interest in good plays. A fine sum of cash was realized which will be turned over to the Student Loan Association.

MOTHER'S BANQUET

May 11 has been set as the date for the Mother's Day banquet which is an annual event of the Business and Professional Woman's club. The dinner will be given in the community building at 6:30. Each member is to invite one guest, either her own or some other mother.

The program has not yet been announced but is in the hands of Kathleen Gormely. Anna Hall and Anna Mulvaney will be in charge of the committee preparing and serving the dinner.

HUMAN BONES FOUND

Newberry state police were called to Star Siding on Wednesday to view human bones discovered by Homer Graham, a woodsman living at Shingleton. Mr. Graham, who has a job in the locality, found the skeleton as he was walking through the woods. Officers state that the evidence appears to be that the person was killed by the falling of a tree and that the death must have happened several years ago. Sheriff Runset and a coroner from Munising are now in charge of the investigation.

COMFORT for COLICKY BABIES

. . . THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open free from waste. But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

BAD GEOGRAPHY

Houston, Tex. Federal Judge Randolph Bryant was questioning W. O. Bell, charged with transportation and possession of liquor. "Have you a job?" "Yes, sir," Bell answered. "I work in my father-in-law's store in Van Alstyne." "Where's it located?" shot back the judge. "Right across the square from the courthouse," averred Bell. "Ninety days and $200!" pronounced Judge Bryant. "There isn't any courthouse in Van Alstyne." The judge, it seems, lives in Van Alstyne.

John Speare, Ironowod, graduate of the Northern State Teachers College of Marquette, has been elected to a position in the English department of the Gladstone high school for next year, to succeed Miss Bernita Danielson, whose contract was returned unsigned, it was revealed yesterday when the faculty list for next year was released by Supt. A. R. Watson. Transfer of Miss Aily Nuttila from a first grade teaching position in the First Ward school to the Girls' Physical Education Department to succeed Miss Elsa Haller, who also declined a contract for another year, was the only other change made in the faculty. The position made vacant by the transfer of Miss Nuttila will be eliminated.

Two members of the teaching staff who were chosen during the present year to fill vacancies due to resignations were given contracts for the coming year. Wesley Gustafson, Marquette, who was recently placed in the English department to replace Miss Helen N. Davis, and Edith Lindberg, Gladstone, who succeeded Miss Angeline Anderson as teacher of the fourth grade in the Central school are listed as members of the staff for next year.

The elimination of one of the first grade positions in the First Ward school, Supt. Watson states, will result in a saving to the school district of $1,500. A further saving of $3,750.00 was effected by a graduated reduction in teachers' salaries at the time the contracts were mailed out.

The complete faculty list for next year follows:

Senior Ball Tonight At High School Gym

Streamers of rose and white have been artistically arranged to transform the high school gymnasium to a colorful setting for the Senior Ball which is to be held tonight. Opening with a reception from 8:45 to 9:00 o'clock, the ball promises to surpass any like event of previous years.

The Wolverine's, an Escanaba orchestra, will provide the music, to which members of the Senior Class, the undergraduates and alumni, and friends invited by them will dance. No others than these will be admitted to the floor and the doors will close immediately after the reception.

The Grand March, which is the sixth number of the program, will be led by Jack Staple, Senior Class president, and his guest. William Larson, president of the Junior Class, with his guest, will be second in line.

Supt. and Mrs. A. R. Watson, Principal and Mrs. C. C. Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Staple, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. John Murdock, have been selected as patrons and patronesses by members of the Senior Class.

CITY BRIEFS

Mrs. Frances Blabaum, who has been visiting here with relatives and friends, returned yesterday to her home in Rhinelander.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith are spending the day at Newberry. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lancaster will return with them and will be guests at the Smith home over the week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. P. L. Barackman arrived Wednesday from Chicago Heights, Ill., for an extended visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Mauritz Brink.

Mrs. John Johnson, Neenah, who has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Hanson, returned Tuesday from Marquette where she visited over the week-end.

Miss Gladys Newman has returned to Chicago after visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newman.

Wm. H. Bainter, coach, and Regina Formoe, Gladstone's entrant in the Upper Peninsula declamation contest will leave today for Ishpeming where the contest is to be held tonight. Miss Formoe will deliver "The Lost Word," a declamation by Van Dyke.

Rev. C. E. Olsson, Otto Dahlbeck and Mrs. John A. Olson left yesterday for Ishpeming to attend the Superior Conference of Lutheran churches. The conference opened yesterday and will continue until Sunday night.

Mrs. B. D. Kuhn and daughter, Joyce, arrived yesterday afternoon from Menominee to spend the week-end at the home of Mrs. Kuhn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Skellenger.

Leroy Cabillot arrived Wednesday morning from Duluth and will visit for a week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Kinmond.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Kinmond and daughter, Margaret, have returned from St. John, Michigan, where they visited for several days at the home of Mr. Kinmond's sister, Mrs. R. P. Canning.

Mrs. John A. Olson and children left yesterday for Ishpeming and will visit for several days at the home of Mrs. Olson's mother, Mrs. Eli Olson. While here Mrs. Olson will attend the Superior Conference as a delegate from the Women's Missionary society of the First Lutheran church.

Registration Slow In The Second Ward

Voters of the Second Ward are slow to register under the new state law which provides for re-registration of all electors, according to F. R. Buechner, City Manager. Mr. Buechner states that not more than half of the electors of the Ward have appeared so far this week to have their names permanently enrolled on the voting lists of the city.

Today and Saturday will be the last opportunity for the special registration of voters in this ward, Mr. Buechner states. Voters should know, he added, that unless they have re-registered in accordance with the law, they will not be permitted to vote at the September primary or at succeeding elections.

The special arrangement for registration was made for the convenience of the voters. Under the new law, registration is not the simple procedure of previous years and a great deal of time is required by the registrar in recording the qualification data that must accompany each registration. For this reason it is imperative that so many as possible have their registration completed at once.

Rotarians Go To Manistique Monday Night

Members of the Gladstone Rotary club and their Rotary Anns will go to Manistique Monday night to be guests of the Manistique club at an inter-city meeting. A dinner at 6:45, to be followed by a brief progam and dancing is planned.

A similar inter-city meeting of the two clubs was held at Gladstone several weeks ago.

THEATRES

"Play Girl," the Warner Bros and Vitaphone production featuring Loretta Young, is drawing enthusiastic crowds to the Rialto Theatre, where it opened yesterday. The sensational story is that of the adventures in love and marriage of a clerk in a big department store and a dashing young gambler who hides his means of livelihood until he has won the girl.

MAIL EARLY

Early mailing of Mother's Day gifts or cards, or the use of special delivery stamps to insure delivery on that day, was suggested yesterday by Postmaster F. A. Miller. The Saturday half holiday of mail carriers in cities and the fact that no mail is delivered on Sunday will occasion belated delivery unless special delivery stamps are used.

SCHOOL GROUPS IN MUSIC FETE

Rapid Progress Made in This Department in Past Seven Years

Various organizations of the Gladstone high school music department, including the Boys' Glee club, Girls' Glee club, orchestra, band, drum and bugle corps and the mixed chorus, will appear Saturday in the William Oliver Memorial auditorium at the Escanaba Junior high school in a district music festival which will mark the closing of National Music Week activities in this locality.

Under the direction and supervision of R. N. Haskins, the music department has made rapid strides this year. Emphasis is being laid on developing the instrumentation of the band as well as playing a much more advanced type of music. Emphasis is being laid on developing the string section of the orchestra both in instrumentation and in numbers. To accomplish this, instrumental instruction classes emphasizing mostly string instruments were started at the beginning of the year and the classes have proven to to be a success, acting as a feeder to the orchestra.

> FESTIVAL TICKETS
> Arrangements have been made for the sale of Music Festival tickets at Dehlin's drug store, for the convenience of Gladstone persons, it was announced yesterday. A limited number of seats have been reserved for Gladstone for the afternoon and evening programs.
> Those who desire to attend the festival are advised that they should secure their seats immediately to avoid possible disappointment.

Gladstone high school now boasts of a good forty piece band, fully uniformed even to a snappy drum major. Working hand in hand with the band on parade or street work or in drill formation on the football field is a snappy all girls drum and bugle corps that has lately been augmented to 20 pieces. The corps is fully uniformed in white and the band and corps together make a very attractive group with their purple and white uniforms. The girls drum and bugle corps is the only one of its kind in Upper Michigan and perhaps the only high school drum and bugle corps in this section of the country. This year the band and corps have played Sousa's "Semper Fidelis" together and it makes a very effective combination.

Other Groups

The high school orchestra numbers about 30 members—new members are being added on at various times. A selected assembly orchestra plays at numerous school and community affairs and have met with much success wherever they have played.

Other smaller instrumental groups are string quartet, brass quartet, clarinet quartet, string ensemble, and string trio. The string quartet although organized only a month ago have already met with considerable success, and its members have shown unusual ability in this sort of instrumental work. The brass sextet like the string quartet has only been organized a short time. The brass quartet and clarinet quartet only recently organized will make their initial appearance soon. The string trio has played at numerous school and community affairs and has been enthusiastically received.

The vocal groups include boys and girls glee clubs and mixed chorus. A selected boys and girls glee club is picked each year from a large group who enroll for this sort of work. A select mixed chorus is also picked the same way. The mixed chorus usually included the combined boys and girls glee clubs with several additional members. The boys and girls glee clubs as well as the mixed chorus have appeared on several programs throughout the year.

History of Department

Seven years ago back in 1925 the music activity in Gladstone high school consisted merely of vocal groups; boys and girls glee clubs and mixed chorus.

Although there were several students who could play musical instruments, instrumental music was not emphasized. Those who could play instruments were brought together at various times to play for a few school functions and community affairs.

There was always vocal work carried on in the school, but it was not until 1925-26 that these groups began to come to the front as an organized glee club or chorus. These groups were under the direction of Miss Nellie Althans.

The boys and girls glee clubs had a very successful year in 1926. Besides appearing on numerous school and community programs, the girls' glee club put on an operetta entitled "The Feast of the Red Corn," and the boys put on a one-act play entitled "Freshies." A double quartet was sent from the girls' glee club to the music contest at Marquette and won third place. A mixed chorus composed of girls and boys double quartets also won third place at the contest.

Progress Shown

The year 1926-27 marked the beginning of instrumental work in Gladstone high school. An orchestra of about 20 members was organized and directed by P. J. Murphy. The orchestra progressed rapidly despite the fact that most of its members were inexperienced and they had a very successful year playing for different school and community programs. A violin quartet was organized at the beginning of the year and met with success wherever they appeared on numerous programs. This year also marked Gladstone's entrance into instrumental competition when they competed in the music contest held at Marquette and won first place in 1926.

In the year 1926-27, Van Knebes, a graduate of Northern State Teachers College came to Gladstone to direct music. It was in this year that the music department found its real beginning and music began to take its place in the school system as an organized extra-curricular activity. Under the able direction of Mr. Knebes, the various musical organizations were built up considerably. The orchestra, glee clubs, and chorus made rapid strides and students were being trained for band work. Band instruments were bought and some were rented—the school provided the larger and more expensive instruments. In the spring of 1927, the band made its first appearance and thus the Gladstone high school band was underway. The band developed rapidly and in the year 1927-28 they were playing for football and basketball games and at numerous school and community affairs. The membership increased gradually and new instruments were being added. In the year 1928-29, purple and white uniforms were purchased for the band which made a very neat appearing organization and did much to add to the spirit of the band. During this time the orchestra was built up until it numbered about 30 members.

The boys and girls glee clubs improved each year. Every year the glee clubs put on some sort of an operetta. In the years 27-28-29, the orchestra, glee clubs, chorus, and instrumental ensemble went to the music contests held at Marquette and always carried away some honors. In 1929, the orchestra took first place in class C at the contest in Marquette and the girls glee club also took first honors in their class the same year.

After three years under the able direction of Mr. Knebes, the music organizations in Gladstone high school consisted of a 30 piece orchestra, a 30 piece band, instrumental ensemble, girls and boys glee clubs, and mixed chorus. The music department was now on its way to bigger and better things. Mr. Knebes deserves much credit for his work in Gladstone high school and it was with much regret that he moved to take up a position in Owosso, Michigan.

In the fall of 1929, Mr. Williams, a graduate of Maryville State Teachers College and Maryville University came to Gladstone to take up the work where Mr. Knebes left off. With the cooperation of the school board a grade school orchestra was started in the fall of 1930 and was a very successful venture in bringing out new material for the senior orchestra. With the development of the various music organizations, they were sent out to compete in the music contest held in Iron Mountain in the spring of 1930. Gladstone won the championship of the Upper Peninsula in class B in that year. First prize at the contest was given to woodwind ensemble, girls glee club, orchestra, and strin gensemble. Second place was given to the brass ensemble.

By the year 1931 the music department was outstanding in Gladstone high school activities. Gladstone, although not as large as some schools could boast of a wide variety of music activity. The music department was made still more outstanding when an all girls drum and bugle corps was organized. The corps consisted of nine buglers, eight drummers, one bass drummer, and one cymbal player. The corps proved a very valuable addition to the band on parade and street work and the band and corps together made a very attractive organization. In the year 1930-31, the glee clubs presented the operetta "Windmills of Holland" which was well received.

After two years of creditable work Mr. Williams left Gladstone high school to accept a position in Milwaukee and Mr. R. N. Haskins stepped in to carry on the work that was started and to build up a bigger and better music department.

Father of Local Women Dies At Home in Gwinn

Samuel Garrett, 79, father of Sadie and Alice Garrett, of Gladstone, died Wednesday morning at his home at Gwinn following a brief illness. The Misses Garrett were summoned home early Wednesday morning and reached his bedside just as he died.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday morning at nine o'clock from St. Anthony's church, Rev. Fr. Carl Petranek officiating, and burial will be made in the Gwinn cemetery.

Mr. Garrett was born at Owen Sound, Canada, July 9, 1853, and come to the Swanzey range country in early youth. For 42 years he lived in that mining district, for the greater part of which time he was employed as a carpenter for the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company. A few years ago he was pensioned and since that time has lived in retirement at Gwinn.

Besides the two daughters who live in Gladstone, he is survived by his wife, Johanna, one son, Clarence, and four daughters, Mrs. Robert Seyter, Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Wm. Murphy, Chicago, and Mrs. Wm. Lund and Mrs. Louis Tousignant, of Gwinn.

Fourth Water Main Lowered Yesterday

For the fourth time since starting construction of the trunk sewer in Montana avenue and Eleventh street, the city was required to lower a water main which was found to be on the level of the sewer, yesterday. This water main was laid in the alley between Dakota and Montana avenues, crossing Eleventh street.

City engineers express the belief that this will be the last main that will interfere with the sewer construction, since the depth of the sewer from this point to Delta avenue will be greater than is usual in laying the water mains.

Trenching for the sewer on Eleventh street is progressing more rapidly than it did on Montana avenue, and already a block of trench has been opened up. Laying of pipe is proceeding with equal rapidity and at the present rate, completion of the sewer is looked for before the close of the month.

Eb. Peterson is spending the week-end in Newberry visiting with friends.

"Little Theatre" Production Scores Heavily Wednesday

The first offering of the "Little Theatre" was given on Wednesday night in the high school auditorium before a fair-sized audience when Maud Fulton's "The Brat" was used as the medium through which the talent of the club members was evidenced. This three act play, made famous by a long run in New York, was given in an excellent manner. Marguerite Barrett, playing the title part, held the sympathy and interest of her audience all the way through, giving an exhibition of natural ability which has received a fine training in some of the best schools of dramatic art in the country.

Mrs. Barrett received fine support from the other members of the cast. Mrs. Tamblyn as Mrs. Forester, John Stephens, Jr., as her son, an author, were convincing in their portrayal of these characters. Wallace Thorson played the younger son, lovable and overlooked in a family which centered about MacMillan, the author. Pat Taylor as the bishop and Ruth Stephens as his wife were equally good and Virginia Meyers, the naughty little daughter of the clerical home completed this interesting family.

Mrs. Connie Purdy was Angela Smythe and Mrs. Blanche Kalmbach played Jane Depew. Both of these characters were fine. Tomson the butler was done by Dr. M. B. Purdy who in company with Stephen gave a finished production of how gentlemen drink wine. Mrs. Edna Hempkis played Margot, the kindly housekeeper.

The production was directed by J. Lynn McClung, was well worked out, the parts well emphasized, and will stand as one of the most finished productions given here. Russell Young was business manager and Alta Banfield assisted with costumes.

This group of Newberry people organized into a drama club a few weeks ago and decided to give three or four plays each year should their first production meet with the approval of the public. It is hoped to eventually become connected with the Little Theatre Guild, a national organization, and to foster in this community, interest in good plays. A fine sum of cash was realized which will be turned over to the Student Loan Association.

MOTHER'S BANQUET

May 11 has been set as the date for the Mother's Day banquet which is an annual event of the Business and Professional Woman's club. The dinner will be given in the community building at 6:30. Each member is to invite one guest, either her own or some other mother.

The program has not yet been announced but is in the hands of Kathleen Gormely. Anna Hall and Anna Mulvaney will be in charge of the committee preparing and serving the dinner.

HUMAN BONES FOUND

Newberry state police were called to Star Siding on Wednesday to view human bones discovered by Homer Graham, a woodsman living at Shingleton. Mr. Graham, who has a job in the locality, found the skeleton as he was walking through the woods. Officers state that the evidence appears to be that the person was killed by the falling of a tree and that the death must have happened several years ago. Sheriff Runset and a coroner from Munising are now in charge of the investigation.

COMFORT for COLICKY BABIES

. . . THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

BAD GEOGRAPHY

Houston, Tex.—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant was questioning W. O. Bell, charged with transportation and possession of liquor. "Have you a job?" "Yes, sir," Bell answered. "I work in my father-in-law's store in Van Alstyne." "Where's it located?" shot back the judge. "Right across the square from the courthouse," averred Bell. "Ninety days and $200!" pronounced Judge Bryant. "There isn't any courthouse in Van Alstyne." The judge, it seems, lives in Van Alstyne.

Faculty Changes Few for Next Year; One Position Eliminated

John Speare, Ironowod, graduate of the Northern State Teachers College of Marquette, has been elected to a position in the English department of the Gladstone high school for next year, to succeed Miss Bernita Danielson, whose contract was returned unsigned, it was revealed yesterday when the faculty list for next year was released by Supt. A. R. Watson. Transfer of Miss Aily Nuttila from a first grade teaching position in the First Ward school to the Girls' Physical Education Department to succeed Miss Elsa Haller, who also declined a contract for another year, was the only other change made in the faculty. The position made vacant by the transfer of Miss Nuttila will be eliminated.

Two members of the teaching staff who were chosen during the present year to fill vacancies due to resignations were given contracts for the coming year. Wesley Gustafson, Marquette, who was recently placed in the English department to replace Miss Helen N. Davis, and Edith Lindberg, Gladstone, who succeeded Miss Angeline Anderson as teacher of the fourth grade in the Central school are listed as members of the staff for next year.

The elimination of one of the first grade positions in the First Ward school, Supt. Watson states, will result in a saving to the school district of $1,500. A further saving of $3,750.00 was effected by a graduated reduction in teachers' salaries at the time the contracts were mailed out.

The complete faculty list for next year follows:

Senior Ball Tonight At High School Gym

Streamers of rose and white have been artistically arranged to transform the high school gymnasium to a colorful setting for the Senior Ball which is to be held tonight. Opening with a reception from 8:45 to 9:00 o'clock, the ball promises to surpass any like event of previous years.

The Wolverine's, an Escanaba orchestra, will provide the music, to which members of the Senior Class, the undergraduates and alumni, and friends invited by them will dance. No others than these will be admitted to the floor and the doors will close immediately after the reception.

The Grand March, which is the sixth number of the program, will be led by Jack Staple, Senior Class president, and his guest, William Larson, president of the Junior Class, with his guest, will be second in line.

Supt. and Mrs. A. R. Watson, Principal and Mrs. C. C. Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Staple, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. John Murdock have been selected as patrons and patronesses by members of the Senior Class.

Registration Slow In The Second Ward

Voters of the Second Ward are slow to register under the new state law which provides for re-registration of all electors, according to F. R. Buechner, City Manager. Mr. Buechner states that not more than half of the electors of the Ward have appeared so far this week to have their names permanently enrolled on the voting lists of the city.

Today and Saturday will be the last opportunity for the special registration of voters in this ward, Mr. Buechner states. Voters should know, he added, that unless they have re-registered in accordance with the law, they will not be permitted to vote at the September primary or at succeeding elections.

The special arrangement for registration was made for the convenience of the voters. Under the new law, registration is not the simple procedure of previous years and a great deal of time is required by the registrar in recording the qualification data that must accompany each registration. For this reason it is imperative that so many as possible have their registration completed at once.

Rotarians Go To Manistique Monday Night

Members of the Gladstone Rotary club and their Rotary Anns will go to Manistique Monday night to be guests of the Manistique club at an inter-city meeting. A dinner at 6:45, to be followed by a brief program and dancing is planned.

A similar inter-city meeting of the two clubs was held at Gladstone several weeks ago.

THEATRES

"Play Girl," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production featuring Loretta Young, is drawing enthusiastic crowds to the Rialto Theatre, where it opened yesterday. The sensational story is that of the adventures in love and marriage of a clerk in a big department store and a dashing young gambler who hides his means of livelihood until he has won the girl.

MAIL EARLY

Early mailing of Mother's Day gifts or cards, or the use of special delivery stamps to insure delivery on that day, was suggested yesterday by Postmaster F. A. Miller. The Saturday half holiday of mail carriers in cities and the fact that no mail is delivered on Sunday will occasion belated delivery unless special delivery stamps are used.

SCHOOL GROUPS IN MUSIC FETE

Rapid Progress Made in This Department in Past Seven Years

Various organizations of the Gladstone high school music department, including the Boys' Glee club, Girls' Glee club, orchestra, band, drum and bugle corps and the mixed chorus, will appear Saturday in the William Oliver Memorial auditorium at the Escanaba Junior high school in a district music festival which will mark the closing of National Music Week activities in this locality.

Under the direction and supervision of R. N. Haskins, the music department has made rapid strides this year. Emphasis is being laid on developing the instrumentation of the band as well as playing a much more advanced type of music. Emphasis is being laid on developing the string section of the orchestra both in instrumentation and in numbers. To accomplish this, instrumental instruction classes emphasizing mostly string instruments were started at the beginning of the year and the classes have proven to to be a success, acting as a feeder to the orchestra.

Gladstone high school now boasts of a good forty piece band, fully uniformed even to a snappy drum major. Working hand in hand with the band on parade or street work or in drill formation on the football field is a snappy all girls drum and bugle corps that has lately been augmented to 20 pieces. The corps is fully uniformed in white and the band and corps together make a very attractive group with their purple and white uniforms. The girls drum and bugle corps is the only one of its kind in Upper Michigan and perhaps the only high school drum and bugle corps in this section of the country. This year the band and corps have played Sousa's "Semper Fidelis" together and it makes a very effective combination.

Other Groups

The high school orchestra numbers about 30 members—new members are being added on at various times. A selected assembly orchestra plays at numerous school and community affairs and have met with much success wherever they have played.

Other smaller instrumental groups are string quartet, brass quartet, clarinet quartet, string ensemble, and string trio. The string quartet although organized only a month ago have already met with considerable success, and its members have shown unusual ability in this sort of instrumental work. The brass sextet like the string quartet has only been organized a short time. The brass quartet and clarinet quartet only recently organized will make their initial appearance soon. The string trio has played at numerous school and community affairs and has been enthusiastically received.

The vocal groups include boys and girls glee clubs and mixed chorus. A selected boys and girls glee club is picked each year from a large group who enroll for this sort of work. A select mixed chorus is also picked the same way. The mixed chorus usually included the combined boys and girls glee clubs with several additional members. The boys and girls glee clubs as well as the mixed chorus have appeared on several programs throughout the year.

History of Department

Seven years ago back in 1925 the music activity in Gladstone high school consisted merely of vocal groups; boys and girls glee clubs and mixed chorus.

Although there were several students who could play musical instruments, instrumental music was not emphasized. Those who could play instruments were brought together at various times to play for a few school functions and community affairs.

There was always vocal work carried on in the school, but it was not until 1925-26 that these groups began to come to the front as an organized glee club or chorus. These groups were under the direction of Miss Nellie Althans.

The boys and girls glee clubs had a very successful year in 1926. Besides appearing on numerous school and community programs, the girls' glee club put on an operetta entitled "The Feast of the Red Corn," and the boys put on a one-act play entitled "Freshies." A double quartet was sent from the girls' glee club to the music contest at Marquette and won third place. A mixed chorus composed of girls and boys double quartets also won third place at the contest.

Progress Shown

The year 1926-27 marked the beginning of instrumental work in Gladstone high school. An orchestra of about 20 members was organized and directed by P. J. Murphy. The orchestra progressed rapidly despite the fact that most of its members were inexperienced and they had a very successful year playing for different school and community programs. A violin quartet was organized at the beginning of the year and met with success wherever they appeared on numerous programs. This year also marked Gladstone's entrance into instrumental competition when they competed in the music contest held at Marquette and won first place in 1926.

In the year 1926-27, Van Knebes, a graduate of Northern State Teachers College came to Gladstone to direct music. It was in this year that the music department found its real beginning and music began to take its place in the school system as an organized extra-curricular activity. Under the able direction of Mr. Knebes, the various musical organizations were built up considerably. The orchestra, glee clubs, and chorus made rapid strides and students were being trained for band work. Band instruments were bought and some were rented—the school provided the larger and more expensive instruments. In the spring of 1927, the band made its first appearance and thus the Gladstone high school band was underway. The band developed rapidly and in the year 1927-28 they were playing for football and basketball games and at numerous school and community affairs. The membership increased gradually and new instruments were being added. In the year 1928-29, purple and white uniforms were purchased for the band which made a very neat appearing organization and did much to add to the spirit of the band. During this time the orchestra was built up until it numbered about 30 members.

The boys and girls glee clubs improved each year. Every year the glee clubs put on some sort of an operetta. In the years 27-28-29, the orchestra, glee clubs, chorus, and instrumental ensemble went to the music contests held at Marquette and always carried away some honors. In 1929, the orchestra took first place in class C at the contest in Marquette and the girls glee club also took first honors in their class the same year.

After three years under the able direction of Mr. Knebes, the music organizations in Gladstone high school consisted of a 30 piece orchestra, a 30 piece band, instrumental ensemble, girls and boys glee clubs, and mixed chorus. The music department was now on its way to bigger and bette rthings. Mr. Knebes deserves much credit for his work in Gladstone high school and it was with much regret that he moved to take up a position in Owosso, Michigan.

In the fall of 1929, Mr. Williams, a graduate of Maryville State Teachers College and Maryville University came to Gladstone to take up the work where Mr. Knebes left off. With the co-operation of the school board a grade school orchestra was started in the fall of 1930 and was a very successful venture in bringing out new material for the senior orchestra. With the development of the various music organizations, they were sent out to compete in the music contest held in Iron Mountain in the spring of 1930. Gladstone won the championship of the Upper Peninsula in class B in that year. First prize at the contest was given to woodwind ensemble, girls glee club, orchestra, and strin gensemble. Second place was given to the brass ensemble.

By the year 1931 the music department was outstanding in Gladstone high school activities. Gladstone, although not as large as some schools could boast of a wide variety of music activity. The music department was made still more outstanding when an all girls drum and bugle corps was organized. The corps consisted of nine buglers, eight drummers, one bass drummer, and one cymbal player. The corps proved a very valuable addition to the band on parade and street work and the band and corps together made a very attractive organization. In the year 1930-31, the glee clubs presented the operetta "Windmills of Holland" which was well received.

After two years of creditable work Mr. Williams left Gladstone high school to accept a position in Milwaukee and Mr. R. N. Haskins stepped in to carry on the work that was started and to build up a bigger and better music department.

FESTIVAL TICKETS

Arrangements have been made for the sale of Music Festival tickets at Dehlin's drug store, for the convenience of Gladstone persons, it was announced yesterday. A limited number of seats have been reserved for Gladstone for the afternoon and evening programs.

Those who desire to attend the festival are advised that they should secure their seats immediately to avoid possible disappointment.

Father of Local Women Dies At Home in Gwinn

Samuel Garrett, 79, father of Sadie and Alice Garrett, of Gladstone, died Wednesday morning at his home at Gwinn following a brief illness. The Misses Garrett were summoned home early Wednesday morning and reached his bedside just as he died.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday morning at nine o'clock from St. Anthony's church, Rev. Fr. Carl Petranek officiating, and burial will be made in the Gwinn cemetery.

Mr. Garrett was born at Owen Sound, Canada, July 9, 1853, and come to the Swanzey range country in early youth. For 42 years he lived in that mining district, for the greater part of which time he was employed as a carpenter for the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company. A few years ago he was pensioned and since that time has lived in retirement at Gwinn.

Besides the two daughters who live in Gladstone, he is survived by his wife, Johanna, one son, Clarence, and four daughters, Mrs. Robert Seyter, Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Wm. Murphy, Chicago, and Mrs. Wm. Lund and Mrs. Louis Tousignant, of Gwinn.

Fourth Water Main Lowered Yesterday

For the fourth time since starting construction of the trunk sewer in Montana avenue and Eleventh street, the city was required to lower a water main which was found to be on the level of the sewer, yesterday. This water main was laid in the alley between Dakota and Montana avenues, crossing Eleventh street.

City engineers express the belief that this will be the last main that will interfere with the sewer construction, since the depth of the sewer from this point to Delta avenue will be greater than is usual in laying the water mains.

Trenching for the sewer on Eleventh street is progressing more rapidly than it did on Montana avenue, and already a block of trench has been opened up. Laying of pipe is proceeding with equal rapidity and at the present rate, completion of the sewer is looked for before the close of the month.

Eb. Peterson is spending the week-end in Newberry visiting with friends.

Women Of Munising Planning Project Of Reforestation

The Business and Professional Women's club of Munising decided at their regular meeting last Monday night to plant a Washington Bicentennial Memorial Forest on the Hiawatha National Forest, south of Munising.

This will be a forty acre project and will be planted by the cooperation of the U. S. Forest Service. By agreement between the forest officials and a committee appointed from the club, the land and trees will be furnished by the Forest Service, the club will furnish the labor for the planting of the trees and for the necessary ground preparation.

The club, being made up of some thirty women engaged in business or a profession, decided they would get the money by putting over a campaign locally and in the neighboring towns and communities. The slogan for this campaign is "one cent will plant three trees," and they will ask that anyone interested to have three or more trees planted in this memorial forest can attain their aspirations by sending their remittances to the committee chairman, Elizabeth Strandness of Munising, Michigan.

This forest will be planted the latter part of September and dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. A sign telling what the women are doing toward reforesting the denuded lands of Upper Michigan will be erected on the area and will be unveiled at the dedication.

MOTHERS DAY PLAY AT H. S.

Public Invited To See One Act Comedy at Auditorium Today

Students of the English department, under the direction of Miss Ida Stenstrom, will present a fine one-act comedy at the high school auditorium this afternoon entitled, "Mother's Day." The public is cordially invited to attend the entertainment which will begin at 2:30 p. m.

The story of the play concerns Mother who is busy from morning until night and always finds time to do something more. Instead of helping, the family makes more work for her.

They plan an automobile trip for Mother's Day anywhere Mother wishes to go; it's her day and they want her to celebrate it as she likes. But when she suggests going to visit her sister who is ill, they all object because they think that they wouldn't get any pleasure out of it.

Father would rather go somewhere to fish, so Mother gives up her trip to please father. She would like to take a neighbor woman along on the fishing trip, but Gladys wants to take along a friend because going away with just the family is not any fun for her.

So Mother again abandons her wish and Gladys has her way. The only thing Mother has to do is prepare the lunch for them to enjoy.

Musical Numbers

Students in the cast are Helen Cayia, Boyd Bolitho, Patrice Doyle, John Ott, Donald McPhail, Evelyn Grosa, and Marguerite LaFave. Little Miss June Schatzman will take the part of the baby.

An additional attraction on the program will be the glee clubs under the direction of Miss Helene Hulbert which will sing some of the numbers to be sung at the music festival at Escanaba tomorrow. Other musical numbers will include several vibra harp selections by Henrietta and Bernice Hoholik and a vocal solo by Russell Bender.

Starts Fire In Forest; Gets 3 Day Jail Term

Charles A. Baker pleaded guilty in justice court yesterday morning to a charge of negligently and carelessly setting fire to certain combustible materials without a permit from the conservation department. Baker was sentenced to three days in the county jail. The complaint was made by George Ferrari of the United States Forest Service.

Facts brought out in the case showed that Baker started the fire without malicious intent. The fire was made within the boundaries of the Hiawatha National forest.

Nursing Committee, Poor Board in Joint Meeting Wednesday

Stroke Is Fatal To George Bixby

George Bixby, 79, caretaker of Paul Bunyan's camp at Blaney Park for the past several years, passed away suddenly Wednesday morning following an apopletic stroke. His death occurred at Owosso Camp near Blaney.

The remains were shipped yesterday to the home of the daughter of the deceased, Mrs. Frank Schofield, at Owosso, Mich., where funeral services are expected to be held today or tomorrow. The body was prepared for burial by Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians.

Diplomas Are Pocket Size

Cleveland (AP)—"Pocket size" diplomas are to be awarded seniors in East Technical high school, Cleveland, this year instead of the traditional sheepskin that usually finds its way to a trunk in the attic.

The new diplomas are small enough to fit into a small leather case and may be carried by the graduate when he goes on a job-hunting expedition.

Kelly to Direct Sports Program At Summer Camp

John W. Kelly, member of the Manistique high school faculty and well known upper peninsula basketball and football official, will have charge of athletics at the Citizens' Military Training Camp to be held at Fort Brady this coming summer. He will be assisted by several Fort Brady officers.

Baseball, boxing, swimming, rifle meets, track and field competitions will be among the events on the sports program at the camp.

Trainees at Fort Brady will see a different arrangement of camp equipment this year. There are now two new mess kitchens and the reserve officers are to have a building of their own.

Two new kitchens costing about $5,000 have been added to the camp at the west end of the Fort parade grounds.

The kitchens are 51 by 60 feet, each seating about 225 men. They are divided into two parts with a mess hall and dining room on each wing of the building and the kitchen and supply department in the middle.

The 404th reserve officers infantry with headquarters at Eau Claire, Wis., will take over the training of the entire battalion here this year. The officers will be housed in a new officers' mess hall which is being built near the officers' tent area.

Two companies of infantry, one machine gun company and a band company will comprise the camp. Forty boys have been ordered here to supplement the 21-piece Fort Brady band. Sergeant W. H. Davis, conductor of the Fort Brady band will have charge of the C. M. T. C. band.

Get-together Party

Wednesday evening, in the basement of St. Alban's Episcopal Mission, twenty-five members of the church gathered together for a social evening. Pot luck refreshments started the party at 6:15 o'clock. A 'Boner' question and answer game under the direction of Fred Hicks was played following the supper. Then songs were sung and the rest of the evening spent in social chatter.

Transportation for H. S. Students Made

Transportation for the hundred or more high school students who will participate in the Music Festival to be held at Escanaba tomorrow afternoon and evening has been arranged, according to a statement made by school officials. Students will make the trip by busses which have been chartered for the occasion.

Adults and others having cars who can accomodate persons who desire to make the trip, are urged to communicate with high school officials or teachers. Also persons who have no means of transportation are urged to do the same in order that proper accomodations may be effected. Indications point to a large number of Manistique people who will attend the event. Tickets may be procured at the office of R. H. Wilson, high school principal.

Local Delegates to Attend Conference

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Victorsen and Miss Elsie Soderback, local delegates of the Zion Lutheran church to the Superior Conference at Ishpeming, left yesterday morning. The conference began yesterday and continues through Monday of next week.

Mr. Victorsen is a delegate of the church, Mrs. Victorsen is a delegate of the Ladies' Mission society, and Miss Soderbeck will represent the Junior Mission band. The party will return to Manistique Sunday evening.

CHILD EXPERT TO SPEAK HERE

Lydia Ann Lynde to Talk On Care of Children At Two Meetings

Arrangements have been made with the Home Economics Department of Michigan State College for the services of Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde, specialist in Child Care and Training, for a series of meetings in Schoolcraft county on May 13th and 20th.

The subject of her two meeting project is entitled, "Meeting Your Child's Problems." It will be an excursion into the field of the new psychology of childhood and a study of personality adjustments in the home with the aim of solving some of the common problems of childhood. Before and after the meetings, Mrs. Lynde will offer an opportunity for fathers and mothers to confer with her over their individual problems. Those who wish to make detailed studies of some problem may do so under her direction.

Some of the problems which will come under her discussion will be: getting ready on time; exaggerating and lying; the little child and profanity; children who contradict; carelessness and forgetfulness; thumb sucking and nail biting; stubbornness and determination; arguing and quarreling; getting chores done; day dreaming; adolescent independence; teasing; thieving; and fighting.

Mrs. Lynde is especially fitted for this work through her training and experience. She is a graduate and has the Master of Science degree from Purdue University and has studied in the graduate schools of Indiana University and the Universities of Minnesota and California. In 1927-28 as National Fellow in Child Development under the Laura Spellman Rockefeller Memorial Fund she spent eleven months studying the problems of childhood. She has had many years as a home-maker and mother of two sons who are now eleven and fourteen years old.

As a teacher of Home Economics in Indianapolis schools she worked with under-privileged, undernourished and problem children and helped many children and their parents happily work out their difficulties. When asked how she happened to go into this work she replied, "I need all the knowledge I can get to help my boys along. I found other mothers wanting help so I am studying and passing along."

For two and a half years Mrs. Lynde has been meeting with parents in this state and helping them understand and work out the little difficulties in their homes. It is so often the little everyday troubles that come into the lives of our children that mar and warp their personalities and make the home life harder. If parents knew and understood how these came about and just what to do much unhappiness could be avoided.

Meetings have been arranged by Miss Emma Johnson, county nurse at two points in the county. An afternoon and an evening meeting will be held on May 13th. The afternoon meeting will be held at the Inwood Consolidated school at 1:30 p. m., and the evening meeting at the Lincoln school at 8:15 p. m., being sponsored by the Lincoln Parent-Teachers association. The second meeting of the series will be held at these same points and at the same hour on May 20th. Everyone is invited.

Women Of Munising Planning Project Of Reforestation

The Business and Professional Women's club of Munising decided at their regular meeting last Monday night to plant a Washington Bicentennial Memorial Forest on the Hiawatha National Forest, south of Munising.

This will be a forty acre project and will be planted by the cooperation of the U. S. Forest Service. By agreement between the forest officials and a committee appointed from the club, the land and trees will be furnished by the Forest Service, the club will furnish the labor for the planting of the trees and for the necessary ground preparation.

The club, being made up of some thirty women engaged in business or a profession, decided they would get the money by putting over a campaign locally and in the neighboring towns and communities. The slogan for this campaign is "one cent will plant three trees," and they will ask that anyone interested to have three or more trees plantd in this memorial forest can attain their aspirations by sending their remittances to the committee chairman, Elizabeth Strandness of Munising, Michigan.

This forest will be planted the latter part of September and dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. A sign telling what the women are doing toward reforesting the denuded lands of Upper Michigan will be erected on the area and will be unveiled at the dedication.

MOTHERS DAY PLAY AT H. S.

Public Invited To See One Act Comedy at Auditorium Today

Students of the English department, under the direction of Miss Ida Stenstrom, will present a fine one-act comedy at the high school auditorium this afternoon entitled, "Mother's Day." The public is cordially invited to attend the entertainment which will begin at 2:30 p. m.

The story of the play concerns Mother who is busy from morning until night and always finds time to do something more. Instead of helping, the family makes more work for her.

They plan an automobile trip for Mother's Day—anywhere Mother wishes to go; it's her day and they want her to celebrate it as she likes. But when she suggests going to visit her sister who is ill, they all object because they think that they wouldn't get any pleasure out of it.

Father would rather go somewhere to fish, so Mother gives up her trip to please father. She would like to take a neighbor woman along on the fishing trip, but Gladys wants to take along a friend because going away with just the family is not any fun for her.

So Mother again abandons her wish and Gladys has her way. The only thing Mother has to do is prepare the lunch for them to enjoy.

Musical Numbers

Students in the cast are Helen Cayia, Boyd Bolitho, Patrice Doyle, John Ott, Donald McPhail, Evelyn Grosa, and Marguerite LaFave. Little Miss June Schatzman will take the part of the baby.

An additional attraction on the program will be the glee clubs under the direction of Miss Helene Hulbert which will sing some of the numbers to be sung at the music festival at Escanaba tomorrow. Other musical numbers will include several vibra harp selections by Henrietta and Bernice Hoholik and a vocal solo by Russell Bender.

Starts Fire In Forest; Gets 3 Day Jail Term

Charles A. Baker pleaded guilty in justice court yesterday morning to a charge of negligently and carelessly setting fire to certain combustible materials without a permit from the conservation department. Baker was sentenced to three days in th county jail. The complaint was made by George Ferrari of the United States Forest Service.

Facts brought out in the case showed that Baker started the fire without malicious intent. The fire was made within the boundaries of the Hiawatha National forest.

Nursing Committee, Poor Board in Joint Meeting Wednesday

Members of the Schoolcraft county nursing committee and poor commission held a joint meeting at the court house Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock to decide upon policies to be followed in the future. All members were present with the exception of one.

Plans established at the meeting are not as yet released for publication.

Gladstone Rotes To Be Guests Of Locals Monday

The Manistique Rotary club will be hosts to the Gladstone Rotarians and Rotary Anns next Monday evening at the Elks' temple.

A 6:45 dinner will be served and dancing will follow. Each year it is the custom of the two clubs to exchange parties to promote contact and goodfellowship.

Stroke Is Fatal To George Bixby

George Bixby, 79, caretaker of Paul Bunyan's camp at Blaney Park for the past several years, passed away suddenly Wednesday morning following an apoplectic stroke. His death occurred at Owosso Camp near Blaney.

The remains were shipped yesterday to the home of the daughter of the deceased, Mrs. Frank Schofield, at Owosso, Mich., where funeral services are expected to be held today or tomorrow. The body was prepared for burial by Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians.

Diplomas Are Pocket Size

Cleveland (AP)—"Pocket size" diplomas are to be awarded seniors in East Technical high school, Cleveland, this year instead of the traditional sheepskin that usually finds its way to a trunk in the attic.

The new diplomas are small enough to fit into a small leather case and may be carried by the graduate when he goes on a job-hunting expedition.

Kelly to Direct Sports Program At Summer Camp

John W. Kelly, member of the Manistique high school faculty and well known upper peninsula basketball and football official, will have charge of athletics at the Citizens' Military Training Camp to be held at Fort Brady this coming summer. He will be assisted by several Fort Brady officers.

Brault Photo
KELLY

Baseball, boxing, swimming, rifle meets, track and field competitions will be among the events on the sports program at the camp.

Trainees at Fort Brady will see a different arrangement of camp equipment this year. There are now two new mess kitchens and the reserve officers are to have a building of their own.

Two new kitchens costing about $5,000 have been added to the camp at the west end of the Fort parade grounds.

The kitchens are 51 by 60 feet, each seating about 225 men. They are divided into two parts with a mess hall and dining room on each wing of the building and the kitchen and supply department in the middle.

The 404th reserve officers infantry with headquarters at Eau Claire, Wis., will take over the training of the entire battalion here this year. The officers will be housed in a new officers' mess hall which is being built near the officers' tent area.

Two companies of infantry, one machine gun company and a band company will comprise the camp. Forty boys have been ordered here to supplement the 21-piece Fort Brady band. Sergeant W. H. Davis, conductor of the Fort Brady band will have charge of the C. M. T. C. band.

SOCIAL

Mothers' Day Social

One hundred people attended the social held in the parlors of the Zion Lutheran church Wednesday evening. The party was under the auspices of the Bible class, assisted by the Sunday School.

During the early part of the evening a very pleasing program was given consisting of musical readings, recitations, short dramatizations, musical selections, and variety numbers. The program was based on Mother and was enjoyed by everyone.

After the program everyone joined in playing games.. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Get-together Party

Wednesday evening, in the basement of St. Alban's Episcopal Mission, twenty-five members of the church gathered together for a social evening. Pot luck refreshments started the party at 6:15 o'clock. A 'Boner' question and answer game under the direction of Fred Hicks was played following the supper. Then songs were sung and the rest of the evening spent in social chatter.

Transportation for H. S. Students Made

Transportation for the hundred or more high school students who will participate in the Music Festival to be held at Escanaba tomorrow afternoon and evening has been arranged, according to a statement made by school officials. Students will make the trip by busses which have been chartered for the occasion.

Adults and others having cars who can accomodate persons who desire to make the trip, are urged to communicate with high school officials or teachers. Also persons who have no means of transportation are urged to do the same in order that proper accomodations may be effected. Indications point to a large number of Manistique people who will attend the event. Tickets may be procured at the office of R. H. Wilson, high school principal.

Local Delegates to Attend Conference

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Victorsen and Miss Elsie Soderback, local delegates of the Zion Lutheran church to the Superior Conference at Ishpeming, left yesterday morning. The conference began yesterday and continues through Monday of next week.

Mr. Victorsen is a delegate of the church, Mrs. Victorsen is a delegate of the Ladies' Mission society, and Miss Soderbeck will represent the Junior Mission band. The party will return to Manistique Sunday evening.

CHILD EXPERT TO SPEAK HERE

Lydia Ann Lynde to Talk On Care of Children At Two Meetings

Arrangements have been made with the Home Economics Department of Michigan State College for the services of Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde, specialist in Child Care and Training, for a series of meetings in Schoolcraft county on May 13th and 20th.

The subject of her two meeting project is entitled, "Meeting Your Child's Problems." It will be an excursion into the field of the new psychology of childhood and a study of personality adjustments in the home with the aim of solving some of the common problems of childhood. Before and after the meetings, Mrs. Lynde will offer an opportunity for fathers and mothers to confer with her over their individual problems. Those who wish to make detailed studies of some problem may do so under her direction.

Some of the problems which will come under her discussion will be: getting ready on time; exaggerating and lying; the little child and profanity; children who contradict; carelessness and forgetfulness; thumb sucking and nail biting; stubbornness and determination; arguing and quarreling; getting chores done; day dreaming; adolescent independence; teasing; thieving; and fighting.

Mrs. Lynde is especially fitted for this work through her training and experience. She is a graduate and has the Master of Science degree from Purdue University and has studied in the graduate schools of Indiana University and the Universities of Minnesota and California. In 1927-28 as National Fellow in Child Development under the Laura Spellman Rockefeller Memorial Fund she spent eleven months studying the problems of childhood. She has had many years as a home-maker and mother of two sons who are now eleven and fourteen years old.

As a teacher of Home Economics in Indianapolis schools she worked with under-privileged, undernourished and problem children and helped many children and their parents happily work out their difficulties. When asked how she happened to go into this work she replied, "I need all the knowledge I can get to help my boys along. I found other mothers wanting help so I am studying and passing along."

For two and a half years Mrs. Lynde has been meeting with parents in this state and helping them understand and work out the little difficulties in their homes. It is so often the little everyday troubles that come into the lives of our children that mar and warp their personalities and make the home life harder. If parents knew and understood how these came about and just what to do much unhappiness could be avoided.

Meetings have been arranged by Miss Emma Johnson, county nurse at two points in the county. An afternoon and an evening meeting will be held on May 13th. The afternoon meeting will be held at the Inwood Consolidated school at 1:30 p. m., and the evening meeting at the Lincoln school at 8:15 p. m., being sponsored by the Lincoln Parent-Teachers association. The second meeting of the series will be held at these same points and at the same hour on May 20th. Everyone is invited.

Registration Cards Signed by 50 Voters

Re-registration cards have been filled out by approximately 50 Manistique electors thus far. The re-registration is being done at the city hall in conformance with the permanent registration law which went into effect on May 1. All electors will be reuired to re-register in order to vote at the September primary.

The first Manistique resident to register was Rev. A. A. Collier, pastor of the Free Methodist church. John A. Peterson, chief of police, was next in line. Wednesday, August 24, will be the final day.

Funeral Rites Held At Gary Tuesday for Mrs. H. Middlebrook

Funeral services for Mrs. Harold Middlebrook, 37, who passed away last Saturday at Gary, Indiana, as a result of peritonitis following an operation for tumor, were held Tuesday. News of her death came as a great shock to her many friends here who will mourn her loss. Mrs. Middlebrook's last visit in Manistique was last summer.

Besides her husband, the deceased leaves a daughter, Dorothy, and a son, Harold, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Middlebrook, and daughter, Dorothy, attended the services. Mr. Middlebrook and Mrs. Shipman returned to Manistique Wednesday evening, but Mrs. Middlebrook will remain in Gary with her son for several weeks.

Miss Christy Grantner, who has been visiting with Miss Anna Dugas for the past several days, returned to her home in Chicago Thursday evening.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 5 (AP)—A strong United States government bond list provided a stout defense for weakening stock prices today, and the equity market rallied after a dismal drop in the forenoon.

The advance failed to pick up enough momentum to carry through the session, but it did substantially reduce extreme early losses of 1 to 3 points and left stocks in the main only fractionally lower at the finish. In few instances did net declines of leaders amount to a point. Volume was 1,013,626 shares.

The market lent a willing ear to vague reports that "something constructive" was brewing in Washington and these rumors, although most indefinite, appeared to have a bearing on the afternoon recovery. As the day wore on, leaving speculative hopes unfulfilled, there was a general let-down.

Discouraging Picture

Stocks presented a discouraging picture in the forenoon. Rails in particular were downhearted, with Santa Fe off 3, New York Central 2 and a number of others one or more. Utilities ran them a close second, but merchandising, food and chemicals scarcely fared better and losses of 1 to 3 developed rapidly. Some three score stocks reached into new low ground.

On the rally this range of declines was reduced generally to fractional proportions and in the case of industrials the recovery was well held, rails suffering most from the late relapse. New York Central finished near the low; so did Baltimore & Ohio and Southern Pacific. Santa Fe was off 1½.

General Motors, with its dividend cut a matter of history, was heavily sold in the morning when it sagged under 10 to a record low. U. S. Steel, off a point at the worst, met support when yesterday's minimum was threatened; so, too, did a number of other pivotal leaders, including American Telephone, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco "B," Auburn and Telephone closed about a point lower. Oils were again firm. Homestake Mining, whose dividend rate was boosted to $9 annually, seemed to have discounted that favorable, and in these times almost unique, good news, for the stock was unchanged.

Selling Pressure On Curb Slows Up

New York, May 5 (AP)—Recent selling on the curb showed signs of drying up today. Total transactions were 150,000 shares against 190,000 shares yesterday and price changes at the close showed a substantial number of increases.

Preferred stocks were offered quite freely, although there were some noteworthy recoveries in the list.

High priced common shares were also in supply. Great Atlantic & Pacific common fell 4 points to a new low at 122 and Singer Manufacturing which long had resisted the trend to a price below 100, reached a new low at 95 where it closed.

Against these declines there were several stocks which moved up buoyantly. Aluminum Co., which yesterday reached a new low, bounded up 2 points net to 26.

A mixed trend appeared in the oils.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, May 5—Corn came suddenly to the front today as grain trade leader, and finished at an advance in price, whereas wheat and other cereals were laggard.

Rebounding after a fall to the lowest quotations since 1897, corn attracted unusual speculative attention owing to curtailment of receipts and improvement of cash demand. Some pit authorities said that although stocks, wheat and "what have you" had been persistently sold against corn, the market for corn was now showing a better foundation than had been seen for months.

Corn closed firm, ¼ to 5-8 above yesterday's finish, wheat unchanged to ½ lower, oats unchanged to 1-8 higher, and provisions 2 to 5 cents down.

Wheat, rye and oats responded to corn price bulges and wheat recovered most of an earlier loss of 1 3-4 cents. Some late buying of wheat was attributed to bullish crop reports from the southwest. Lack of support rather than aggressive selling was largely responsible for the transient setback of wheat, together with bearish action of the market at Liverpool.

Provisions averaged lower, reflecting shakiness of hog values.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
Chicago, May 5—Hogs 24,000, including 8,000 direct; closed 10 to 20 lower than Wednesday's average; 170 to 210 lbs., 3.60 to 3.75; early top 3.80; 220 to 250 lbs., 3.45 to 3.60; 260 to 350 lbs., 3.20 to 3.45; 140 to 160 lbs., 3.40 to 3.60; pigs, 3.00 to 3.25; packing sows, 2.85 to 3.10; shippers took 2,000; estimated holdover 6,000.

Cattle 6,000, calves 2,500; fed steers and yearlings more active at firm prices; better grade she stock strong; low grades weak; bulls steady, vealers strong, 7.25 top on long yearlings and medium and heavy-weight steers.

New York, May 5 (AP)—Led by a spirited rally in United States government issues, corporate bonds today exhibited modest reviving tendencies.

While there was no pronounced recovery in the general list, the average for 60 principal loans closed with a net gain. Trading slackened, however, and sales totaled but $10,423,000, par value, against $13,844,000 yesterday.

All of the federals moved up from around ½ to more than a point, with the treasuries in the greatest demand.

A number of the low-priced rails spurted upward in the latter part of the session, but their rise was not well maintained.

The utilities and industrials tried to follow the speculative rails, but the vitality was lacking.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

(By The Associated Press)

New York:
Stocks: Easy; rails resume decline into new low ground.
Bonds: Irregular; U. S. governments strong.
Curb: Easy; Swift stocks heavy.
Foreign Exchange: Irregular; sterling easier.
Cotton: Steady; trade and New Orleans buying.
Sugar: Barely steady; poor spot demand.
Coffee: Steady; European buying; firm spot market.
Chicago:
Wheat: Steady, dust storms southwest.
Corn: Firm; good cash demand.
Cattle: Firm.
Hogs: Lower.

Yes, here was a man to respect, perhaps truly love. It would not be a wild, whirlwind emotion such as she had felt for Bob Dunbar, but it would be real. There would be dignity in it.

"You must have time to think," the man said again after a long pause. "It is nothing to decide today or tomorrow. Only don't keep me waiting too long! I'm not a very patient man."

He turned to smile at her. Her slim fingers, lying curled on the soft furry surface of the laprobe, found themselves imprisoned and held fast.

"I am not patient usually," Ernest Heath repeated. "But I can wait for this. I can wait for my girl."

Susan felt an impulse to tears. He was fine and honorable and reticent. He had all the virtues. Why couldn't she love him?

They did not speak again until Simon halted the car before the little house.

"I'll see you to your door," Heath said gravely. Susan's heart fluttered. She hoped Aunt Jessie would not be watching at the front window! There would be so much to explain.

Luck was with her. The man bent over her hand at parting. Stripping aside her heavy glove he turned the palm upwards and gravely, deliberatedly kissed it.

"You darling," he muttered huskily. "Good night."

Then she was on the other side of the door and the great car slid away through the night.

Susan stared about her with new eyes, seeing the shabbiness of the little hall with its "coat tree," its artificial fern, the worn carpet on the floor. The odor of a boiled dinner floated out from the kitchen. Aunt Jessie would be there, stirring and seasoning, working as usual. What couldn't she do for Aunt Jessie if she married Ernest Heath? It would mean security and luxury for them both. It was—there was no denying it—a grave temptation.

CAUGHT BEING HONEST

Indianapolis, Ind. — Garnett Harvey, 24, returned home with three stolen automobile tires. His wife persuaded him to return them. They were piled in the family car and driven back to the home of Fred Roth, from where they were stolen. As Harvey was putting the tires in the garage, Roth came out and found him. Harvey escaped, but police caught his wife.

New York, May 5 (AP)—A strong United States government bond list provided a stout defense for weakening stock prices today, and the equity market rallied after a dismal drop in the forenoon.

The advance failed to pick up enough momentum to carry through the session, but it did substantially reduce extreme early losses of 1 to 3 points and left stocks in the main only fractionally lower at the finish. In few instances did net declines of leaders amount to a point. Volume was 1,013,626 shares.

The market lent a willing ear to vague reports that "something constructive" was brewing in Washington and these rumors, although most indefinite, appeared to have a bearing on the afternoon recovery. As the day wore on, leaving speculative hopes unfulfilled, there was a general letdown.

Discouraging Picture

Stocks presented a discouraging picture in the forenoon. Rails in particular were downhearted, with Santa Fe off 3, New York Central 2 and a number of others one or more. Utilities ran them a close second, but merchandising, food and chemicals scarcely fared better and losses of 1 to 3 developed rapidly. Some three score stocks reached into new low ground.

On the rally this range of declines was reduced generally to fractional proportions and in the case of industrials the recovery was well held, rails suffering most from the late relapse. New York Central finished near the low; so did Baltimore & Ohio and Southern Pacific. Santa Fe was off 1½.

General Motors, with its dividend cut a matter of history, was heavily sold in the morning when it sagged under 10 to a record low. U. S. Steel, off a point at the worst, met support when yesterday's minimum was threatened; so, too, did a number of other pivotal leaders, including American Telephone, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco "B," Auburn and Telephone closed about a point lower. Oils were again firm. Homestake Mining, whose dividend rate was boosted to $9 annually, seemed to have discounted that favorable, and in these times almost unique, good news, for the stock was unchanged.

Selling Pressure On Curb Slows Up

New York, May 5 (AP)—Recent selling on the curb showed signs of drying up today. Total transactions were 150,000 shares against 190,000 shares yesterday and price changes at the close showed a substantial number of increases.

Preferred stocks were offered quite freely, although there were some noteworthy recoveries in the list.

High priced common shares were also in supply. Great Atlantic & Pacific common fell 4 points to a new low at 122 and Singer Manufacturing which long had resisted the trend to a price below 100, reached a new low at 95 where it closed.

Against these declines there were several stocks which moved up buoyantly. Aluminum Co., which yesterday reached a new low, bounded up 2 points net to 26.

A mixed trend appeared in the oils.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, May 5—Corn came suddenly to the front today as grain trade leader, and finished at an advance in price, whereas wheat and other cereals were laggard.

Rebounding after a fall to the lowest quotations since 1897, corn attracted unusual speculative attention owing to curtailment of receipts and improvement of cash demand. Some pit authorities said that although stocks, wheat and "what have you" had been persistently sold against corn, the market for corn was now showing a better foundation than had been seen for months.

Corn closed firm, ¼ to 5-8 above yesterday's finish, wheat unchanged to ½ lower, oats unchanged to 1-8 higher, and provisions 2 to 5 cents down.

Wheat, rye and oats responded to corn price bulges and wheat recovered most of an earlier loss of 1 3-4 cents. Some late buying of wheat was attributed to bullish crop reports from the southwest. Lack of support rather than aggressive selling was largely responsible for the transient setback of wheat, together with bearish action of the market at Liverpool.

Provisions averaged lower, reflecting shakiness of hog values.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

New York, May 5 (AP)—Led by a spirited rally in United States government issues, corporate bonds today exhibited modest reviving tendencies.

While there was no pronounced recovery in the general list, the average for 60 principal loans closed with a net gain. Trading slackened, however, and sales totaled but $10,423,000, par value, against $13,844,000 yesterday.

All of the federals moved up from around ½ to more than a point, with the treasuries in the greatest demand.

A number of the low-priced rails spurted upward in the latter part of the session, but their rise was not well maintained.

The utilities and industrials tried to follow the speculative rails, but the vitality was lacking.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

Yes, here was a man to respect, perhaps truly love. It would not be a wild, whirlwind emotion such as she had felt for Bob Dunbar, but it would be real. There would be dignity in it.

"You must have time to think," the man said again after a long pause. "It is nothing to decide today or tomorrow. Only don't keep me waiting too long! I'm not a very patient man."

He turned to smile at her. Her slim fingers, lying curled on the soft furry surface of the laprobe, found themselves imprisoned and held fast.

"I am not patient usually," Ernest Heath repeated. "But I can wait for this. I can wait for my girl."

Susan felt an impulse to tears. He was fine and honorable and reticent. He had all the virtues. Why couldn't she love him?

They did not speak again until Simon halted the car before the little house.

"I'll see you to your door," Heath said gravely. Susan's heart fluttered. She hoped Aunt Jessie would not be watching at the front window! There would be so much to explain.

Luck was with her. The man bent over her hand at parting. Stripping aside her heavy glove he turned the palm upwards and gravely, deliberatedly kissed it.

"You darling," he muttered huskily. "Good night."

Then she was on the other side of the door and the great car slid away through the night.

Susan stared about her with new eyes, seeing the shabbiness of the little hall with its "coat tree," its artificial fern, the worn carpet on the floor. The odor of a boiled dinner floated out from the kitchen. Aunt Jessie would be there, stirring and seasoning, working as usual. What couldn't she do for Aunt Jessie if she married Ernest Heath? It would mean security and luxury for them both. It was—there was no denying it—a grave temptation.

Universe, Kentucky Derby Favorite, Withdrawn

EASTERN HORSE HAD BAD INJURY

Loma Stable's "Tick On" Is 2-1 Choice Against Entire Field

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Louisville, Ky., May 5 (AP)—The prospects of a wide-open race in the Kentucky Derby this Saturday were heightened today by a final decision to withdraw another of the well-supported entries, the bay colt, Universe, winner of the Wood Memorial and owned by Thomas M. Cassidy of New York.

Universe, which had been quoted around 6 to 1, developed a wrenched "coffin joint" or ankle socket after a workout. The eastern colt failed to show sufficient improvement, after some heroic treatment this morning with ice packs, to warrant the risks of racing.

This development was just another sample of the jinx that has pursued many of the star entries for the 58th running of the bluegrass classic and robbed the race of much of its expected color. It follows the withdrawal of the filly Top Flight, winter book favorite, and the injury that forced out the main hope of the mid-west, Burning Blaze.

Tick On Favored

The casualties have been so extraordinary that no less than 23 horses have been withdrawn in advance of the actual starting nominations, which will be pulled out of the box tomorrow.

The chances are that no more than thirteen horses will answer the bugle call for the $50,000 classic Saturday around 5 p. m. (central standard time).

Meanwhile the experts, lacking any standout to rely on such as Gallant Fox and Twenty Grand, wandered all over Churchill Downs looking for feed-box dope to back up their varying opinions or point some new clew to the probable outcome.

The Loma stable's Tick On, chief hope of the east, remained a two to one choice against the field and probably will go to the post the favorite, mainly for the reason that the rest of the public support is scattered among four or five other contenders.

Kentuckians, with the habit of looking to Colonel E. R. Bradley's horses to uphold bluegrass prestige, have real confidence in Burgoo King, paired with Brother Joe. If the prediction of showers for Saturday is fulfilled, Brother Joe, a mudder, may come through but Burgoo King has looked better in the workouts. The Bradley entry's odds of 4 to 1 may shorten.

The "hunch" players are busy building up the chances of Stepenfetchit and Overtime, the entry of Mrs. John Hay Whitney, largely because Earl Sande and Buddy Sor will be in the saddles, as well as J. H. Louchheim's speedy Economic and the "mystery star" of the Three D's stable of Texas—Liberty Limited.

Hoops Sure Starter

Liberty Limited is the colt that has most of the experts guessing. The Texas entry has turned in some startling times for sprint distances but shown a tendency to sulk over the mile and a quarter route. Today the colt galloped five furlongs in 1:00 1-5 but finished the Derby distance in the mediocre time of 2:12. Its trainer as well as its backers assert it has not been let out but will be ready to go at top speed all the way Saturday.

Economic turned six furlongs today in 1:15 1-3 and Lucky Tom, winner of the Louisiana Derby, breezed a mile in 1:43 1-5 but other workouts, including Tick On's were confined to easy gallops.

Hoops, the chestnut gelding owned by W. F. Kneblekamp, has not been figured as a likely starter but performed so sensationally today in winning the third race, at a mile, in 1:37 3-5, that it will be coupled with a stablemate, Adobe Post. The Derby this year is just the sort of a race that an added starter might find to its liking.

The mile performance by Hoops was better than any Derby contender has shown this week. Its owner, Kneblekamp, declared immediately "Hoops is a certain starter in the Derby and has a good chance to win."

Although many notables were on hand, the slimmest advance gathering of turf followers in years made the Downs look semi-deserted this afternoon under the hottest sun of the spring.

Stambaugh Unable To Play Eskymo's 1932 Grid Squad

Efforts to book the Stambaugh high school football team on the Eskymos schedule for next fall have failed, Principal John A. Lemmer announced yesterday after receiving a letter from the Stambaugh authorities quashing the negotiations.

The Eskymos have an open date on October 15, the week following the annual Escanaba-Menominee game, and because of the regional-wide interest in both the Escanaba and Stambaugh teams, it was believed a meeting between the two aggregations would be a "natural," certain to attract unusual attention.

Schedule difficulties were given by the Stambaugh school as their reason for not booking the Escanaba game. The Eskymos had desired to arrange the game to be played in Escanaba.

HEAVYWEIGHTS PRODUCE PUNCH

Feary and Slater Show Class in Amateur Championship

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 5 (AP) Two sensational heavyweight giants, Fred Feary of Stockton, Cal., and the negro Stangslaws Slater of the University of Michigan, guaranteed the United States a brilliant Olympic defense against the big men of all nations as they thrilled a crowd of 10,500 tonight in the 45th National Amateur boxing championships.

Feary, 200 pounds of cold punching power, knocked out the supposedly invincible Jack Kileullen, burly Yale tackle, in the third round of the feature battle of the quarter-final round. Slater, a massive negro, battered down Earl Sather, from Minneapolis, runner-up in the 1931 championships, in less than a minute of the first round.

In Olympic Tryouts

Both Feary and Slater were making their second appearance of the day and both more than lived up to their startling performances in the height of a six hour session this afternoon, when 52 bouts, 22 of them ending in knockouts, whittled the big field down to the last eight in eight classes. Each scored a one round knockout this afternoon.

Tonight's victories, cutting the field to the semi-finalists in all classes, automatically dictated the squad of 34 youngsters the A. A. U. will take to San Francisco for the Olympic tryouts during the week of July 10.

Outside the bouts mentioned, the heavyweight battles tonight were unimpressive, reaching the semi-finals that start the final phase of the tournament tomorrow night. Jack Holland, Tulane end, was given an unpopular decision over Jimmy Dee of Rice institute, Houston, Texas, and George Schultz of Cleveland, barely outpointed Jack Daniels, of Kansas City.

Neither should impede either Feary or Slater more than a few moments tomorrow night.

Cincinnati Trims League Leaders, 9-6

ERRORS CAUSE CUBS' DEFEAT

Brooklyn Dodgers Take 2-1 Decision at Chicago

Chicago, May 5 (AP) Weak fielding behind Charley Root gave him his first defeat of the season today as the Brooklyn Dodgers beat out the Chicago Cubs 2 to 1.

Root pitched five scoreless innings and gave only five hits in the seven frames he worked but the Dodgers bunched their blows with Cub errors to get a pair of unearned runs. Watson Clark gave nine hits, most of them in the early innings, but he allowed the Cubs to put together only one scoring cluster. In the second inning, Riggs Stephenson opened with a double, took third on Jurges' hot single to Stripp and scored when Root banged a hit to right.

GROVE TURNS IN TRIUMPH 15-3

Athletics Pound Ferrell And Cleveland Takes Trouncing

Philadelphia, May 5 (AP)—The Athletics' murderers row got into action today and ruined a pitching "natural" between Lefty Grove and Cleveland's ace, Wesley Ferrell, to give the A's a 15 to 3 victory in the first game of their home stand against the western clubs of the American league.

The defeat, Ferrell's first of the season after five victories, dropped the Indians to third place.

Grove did his full share of pitching, limiting Cleveland to six hits and fanning five. He didn't give a run until the seventh inning when Willie Kamm hit a home run with Vosmik on base.

As if to make up for the loss of a shutout, the champions fell on Ferrell in that same inning and scored seven runs to increase their lead from 5-2 to 12-2. In that frame they batted clear around, collecting eight hits off the big right hander and Pete Jablonowski, who relieved him after two were out and six runs were in. Grove got two of the hits.

Eric McNair's homer in the eighth with one on completed the Indian rout.

Jimmie Foxx started things off on the right track when he clouted his sixth homer of the season. He also hit two singles to gain a perfect day at bat, scored five runs and batted in four. McNair collected four hits in five times up and drove home five tallies.

Escanaba To Meet Marinette Track Squad Saturday

In the first track and field competition for them this season, the Eskymo athletes will travel to Marinette tomorrow to oppose the Badger speedsters, jumpers and vaulters in a dual event.

Well fortified in some events but apparently weak in others Coach Nordberg admitted yesterday that he could not be certain what calibre a team the Eskymos would have this spring. He expects the Marinette dual meet to show him what is what in the line of track and field material.

One boy who probably will form the backbone of the squad is Leonard Baillargeon, sprinter and hurdler. In addition to his events on the track, Nordberg has been experimenting in an effort to make a high jumper out of him. Nordberg feels that if Baillargeon is able to show any strength in the high jump, he will feel justified in removing him from the 220-yard dash. The Escanaba mentor does not want to press Baillargeon by using him in both the furlong dash and the 220-yard low hurdles in addition to the century sprint.

In the event that the Eskymo sprinters do not show up well enough at Marinette, Nordberg is also likely to keep Baillargeon off of the relay team. He will not run in the relay race at Marinette on Saturday.

Parochial Track Men Will Compete At Iron Mountain

In the first test of the season, Coach Brunelle will take his thinclads to Iron Mountain today for a practice dual track and field meeting with Lars Thune's versatile team.

The Mountaineers are ranked as one of the outstanding track teams of the peninsula this season and Coach Brunelle figures the practice event will give him a good idea just what he can expect from his boys this season.

The boys who will make the trip and the events in which they are entered follow:

100-yard dash—Beaumier, Loeffler and DeGrand.
220-yard dash—Beaumier, McGovern, DeGrand.
120-yard high hurdles—Clairmont, McGovern, Beaumier.
220-yard low hurdles—Clairmont, Brazeau.
440-yard dash—Harvey.
Half-mile run—Boidy, Smith, Pryal, Klug.
Mile run—Shimberg.
Shotput—Wilson.

Coach Brunelle indicated he was not certain if he will put entrants in the high jump, pole vault or broad jump.

Browns Win from Red Sox By 11-3

Boston, May 5 (AP)—St. Louis went on the rampage in the sixth and seventh innings today to overcome a 3 to 2 lead and beat the Red Sox, 11 to 3. Bump Hadley let the Sox down with six hits while the Browns collected 14 off four Boston twirlers.

Jolley collected a homer with McManus on base in the first inning.

BOXING

Alex Heinz, 156, Saginaw, knocked out Paul Vanatta, 156, South Bend, in the third of a scheduled six round bout; Mike Misko, 141, Saginaw, defeated Midget O'Farrell, 143, Bay City, (4); Mickey Morris, 133, Saginaw, defeated Central Mitchell, 138, Saginaw, (4), and Bobby Thomas, 121, Saginaw, defeated Lem Adeare, 128, Bay City (4).

GIANTS CLIMB OUT OF CELLAR

New York Licks Cardinals in Slugfest By 10 to 6

St. Louis, May 5 (AP)—The New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals waged a battle today in which the number of pitchers used was more apparent than their skill. The Giants won 10 and 6 and climbed out of the National league cellar, passing the idle Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Cards used five pitchers who yielded 14 hits, including Bill Terry's seventh homer of the season in the first inning. Three Giant hurlers gave eleven hits.

Leading Batsmen In Big Leagues

(By The Associated Press)

Only two members of the Big Six were in action yesterday but Jimmie Foxx and Hughey Critz, leaders of the American and National Leagues, respectively, did enough hitting for the whole group.

Foxx had three official times at bat and made three hits, including his sixth homer of the season. He scored five runs and shot his average up 28 points. Critz registered a 27 point gain with four hits in five times at bat. The standing:

Universe, Kentucky Derby Favorite, Withdrawn

Loma Stable's "Tick On" Is 2-1 Choice Against Entire Field

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Louisville, Ky., May 5 (AP)—The prospects of a wide-open race in the Kentucky Derby this Saturday were heightened today by a final decision to withdraw another of the well-supported entries, the bay colt, Universe, winner of the Wood Memorial and owned by Thomas M. Cassidy of New York.

Universe, which had been quoted around 6 to 1, developed a wrenched "coffin joint" or ankle socket after a workout. The eastern colt failed to show sufficient improvement, after some heroic treatment this morning with ice packs, to warrant the risks of racing.

This development was just another sample of the jinx that has pursued many of the star entries for the 58th running of the bluegrass classic and robbed the race of much of its expected color. It follows the withdrawal of the filly Top Flight, winter book favorite, and the injury that forced out the main hope of the mid-west, Burning Blaze.

Tick On Favored

The casualties have been so extraordinary that no less than 23 horses have been withdrawn in advance of the actual starting nominations, which will be pulled out of the box tomorrow.

The chances are that no more than thirteen horses will answer the bugle call for the $50,000 classic Saturday around 5 p. m. (central standard time).

Meanwhile the experts, lacking any standout to rely on such as Gallant Fox and Twenty Grand, wandered all over Churchill Downs looking for feed-box dope to back up their varying opinions or point some new clew to the probable outcome.

The Loma stable's Tick On, chief hope of the east, remained a two to one choice against the field and probably will go to the post the favorite, mainly for the reason that the rest of the public support is scattered among four or five other contenders.

Kentuckians, with the habit of looking to Colonel E. R. Bradley's horses to uphold bluegrass prestige, have real confidence in Burgoo King, paired with Brother Joe. If the prediction of showers for Saturday is fulfilled, Brother Joe, a mudder, may come through but Burgoo King has looked better in the workouts. The Bradley entry's odds of 4 to 1 may shorten.

The "hunch" players are busy building up the chances of Stepenfetchit and Overtime, the entry of Mrs. John Hay Whitney, largely because Earl Sande and Buddy Sor will be in the saddles, as well as J. H. Louchheim's speedy Economic and the "mystery star" of the Three D's stable of Texas—Liberty Limited.

Hoops Sure Starter

Liberty Limted is the colt that has most of the experts guessing. The Texas entry has turned in some startling times for sprint distances but shown a tendency to sulk over the mile and a quarter route. Today the colt galloped five furlongs in 1:00 1-5 but finished the Derby distance in the mediocre time of 2:12. Its trainer as well as its backers assert it has not been let out but will be ready to go at top speed all the way Saturday.

Economic turned six furlongs today in 1:15 1-3 and Lucky Tom, winner of the Louisiana Derby, breezed a mile in 1:43 1-5 but other workouts, including Tick On's were confined to easy gallops.

Hoops, the chestnut gelding owned by W. F. Kneblekamp, has not been figured as a likely starter but performed so sensationally today in winning the third race, at a mile, in 1:37 3-5, that it will be coupled with a stablemate, Adobe Post. The Derby this year is just the sort of a race that an added starter might find to its liking.

The mile performance by Hoops was better than any Derby contender has shown this week. Its owner, Kneblekamp, declared immediately "Hoops is a certain starter in the Derby and has a good chance to win."

Although many notables were on hand, the slimmest advance gathering of turf followers in years made the Downs look semi-deserted this afternoon under the hottest sun of the spring.

Stambaugh Unable To Play Eskymo's 1932 Grid Squad

Efforts to book the Stambaugh high school football team on the Eskymos schedule for next fall have failed, Principal John A. Lemmer announced yesterday after receiving a letter from the Stambaugh authorities quashing the negotiations.

The Eskymos have an open date on October 15, the week following the annual Escanaba-Menominee game, and because of the regional-wide interest in both the Escanaba and Stambaugh teams, it was believed a meeting between the two aggregations would be a "natural," certain to attract unusual attention.

Schedule difficulties were given by the Stambaugh school as their reason for not booking the Escanaba game. The Eskymos had desired to arrange the game to be played in Escanaba.

HEAVYWEIGHTS PRODUCE PUNCH

Feary and Slater Show Class in Amateur Championship

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 5 (AP)—Two sensational heavyweight giants, Fred Feary of Stockton, Cal., and the negro Stangslaws Slater of the University of Michigan, guaranteed the United States a brilliant Olympic defense against the big men of all nations as they thrilled a crowd of 10,500 tonight in the 45th National Amateur boxing championships.

Feary, 200 pounds of cold punching power, knocked out the supposedly invincible Jack Kilcullen, burly Yale tackle, in the third round of the feature battle of the quarter-final round. Slater, a massive negro, battered down Earl Sather, from Minneapolis, runner-up in the 1931 championships, in less than a minute of the first round.

In Olympic Tryouts

Both Feary and Slater were making their second appearance of the day and both more than lived up to their startling performances in the height of a six hour session this afternoon, when 52 bouts, 22 of them ending in knockouts, whittled the big field down to the last eight in eight classes. Each scored a one round knockout this afternoon.

Tonight's victories, cutting the field to the semi-finalists in all classes, automatically dictated the squad of 34 youngsters the A. A. U. will take to San Francisco for the Olympic tryouts during the week of July 10.

Outside the bouts mentioned, the heavyweight battles tonight were unimpressive, reaching the semi-finals that start the final phase of the tournament tomorrow night. Jack Holland, Tulane end, was given an unpopular decision over Jimmy Dee of Rice institute, Houston, Texas, and George Schultz of Cleveland, barely outpointed Jack Daniels, of Kansas City.

Neither should impede either Feary or Slater more than a few moments tomorrow night.

Cincinnati Trims League Leaders, 9-6

ERRORS CAUSE CUBS' DEFEAT

Brooklyn Dodgers Take 2-1 Decision at Chicago

Chicago, May 5 (AP)—Weak fielding behind Charley Root gave him his first defeat of the season today as the Brooklyn Dodgers beat out the Chicago Cubs 2 to 1.

Root pitched five scoreless innings and gave only five hits in the seven frames he worked but the Dodgers bunched their blows with Cub errors to get a pair of unearned runs. Watson Clark gave nine hits, most of them in the early innings, but he allowed the Cubs to put together only one scoring cluster. In the second inning, Riggs Stephensen opened with a double, took third on Jurges' hot single to Stripp and scored when Root banged a hit to right.

GROVE TURNS IN TRIUMPH 15-3

Athletics Pound Ferrell And Cleveland Takes Trouncing

Philadelphia, May 5 (AP)—The Athletics' murderers row got into action today and ruined a pitching "natural" between Lefty Grove and Cleveland's ace, Wesley Ferrell, to give the A's a 15 to 3 victory in the first game of their home stand against the western clubs of the American league.

The defeat, Ferrell's first of the season after five victories, dropped the Indians to third place.

Grove did his full share of pitching, limiting Cleveland to six hits and fanning five. He didn't give a run until the seventh inning when Willie Kamm hit a home run with Vosmik on base.

As if to make up for the loss of a shutout, the champions fell on Ferrell in that same inning and scored seven runs to increase their lead from 5-2 to 12-2. In that frame they batted clear around, collecting eight hits off the big right hander and Pete Jablonowski, who relieved him after two were out and six runs were in. Grove got two of the hits.

Eric McNair's homer in the eighth with one on completed the Indian rout.

Jimmie Foxx started things off on the right track when he clouted his sixth homer of the season. He also hit two singles to gain a perfect day at bat, scored five runs and batted in four. McNair collected four hits in five times up and drove home five tallies.

Escanaba To Meet Marinette Track Squad Saturday

In the first track and field competition for them this season, the Eskymo athletes will travel to Marinette tomorrow to oppose the Badger speedsters, jumpers and vaulters in a dual event.

Well fortified in some events but apparently weak in others Coach Nordberg admitted yesterday that he could not be certain what calibre a team the Eskymos would have this spring. He expects the Marinette dual meet to show him what is what in the line of track and field material.

One boy who probably will form the backbone of the squad is Leonard Baillargeon, sprinter and hurdler. In addition to his events on the track, Nordberg has been experimenting in an effort to make a high jumper out of him. Nordberg feels that if Baillargeon is able to show any strength in the high jump, he will feel justified in removing him from the 220-yard dash. The Escanaba mentor does not want to press Baillargeon by using him in both the furlong dash and the 220-yard low hurdles in addition to the century sprint.

In the event that the Eskymo sprinters do not show up well enough at Marinette, Nordberg is also likely to keep Baillargeon off of the relay team. He will not run in the relay race at Marinette on Saturday.

Parochial Track Men Will Compete At Iron Mountain

In the first test of the season, Coach Brunelle will take his thinclads to Iron Mountain today for a practice dual track and field meeting with Lars Thune's versatile team.

The Mountaineers are ranked as one of the outstanding track teams of the peninsula this season and Coach Brunelle figures the practice event will give him a good idea just what he can expect from his boys this season.

The boys who will make the trip and the events in which they are entered follow:

100-yard dash — Beaumier, Loeffler and DeGrand.
220-yard dash — Beaumier, McGovern, DeGrand.
120-yard high hurdles—Clairmont, McGovern, Beaumier.
220-yard low hurdles—Clairmont, Brazeau.
440-yard dash—Harvey.
Half-mile run — Boddy, Smith, Pryal, Klug.
Mile run—Shimberg.
Shotput—Wilson.

Coach Brunelle indicated he was not certain if he will put entrants in the high jump, pole vault or broad jump.

Browns Win from Red Sox By 11-3

Boston, May 5 (AP)—St. Louis went on the rampage in the sixth and seventh innings today to overcome a 3 to 2 lead and beat the Red Sox, 11 to 3. Bump Hadley let the Sox down with six hits while the Browns collected 14 off four Boston twirlers.

Jolley collected a homer with McManus on base in the first inning.

Leading Batsmen In Big Leagues

(By The Associated Press)

Only two members of the Big Six were in action yesterday but Jimmie Foxx and Hughey Critz, leaders of the American and National Leagues, respectively, did enough hitting for the whole group.

Foxx had three official times at bat and made three hits, including his sixth homer of the season. He scored five runs and shot his average up 28 points. Critz registered a 27 point gain with four hits in five times at bat. The standing:

LAKEVIEW ASS'N BEGINS PROJECT

Beautification Program Being Carried Out At Cemetery

Planting of additional trees and shrubs, installation of another section of wire fencing, leveling and cleaning up of lots are the salient features of this year's beautification and general improvement program at Lakeview cemetery, J. B. Wilkinson, chairman of the grounds committee, announced yesterday. Work on the project is now under way.

This year's work is a part of the five-year improvement program launched by the board of directors of the Lakeview Cemetery association three years ago.

In 1930, the association erected a wire fence on the west half of the Ludington street side of the cemetery, and did considerable work in the way of straightening tombstones, leveling of lots and removal of debris from the property.

Trees Are Planted

A subscription plan was decided upon by the board of directors at its January meeting in 1931. Five-year pledges were secured from lot owners, and a goodly sized fund for the improvement program was realized. Last year, about thirty Norway maple trees were planted along the Ludington street side, while a considerable number of evergreens wre placed inside the cemetery, in the north and west sections.

This spring, 25 elms, some maples and willows, besides a quantity of flowering shrubs, will be planted to beautify the south end. The trees also serve a utilitarian purpose in that they shade the lots, thereby reducing the need for sprinkling. Wire fencing is now being erected on the other half of the Ludington street frontage. General improvement of the lots is being made also.

Association Officers

"The beautification program has aroused the pride of the association members, and as a result much interest is being shown by them in the improvements that are being made to the cemetery," Mr. Wilkinson said yesterday. "The response to the solicitation for pledges has been highly gratifying, and with the fund that has been established it will be possible to develop Lakeview into one of the finest cemeteries in this region."

Officers of the Lakeview association are: President, H. J. Robertson; treasurer, Peter Jensen; and secretary, Mrs. Ivan English. The directors are: Mrs. S. M. Matthews, J. B. Wilkinson, Harry Broad, Alfred Crebo, A. J. Young, W. J. Hatton, H. J. Robertson, Peter Jensen and Mrs. Ivan English.

Naturalization Data Required Of Voters

When re-registering at the Escanaba city hall under the provisions of the new Michigan permament registration law, foreign born voters must be prepared to give the date on which they were naturalized, City Clerk Carl E. Anderson points out.

The naturalization data is a part of the application and voting record under the new registration act. The date when citizenship was granted, the court, and the city and state must be given. In case naturalization is claimed through parents, the applicant's age when parents were naturalized is required.

All qualified electors must re-register this summer in order to vote at the September primary election.

German Gavel Made On Pacific Coast

Seattle (AP) — A gavel made from Pacific coast big trees will call German business women to order.

While visiting in Berlin last summer Mrs. Zetta Barndt Averill promised the German federation of business and professional women to send the gavel. A silver band with engraved greetings from the business women of Washington state to those of Germany encircles it.

Dr. Maria Munk is president of the German federation.

NEARLY 5,000 IN TWO CHICAGO POLITICAL SHOWS

PARTY BATTLES FIND STAGE SET

Cross Section of Nation to Pick Republican and Democratic Nominees

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington (AP)—Some forty-six hundred men and women will comprise the casts of the two big political shows at the Chicago stadium in June. Two thousand three hundred and eight of them will be voting delegates, the others alternates.

Hailing from as widely separated and as socially divergent regions as Maine and the Phillippines, Montana and the Virgin Islands, these people will transact the dramatic and important business of selecting presidential and vice presidential candidates and of adopting the platforms of two great parties.

At both the Republican national convention, starting June 14, and the Democratic, starting June 27, there will be exactly 1,154 qualified delegates.

Dirt Farmers Too

With representatives from 48 states and the insular possessions of the Pacific, the Atlantic and the Caribbean, both conventions will present a cross-section of the racial strains, the avocations, aspirations and prejudices of the complex civilization under the Stars and Stripes.

There will be "dirt farmers," merchant princes, small town bankers and big town lawyers, housewives and professional politicians, men from the Alaskan frontier and the Hawaiian tropics, bone drys and sopping wets.

While the methods of choosing these delegates are complex and manifold—scarcely any two states having exactly the same procedure—they are based broadly on the American idea of representative government.

Picked By Conventions

There are three general ways of selecting delegates: By presidential primaries in which all qualified voters of the party are eligible to participate, by district and state conventions and in a few cases by state executive committees.

Following the pattern of representation in congress, the district delegates represent the congressional districts of the various states, while delegates at large represent the state as a whole as United States senators do.

The district delegates are elected by district convention or by presidential primary election, while the delegates at large are elected by the state convention.

At the Democratic national convention there will be two delegates with one vote each for each senator and representative in congress under district apportionment now applying to the present congress.

Michigan Gains Eight

However, in those states in which representation in the house has been increased by the creation of new congressionel districts there will be two delegates for each senator and representative under the new setup.

For example, California will have 44 votes in this convention, 18 more than in 1928; Texas will have 46, a gain of six, and Michigan 38, a gain of eight.

At the Republican convention there will be one district delegate from each congressional district and one additional district delegate from each district wherein the voters cast 10,000 or more votes for any Republican elector in the last presidential election or for the Republican nominee in the last congressional election.

The last provision is in the nature of a reward to the district organization for making a satisfactory showing in recent elections.

The two parties have different allotments for delegates-at-large.

ESCANABA REPRESENTED

Two Escanaba men will be numbered among the delegates at the Republican national convention at Chicago, June 14. Senator H. J. Rushton is one of the two delegates from the eleventh district, and John P. Norton is an alternate on the list of state delegates-at-large.

Millions Of Mice Plague Australia

Melbourne, Australia, May 9 (AP)—Millions of mice are destroying wheat, plundering homes, eating flowers in gardens, and harassing housewives in northwestern Victoria.

At Ouyen, one of the chief towns in the Mallee district, a policeman said a gang of mice had assaulted his cat and chewed off one of her ears and part of her tail.

Factories are working overtime to keep up with the demand for mousetraps.

Steel blackboards with enamel surfaces have been invented for schools.

Uncover Foundations Of Old French Fort

Detroit, May ' (AP)—Excavations in the state park at Mackinaw City have uncovered the foundation of an old French fort, all traces of which had disappeared many years ago and the exact location of which was disputed among historians.

Word of the discovery came to Kenneth M. Stevens, who is secretary of the Mackinac island board, a state body which has undertaken to reproduce the Mackinaw fort. Excavations which uncovered the ruins presented a start on that project.

Clarence Le Chance, superintendent in charge of the excavation, wrote Stevens that 341 feet of the stockade foundation had been brought to light and that the work was proceeding. He said the entire outline probably would be uncovered by the end of the week. The board will meet there next Friday to inspect the old fort lines.

The logs, driven into the ground, form a continuous wall, Le Chance wrote, and although they have been buried since 1714, retained their outline. They soon crumble, however, upon exposure to air.

The fort was built while the French were at war with the Fox Indians, who lived along the Wolf river on the Wisconsin side of Lake Michigan. Situated practically at the meeting point of Lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior, it was of the greatest strategic importance and was the western headquarters of Menard, Allouez, Marquette and others famous in missionary history. It was from that point Joliet set out on his tour of discovery south into the Mississippi valley.

The British occupied the fortification after the French surrendered Canada, but it was abandoned by the English in 1780 when they feared an American attack and withdrew to the island.

GLASS CLAIMS AFFILIATES OF BANK ILLEGAL

the legality of national bank affiliates.

"I venture to say that it's a legal classic, searching and sweeping and to the effect that national bank affiliates are absolutely illegal, that they contravene the national bank act, that the parent bank contravenes the national charter and that the affiliate in many instances contravenes the state statute and the charter of the state from which it derives its existence. Court opinion after court opinion of both inferior courts and supreme court of the United States are cited.

"No action was ever taken under this tremendously important opinion of the solicitor general. Not only was no action taken, but it within the confines of fact to say that the opinion was suppressed and few things have ever happened in this country that better illustrate the power and the blandishments of inordinate wealth, because the opinion dealt with institutions and individuals who had accumulated inordinate wealth. x x x

"Solicitor General Lehmann's opinion, in my mind shows the activities these affiliates are not only disastrous, as we now witness, but they are absolutely illegal."

Replying to questions from Moses, Glass said the present attorney general permitted him to have a photostatic copy of the Lehman opinion made.

Citizens Of State Giving Liquor to Students-Murray

Oklahoma City, May 9 (AP)—Governor W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray charged today prominent citizens of the state have been furnishing liquor to their sons at the University of Oklahoma at Norman and participating in parties there.

Threatening to "call names and dates if they don't quit it," the governor said he would order the sons dismissed from school if the parties continue.

Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the university, said that while occasionally "we run on to some of the alumni with liquor," he had not heard of parents bringing it to school.

"Of course," Dr. Bizzel said, "we have a little trouble with drinking. There isn't a school in the country that doesn't."

Burglars broke into an undertaking establishment at Mullins, S. C., but no coffins or embalming fluid were missed.

SAYS JOBLESS MIGHT REVOLT

New Drive Launched for Federal Relief to Unemployed

Washington, May 9 (AP)—A warning of possible revolt unless the federal government moves to prevent unemployment distress came from organized labor today as a new drive was launched for federal jobless relief.

The possibility of revolt was voiced by Edward F. McGrady, spokesman for the American Federation of Labor, before the senate manfactures committee. Hearings were opened on the Costigan bill to provide $500,000,000 for advances to states and municipalities through a bond issue.

Previously social workers from New York, Chicago and Philadelphia had testified local relief efforts were failing and appealed for federal help.

Meanwhile the movement for federal aid was apparently gaining ground in the senate, particularly among the Democrats.

Need Bread and Butter

There was some discussion of calling a Democratic conference to consider the many proposals offered.

McGrady startled the committee with his frank warning.

"If something is not done and starvation is going to continue and perhaps increase," he said, "the doors of revolution are going to be thrown wide open and leaders of the country ought to know it.

"The administration ought to know that more than balancing the budget is needed. Bread and butter are needed. We want to get it through work, but if we can't do that, we are going to get it anyway."

Many of the social workers who testified were among those who appeared in support of federal aid several months ago, but there was one new witness, C. C. Carstens, executive director of the Child Welfare League of America, who said he had been opposed to federal relief but now favors it.

Insurance Company Seeks Recovery Of Payment Of $1,950

Marquette, Mich., May 9 (AP)—The Manhattan Fire and Marine Insurance company has filed suit in circuit court here against Mrs. Bridget Harris, aged Marquette widow, to recover $1,950 paid to her on an insurance policy as the result of a fire, alleged to have been of incendiary origin, at an unoccupied dwelling of which she was the owner.

Mrs. Harris was sentenced at the last term of court to serve from one to twenty years in the Detroit house of correction after being convicted of arson, but the execution of sentence was stayed pending her appeal to the state supreme court. The high court is not expected to take up the case before the October term and in the meantime Mrs. Harris is out on $5,000 bail.

that the industrial and political leaders of the nation exert themselves more effectively in providing employment for the ten or eleven million willing workers who are now denied the opportunity to earn a living."

"It is the failure to recognize or apply this principle which in our judgment is the major cause of the present terrible depression in business."

CRUCIAL POINT IN BABY SEARCH

Curtis Believed to Be On Secret Mission By Airplane

Norfolk, Va., May 9 (AP)—A pivot point in the Lindbergh negotiations, with a new course of procedure believed to be dependent on a supposed plane trip to re-establish contact with the kidnapers, had apparently been reached today in the efforts of three Norfolk intermediaries to recover the famous baby.

As the reported final day set for continuing the negotiations in their present form drew to a close, silence concealed the activities of John Hughes Critis, principal negotiator, who is believed to have left the naval base here sometime since Friday night by plane. Lieut. George L. Richard, naval officer assisting the Norfolk boat builder, is thought to have piloted Curtis, and possibly Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, on the trip.

Sea Trips Failed?

The shift in activities came after two weeks of almost daily cruises out to sea to make contacts with the kidnapers or their representatives. The results of these cruises have been kept secret by Mr. Curtis and his associates, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, and the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock.

It is assumed that the repeated trips out to sea failed in part at least in forming satisfactory contacts and that the negotiators have resorted to another plane flight to re-establish an old contact. Such contacts, Mr. Curtis said, were made with go-between on previous trips by plane.

Several days ago it was reported a deadline had been set for today, unless new developments came in meanwhile. Whether such developments did come, was wrapped in the same close secrecy that conceals the entire work of the intermediaries.

In the meantime the discovery of a note referring to the Lindbergh baby started an intensive search of buildings on Broad street in Elizabeth City, N. C. Norfolk police reported the finding of the note today to officers of the North Carolina city. The note, found in a bottle washed ashore on North river, in eastern North Carolina, was printed with a pencil. It read:

"We are afraid to return the Lindbergh baby. It is on Broad street, Elizabeth City, North Carolina."

LANCASTER IS HELD FOR TRIAL

Flying Partner of Noted Aviatrix Indicted for Death of Clarke

Miami, Fla., May 9 (AP)—The Dade county grand jury today held that Captain W. N. Lancaster, former British army flier, must stand trial for the murder of Haden Clarke, 26-year-old author and fiance of Lancaster's flying partner, Mrs. J. M. Keith-miller.

The jurors returned a first degree murder indictment. Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson ordered the British aviator held without bail.

He probably will be tried during the term of court opening tomorrow. He has been in jail a week, since his arrest on a warrant sworn out by State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne.

The indictment was a new chapter in a killing, solution of which has defied authorities since Clarke was found fatally wounded early on the morning of April 21 in the bedroom he and Lancaster occupied at the home of Mrs. Keith-Miller.

Clarke and the Australian aviatrix had been working on preparation of her life story for publication. She and Lancaster, in low finances due to a long string of aerial misadventures since they made a London to Austrial flight in 1927, had seen sale of the life story as a means to procure funds.

The author and the aviatrix decided to marry, but because of her close association with Lancaster they agreed to advise him before being married.

Passage to Paris

Patou launches a color called Rose Opaline. Agnes creates a little string beret, and Vionnet startles Paris with her diaphanous evening gowns worn over incredibly brief maillots. Bruyere makes a coat with a scarf, and Schiaparelli sponsors dinner pajamas.

Those things happen within the closely guarded portals of the great French houses. Only one woman in a million will see them as the mannequins pass by. But two weeks later—three weeks at most—every American woman who reads a newspaper may know as much about the Paris Openings as the fortunate few.

Great department stores, tiny specialty shops, alert manufacturers, offer through their advertising what practically amounts to a restaging of these semi-annual presentations. Every successful model will be shown. Every significant trend will be recounted—and America will wear its Basque berets and its evening pajamas as nonchalantly as Cannes or Juan les Pins.

Two generations ago—or even one—this could not have been. And advertising has been a tremendous force in making it possible. Advertising has become the common carrier of fashion. There's a passage to Paris in the advertisements almost any day you look.

War Vets Reunion Plans Are Outlined

Oscar Brown and Otto Scheriff, members of the S. A. Valentine camp No. 21, which is making plans for the third annual reunion of the 34th Michigan Infantry of Spanish-American War Veterans in Escanaba July 2 to 4, were the principal speakers at the meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday noon.

Mr. Brown told of the Escanaba company's experiences in the Spanish-American war. The 34th Michigan, he explained, was composed of six companies from the upper peninsula and six more from the lower peninsula. Company L was made up of recruits from Escanaba, Marquette, Menominee, Negaunee, Champion and Republic, and the Escanaba contingent, of which only five survive, enlisted May 17, 1898. Two weeks training was put in at Island Lake near Detroit, and then the regiment was transferred to Camp Alger, Va., where they received two more weeks of drilling. They sailed aboard the Cruiser Yale from Newport News, arriving in Cuba June 27. Company L was discharged Nov. 26 of that year.

Mr. Scheriff reviewed the plans that are being made for the convention, and gave a list of the notables who will attend, including Congressman Frank James, General Summerall, Fred W. Green, Congressman Frank P. Bohn and Governor Wilber M. Brucker. The Kiwanis club voted to give the local committee its cooperation in making the reunion a success.

Fines Are Stiffer In Ontario Courts

Muskrat pelts are worth more in Ontario than they are in Michigan. Persons convicted of illegal possession of muskrats in Michigan are given as a rule a light fine or not infrequently suspended sentences.

Four men recently appearing before Magistrate D. M. Brodie in the Windsor police court and convicted of illegal possession of 4,007 muskrats were ordered to pay fines aggregating $4,007.00 or at the rate of $1.00 a pelt. Jail sentences running over a long term of years were ordered as alternatives to payment of the fines.

DOYLE SPEAKS TO LIONS CLUB

Tells of Opportunities in "Back to the Farm" Movement

Newberry, May 9.—With a declaration that "immediate steps must be taken to relieve the tax burden" under which the landowner is struggling and suggesting a definite plan of promotional activities for the entire Upper Peninsula whereby abandoned farms and cut over lands would be parceled out into small plots for projected summer colonies for the people from the crowded cities of the middle west, W. F. Doyle of Menominee, candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination, addressed the Lions Club here this evening.

Mr. Doyle painted a glowing word picture of the potential possibilities of the Upper Peninsula if the people will "only realize that we have a natural attractiveness equivalent to that enjoyed by the New England states with the advantage of a fine location among the central states."

He challenge the sincerity of "some of our state administrators" in their efforts to curtail expenses and lower taxes at the same time failing to eliminate some of the "needless commissions and bureaus which exist purely for political purposes and to be able to serve governmental patronage."

Starting from the days of exploration by Marquette and Joliet as missionaries and explorers in the upper peninsula, he traced the early development of the Northern Michigan and said that as Michigan became pre-eminent less than a hundred years ago with its wealth of forest land and mines it is again called on to testify to its own value today.

At no time did the speaker mention his own candidacy for the Michigan State Senate but advised his listeners that every county in the upper peninsula must take hold of itself "on this development matter" and insist that their representatives in Lansing launch these enterprises through legislation "just as the locks at the Soo were launched by Federal legislation and augmented through efforts of the state legislature."

WARD-ZANDI

Miss Marie Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ward and William Zandi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Celestine Zandi, all of Newberry, were quietly married on Monday morning at St. Gregories Catholic church with Rev. Fr. Eiling officiating. The young couple was supported by Miss Tessie McClellan and Leonard Zandi. The bride has been employed at the Newberry state hospital for some time. The groom is a pipefitter for the Newberry Lumber and Chemical company. Mr. and Mrs. Zandi will make their home here.

Music Festival In Be Held On Friday

Newberry, May 9 (Special)—The annual music festival, with 300 voices in the choruses giving a spring cantata, and the school work exhibit, will be held in the high school gymnasium on Friday night, May 13. The public is invited to attend.

"Spring Cometh" written by Alexander Barr will be the medium through which the work of the music department, directed by Arthur A. Neu, will be presented. The voices will be supported by the high school orchestra.

The musical part of the program will start at 8:30 and will last about one half hour. The high school building will be opened at 7 o'clock to allow all those who wish to visit the various departments where the exhibit of the work of the year will be shown. In the school rooms will be displayed, graphs, note books, and samples of the regular course of study. Sewing and cooking of the home economic and wood working and mechanical drawing of the manuel arts departments will attract unusual attention this year it is believed.

YOUNG MAN PASSES

Edward Holmberg, aged 22, died on Saturday evening at the local hospital following a brief illness. His parents are dead and he leaves a brother Frank Holmberg, the two young men having made their home together. The body was taken to the Beaulieu Funeral Home from where a service will be held on Tuesday morning. Burial will take place at Sac Bay Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Sam Bottrell of the Methodist Episcopal church will officiate.

NEWBERRY BRIEFS

GOLD STANDARD HISTORY TRACED

C. E. Kelso is Speaker At Escanaba Rotary Club Monday

Our Money and the Gold Standard, was the subject of a highly interesting address, delivered yesterday before the Escanaba Rotary club by Clarence E. Kelso, president of the Industrial Finance & Investment Corporation, of this city. In his address Mr. Kelso traced the history of the establishment of the gold standard among nations as a basis of trade and reviewed developments in recent months, during which several nations of the world have "gone off" the accepted standard for the settlement of their obligations.

Mr. Kelso called attention to the fact that in spite of the generally accepted belief that several nations have abandoned the gold standard, in fact no nation has yet definitely "gone off" that standard. What they have done, he said, was to temporarily suspend payments in gold, in order that their gold supplies might be conserved and replenished. Mr. Kelso quoted eminent economic authorities to prove that there is little likelihood of the United States being forced to abandon the gold standard, under any conditions that might develop, largely because this nation owes no foreign debts and recourse might be also taken, as a last resort, to a number of other actions.

Mr. Kelso's entire address was filled with interesting facts that were listened to by his audience with the closest attention.

Discover Remains Of Man In Woods

The remains of a man found in the Cusino swamp last week are believed to be those of an Austrian woodsman who disappeared about eleven years ago but there is nothing positive upon which to base the determination, except that a man disappeared from the vicinity of Shingleton about that time. Altogether there have been four men who disappeared in the swamp within the past dozen years. Nine years ago a man who worked in one of the camps in the vicinity procured a piece of rope, told his companions he intended to hang himself and disappeared into the swamp. It was believed that he executed his threat. Two others have been lost in that locality and never heard from since. The remains of the man found last week were merely the skull and bones of the body, the bones still being in the shoes he wore.

SOCIAL

Mr. and Mrs. John Lizotte entertained a number of friends last Saturday evening at their home on Grand Island. Michigan was played as the feature of the evening's entertainment. High score for ladies was won by Mrs. Frank Tierman and for men by H. W. Burrows. A two course lunch was served.

Sixty members of the Holy Name society attended eight o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart church last Sunday, after which they were served to breakfast at the parochial school hall by Mrs. T. W. Scholtes, Mrs. Ralph Brebner and Mrs. M. F. Madigan. There was an interesting talk by Mayor C. G. Kemp on "Mother's Day." Marie Alice Scholtes rendered a number of piano selections. The society will have similar meetings on the second Sunday of each month in the future.

DR. GARY MEYERS

Dr. Gary Cleveland Meyers, child specialist of Cleveland, will deliver addresses at Eben and in Munising tomorrow on "Health." He will speak at Eben at 10:30 a. m., central standard time, and at the Mather high school at 1 o'clock, daylight saving time, and at the Lincoln school at 2:30 where there will be a joint meeting of the different units of the city of the P. T. A. Dr. Meyers will speak in the evening at the Mather school for the benefit of those who are not able to attend the daytime meetings. There will be community singing and a musical program by the school band. A general invitation is extended to the public.

City Wages Cut

Menominee—Board of Public Works in meeting yesterday afternoon cut $2,300 a year from the wages of employees and officers of the city water works.

Salary of Superintendent Robert J. Campbell was cut from $2,000 to $1,500 a year, a saving of $500. He will continue to receive rent free, the superintendent's home at the water works with heat, light and water supplied.

Salary of William Pelnar, chemist, was cut from $1,920 a year to $1,440 a year, a saving of $480.

Freeman to Run

Iron Mountain—The candidacy of Rudolph K. Freeman for reelection to a fourth term as sheriff of Dickinson county has become a definite fact with the filing of his nomination petition.

Seek School Sup't.

Iron River—Applications for the position of superintendent of schools in Iron River, made vacant when Carl A. Pfeiffer accepted a similar position in the Mastodon township schools, are beginning to come in.

The board will meet May 17 to discuss the subject of selecting Pfeiffer's successor. Because of current conditions it is expected to obtain a good man at a comparatively low salary.

Pfeiffer's salary has been $4,500 a year for the last three years, although in February he, with the entire faculty, took a 10 per cent cut. It is said unofficially that the board will not pay the new appointee more than $3,500.

Lost Boy Found

Marquette—Robert Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow A. Clark, south Fourth street, was found at 2 o'clock yesterday morning in a marsh six miles north of the city and about a quarter of a mile west of Schweiter's clearing south of the L. S. & I. railway track on the Big Bay road after being lost about 11 hours in the swamp, during which time a steady drizzle of rain was falling.

Robert became separated from his mother and brother, Alden about 3:30 Saturday afternoon while picking arbutus. A searching party was organized at 6 o'clock and the number increased to about 50 volunteers. Travel in the woods became exceedingly difficult after dark, because of heavy mist and fog.

Cyclones, Indians Name This Family

Cadillac, Mich. (AP)—Originality, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Flemsay, is what they wanted in selecting the names of their children.

When their first boy came, they christened him Texas Ranger Fleming. The next one was given the name of Montana Lou. The Lou was in deference to his grandfather. A girl was next, and she was given the name of Virginia Paquita Fleming. The senior Fleming had spent some time along the Mexican border, and he says the name sounds "musically Spanish" to him.

They hit upon the name Kansas for their fourth child, a boy, and the fact that cyclones sometimes visit that state supplied the rest of the name. He is Kansas Cyclone Fleming. Then came Pontiac, their fifth child, a boy. History told the Flemings that there was an Indian chief of that name, so the full name of Pontiac Chief Fleming was given to him.

Two months ago the Flemings had a disappointment. They had the name Georgia Peaches all picked out in advance for the latest addition to the family. A son was born, however, instead of the daughter they had expected. Georgia Peaches would not do as a name for a boy, because they are opposed to incongruities.

The boy has been baptized Nevada Miner Fleming.

DUST

Makes Driving DANGEROUS

Driving blind in a dust cloud may have its thrills, yet hide tragedy around the curve.

Blinding dust is a major cause of motor car mishaps. Meeting a one-lighter on a dusty road, in the dark, is a nightmare. Your lights cannot penetrate the dust. You cannot tell which side the light is on. You are forced to decide instantly between two great risks. Shall you cut close, stay on the road and risk a crash? Or shall you give the other car plenty of room and risk a dust-hidden culvert, bridge or curve?

You need not face these possible tragedies, for dust can be stopped in a few hours so that air is clean and lights show ahead plainly.

Just ask local officials to apply moisture-absorbing Dowflake. It puts moisture into the road surface, stops dust in a few hours and holds it for weeks. It is clean, odorless and does not track into homes. It is an economical saver of road surface material. Our book "How To Control Dust" tells how Dowflake works. Write for the booklet today.

VANISHING SAILS

EIGHTEEN big sailing ships are now driving up from Australia toward England, carrying wheat from the great Australian grain fields; but not one of the ships flies the English flag, and not one flies the American.

This incidental bit of news is hardly surprising, considering the decline that the square-rigger has undergone in the last decade and a half; yet it does seem to mark, pretty clearly, the end of an epoch. For the Australian grain trade is the last real cruising ground of the full-rigged ship, and if ships of English and American registry are not to be found there they are not—with a handful of unimportant exceptions—to be found anywhere.

And that fact sets one thinking on the vast store of specialized knowledge and specialized ability that has become obsolete in the last few years. The lore of the sailing ship, handed down from the days of the Phoenicians, has grown useless and out of date.

Yachtsmen still cherish some of it, and these Finnish and Scandinavian sailors who have stuck to the Australian grain trade have their share; but for the most part the old, painfully-acquired and once invaluable knowledge by which men were able to make the vagrant winds carry the commerce of the world has become of no account—and, in a very few years, will have vanished utterly from the earth.

It took many centuries to compile that knowledge, and it was done by the trial and error method, by men who paid with their lives if they failed to learn fast enough. If, at any time prior to a generation ago, it had suddenly been lost, the world's trade and communications would have been paralyzed. It was one of the race's most priceless possessions.

But now it is going fast, and the world will not miss it. For human progress does things in a strange way, sometimes. It can spend long ages perfecting some tool and then, overnight, discard it entirely. Nothing endures except change.

TWO BIG EVENTS

THE beneficial results of two important movements in the education of the boys and girls of the upper peninsula were demonstrated at the two events that took place in Escanaba last Saturday.

The upper peninsula music festival in which about six hundred students participated, showed the remarkable progress that has been made in the field of school music within the last few years. Never in Escanaba's history have the people been given the opportunity to witness so impressive a spectacle as the parade of the various school bands. The competitive element was removed from the afternoon and evening programs, but the main purpose of presenting the public an exhibit of the music work in the public schools was certainly accomplished. The festival was a genuine treat to the many music lovers who came from all parts of the district, and much credit for the success of the event is due to Chairman R. P. Bowers and the others who assisted him.

The other event was the annual 4-H achievement day program at the senior high school, where club members from various communities of the county exhibited the results of their winter's work in handicraft, sewing and other projects. The 4-H program has been praised in no uncertain terms in these columns before, and there is scarcely any need of dwelling on its various details now. The 4-H club program, however, offers to the boys and girls of our rural communities a splendid opportunity to develop their latent powers and do something really constructive. Participation in club work prepares many youths for the serious business of modern farming, but even though they decide to enter other than agricultural careers the early training will have its benefits. They are taught to do every task well, and that is a principle that means for success in any field of endeavor.

Widespread interest in the music festival and the 4-H achievement program was shown in the large number of visitors who were in our city Saturday. We hope that they all enjoyed the day spent in Escanaba, and that we will have the opportunity to entertain them many times again.

AN EMINENT DRY SPEAKS

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE, of Kansas, a leading exponent of prohibition and probably the nation's foremost dry publicist, displays a commendable spirit of tolerance in advocating resubmission of the Eighteenth amendment. In doing so, however, he yields not a whit in his devotion to the dry cause. In fact, he says he would conduct a vigorous campaign for retention of the amendment, if it were to be resubmitted. A new vote, he believes, would give the friends of prohibition an opportunity to aid their cause and glorify the benefits derived from 12 years of dry law enforcement. He does not fear the outcome of a referendum.

White recalls that it was through the recognition of the right of the minority that prohibition received its first chance. He invokes the same principle today and admits that unquestionably the wets, whom he declares now to be in the minority, are entitled to the same opportunity, displaying an admirable consistency. The "rebellion," as he terms it, against prohibition is menacing government. The wets are doubly grieved and outraged, because they feel they have no constitutional machinery to bring their cause before the public. He says:

"The sooner this question is out on the ballots and the sooner some constitutional formula is devised which will permit other minorities, like the wet minority, to appeal to the people, the better this country will be, and the safer the federal government."

The Kansas publisher has hit the nail on the head. Much legitimate feeling is growing against the prohibitory law because its advocates insist on closing the door to any reconsideration.—Columbus Dispatch.

On May 10, 1918, it was announced that 250,000 Italian troops had been concentrated in France to swell reserves of the allied armies against the German offensive.

This drain on Italy's forces was said not to weaken the Italian front which, at the same time, was preparing for a threatened Austrian push.

The Man Hunters

(By NEA Service) By MABEL MCELLIOTT

CHAPTER XXXV

WHEN Jack Waring took Denise Ackroyd away from the Gleddings' party on New Year's eve he had formulated no exact plan. He was by nature a meddler and his quick, prying mind had seized on the little drama as something entertaining. He could see the triangle: Susan, the poor working girl; Denise, the spoiled child of fortune; and young Robert Dunbar, whom each hoped to win.

The visit to Tony's proved rather dull. There had been too much noise and the overheated place had made them both ill-tempered without quite knowing why. The man had learned little more of the story. He was determined, however, to know the rest. Driving back in the cold air he said lazily to the girl, "When shall I see you again?"

The pale, petulant face stared straight ahead. The childish, fretful voice answered sleepily. "Don't know. Never, probably, the way I feel now. That champagne Laura fed us must have been poison. I feel wretched."

"That," countered Jack Waring easily, "was the lobster you insisted on having at Tony's. And the ice cream."

"It was the champagne," Denise insisted solemnly. "That's my story and I'll stick to it."

"You're a little mule, aren't you?" asked the man, laughing.

Denise drew her wrap around her regally. "We Ackroyds have wills of our own," she said so pompously that Waring could scarcely manage to maintain his gravity. More than ever now he was certain she had been reading Michael Arlen.

"And do you always get what you want?" He was very grave.

"Yes, we do." She eyed him suspiciously. "Why do you want to know?"

"Oh, I was just wondering." He steered the talk into other channels.

It was a week later that he met Bob Dunbar in the drawing room of the Ackroyd's apartment in town. High above the outer drive it was, with great windows overlooking the lake. Denise was entertaining. The room was filled with beautifully dressed girls and bored looking young men.

"You know Bobby, don't you?" Denise said.

"Yes, of course." The two men shook hands. Waring thought the boy looked thinner and older than when he had last seen him.

* * *

DENISE said. "I'm warning you! Don't climb into a corner and talk business, because I won't have it. You've got to circulate. We have too many females." She drifted on to another group, a slim, exotic figure in a black frock that molded every line of her figure.

"She looks lovely today, doesn't she?" Waring asked.

"Who? Oh, yes, Denise." The boy roused himself from some abstraction to reply.

Waring appraised him shrewdly. That he was not in love with this girl was plain to the dullest onlooker.

"It's my job to find out just how the land lies," Waring observed to himself. Skillfully he led the talk around to the office. The house at Half-Day was working out interestingly, wasn't it? He had some new plans sketched for the stables. He would like Bob to stop by the office some day and see them.

Keenly he watched the boy's eyes. Some new emotion darkened them for the instant.

Yes, Bob said. He'd do that. Waring was shrewdly silent.

"By the way," blurted Bob, "I don't suppose Miss Carey is still with you. She was married, wasn't she?"

Waring did not need to assume astonishment. "Married? No, of course not. What put that into your head?"

"I was given to understand," Bob said slowly. "Wait a minute let me think this out. I was certainly told she was going to be married to that orchestra fellow and go to California."

Waring shrugged. "I've heard nothing about it," he said, "and I don't believe there's a word of truth in it since she's not the sort of girl to leave without giving notice. Who told you?" he pursued again.

"Honestly, I don't know," Bob said, but involuntarily his gaze strayed to the little group of which Denise was the center. She was being very gay this afternoon. She was in her element. A pasty-faced youth who had earlier advertised some vague connection with the theater was telling a story and Denise's shrill laughter was the noisiest of all.

"Let's clear out of this," Bob muttered. "We'll never be missed and I know a way we can slip out through the service entrance without being caught." Waring agreed, smiling to himself over the success of his first shot.

They swung along Michigan avenue side by side. The winter wind seemed good after the scented, hothouse atmosphere they had just left. Bob squared his shoulders and Waring, glancing sidewise at the fine profile, applauded Susan's taste.

"Do you mind if I stop in tomorrow morning to look at those things?" Bob asked him at parting. "About 11?"

"Not at all. That will be splendid," Waring told him heartily. As he went back to the hotel where he lived he felt a glow of conscious righteousness.

"I was a Boy Scout before," he reflected. "Now it looks as though I am going to be a blooming Cupid."

BUT Bob Dunbar did not come to the office the next day. He telephoned to say that the doctor had diagnosed his sore throat as quinsy, and he would not be allowed to go out for several days at least. Did Waring have Miss Carey's home address? Waring said that he did and supplied it. The young man seemed grateful.

Waring did not mention the fact that Susan was no longer at the office. He had learned it himself only that morning. Heath had explained rather stiffly that Miss Carey's aunt was ill and she would not return for some time if at all.

"The old man's keeping something back," Waring said to himself. After he had given Susan's address to Dunbar he felt better. The boy would go to see her and everything would be made right.

"I've spiked that young lady's guns all right," he muttered, thinking of Denise. He looked with distaste at the girl who had come from the agency to fill Susan's place. She was tall and thin with a pink nose and pale blue eyes which looked as if she might have been crying.

"I'll miss that kid," Waring told Pierson confidentially a few minutes later.

Bob Dunbar, at home, raged and tossed about like a caged lion. Of course he could telephone Susan or write her a letter but he did not want to do either of these things. There had been misunderstandings enough between them. Bob felt he must see her face to face. What an idiot he had been all along! He must see Susan face to face and then there would be no more of this nonsense.

When Denise telephoned Bob told the Chinese boy to say he was too ill to speak. She must not come over because the sore throat was highly contagious. Bob knew that would stop Denise; she hated any sort of illness.

"We Ackroyds have marvelous health," she was fond of saying, throwing back her bright, little

LYRICS OF LIFE

IN TIMES LIKE THESE

In times like these no state can help no man
These are the times the man must help the state,
Think out his problems, set his own house straight
Plan for himself, not ask the state to plan.
We must begin again where we began,
Back where the individual was great,
By his own effort fashioned his own fate,
Before America American.

In times like these we learn that men make lands,
Not lands make men, their fortunes must maintain
In easy times his duty not so plain,
The citizen forgets, misunderstands
But when prosperity on shifting sands
Begins to tremble, then the thinking brain
Must set the rock beneath the point of strain,
Each his own corner, each with his own hands.

In times like these, when politicians please
With promises the state the load will bear,
We must recall our strength is never there
That walls make houses and that roots make trees.
Think hard, work hard, find opportunities
Where there seems none, do each his equal share
The wall to strengthen and the corner square,
And men and nations come through times like these.

Do You Remember?

Do you remember when the Opera House was over what is now the Clark, Beck and Bender garage, 316 Ludington Street, and the Opera Grand, second theatre in Escanaba, was over what is now the Delta Taxi at 228 Ludington Street?

Do you remember when the Misses Mary and Angeline Lavigne taught school at their home, 324 South Ninth street to young men who wanted to learn the English language in order to secure citizenship papers? Angeline Lavigne is now Mrs. Louis Mayee of Seattle, Wash., and Mary Lavigne is Mrs. Clifford Barron, sr., of Flat Rock.

Do you remember the first home talent play given in the Opera Grand about 45 years ago and the opening number was sung by a large chorus. The title of the opening song was "This Life is what we make It." William Comford sang a solo entitled "No Matter How Poor She May Be, There Is No One Like Mother to Me." The house was packed.

Do you remember when James Tolan played the bass violin in a local orchestra? It was a borrowed instrument and he tripped on his way into a building and smashed the instrument to pieces.

SCHOOL CENSUS STARTS MAY 11

Three Enumerators Named to Make Count In Escanaba

Beginning Wednesday, May 11, the annual school census will be taken in Escanaba and throughout Delta county in accordance with the state law which provides for an enumeration every year. The census will continue for the last 20 days of May.

R. E. Cheney, superintendent of the Escanaba schools, announced Monday that Miss Carrie Wallace would be in charge of the census in the city of Escanaba, and the enumerators will be Harold Tolan, Mrs. Mary Maves and Mrs. George Casey.

All children between the ages of 5 and 20 are considered of school age, regardless of whether they are attending school or not, and the county's share of state school funds is based on the number of children between these ages, according to C. U. Woolpert, county commissioner of schools.

Questions asked by ennumerators of each family will be the father's and mother's name and place of birth. The children will be listed as to month, day and year of birth and also as to birthplace. Families will also be asked whether they are home owners or tenants.

A greater effort than ever before will be made this spring to procure an accurate list of crippled children in the state of Michigan. As long as there is a deformity the child is considered a cripple, whether he attends school or not. Special blanks are to be given out for crippled children this year. Blind and deaf children will also be listed.

It has been discovered that the census information regarding crippled children is often inaccurate. This is in part due to the enumerator's inability to recognize cases having slight orthopedic conditions, or, to the parents' unwillingness to submit the proper information. Many times parents are of the erroneous idea that is is a disgrace to have a crippled child, and consequently try to seclude the child or withhold necessary information.

About 100 Receive Seed Loans; Final Day Is Wednesday

Since announcement was made that the government would loan money to farmers for spring planting expenses, about 100 Delta county farmers have made application for federal assistance, and checks have already been received by several of the early applicants.

Some applications are still being received at the office of the county agricultural agent in Escanaba, but Wednesday will be the last day for receiving them, due to the fact that the papers must be received at the regional office in St. Paul by Saturday. The time limit was originally set for April 30, but was extended two weeks in Michigan and a few other states.

The limit which may be borrowed from the government for purchases of seed or fertilizer is $400, but only one or two Delta county farmers have requested the full amount. The loans are due and payable Nov. 30, 1932, or sooner if the crops covered by the mortgage are sold prior to that date, and bear interest at the rate of 5½ percent. Full instructions as to the method of payment will be sent to each borrower before the maturity date of the loan.

Predatory Animals In Upper Peninsula Well Under Control

Wolves, coyotes and other predatory animals in the upper peninsula are now well under control, according to H. P. Williams, federal trapper in charge of the extermination program, who has his offices in the Escanaba postoffice building.

This is the busy season of the year for the trappers as they are now engaged in routing out the wolves and coyotes from their dens. Because of the reduced appropriation of the state conservation department, the force of state trappers has been cut in half. Fourteen trappers are now employed in the upper peninsula and one in lower Michigan, Mr. Williams stated.

Mr. Williams took charge of the predatory animal control activities in Michigan two years ago. Wolves have been the most numerous in the Tahquamenon river region in Luce and Chippewa counties and in the Cisco Lake country in the western end of the peninsula, and have caused much destruction of deer and other animal life. Their depredations have been checked considerably however.

The damage that a wolf does can be readily realized, according to Mr. Williams, who estimates that a den of these predators will need a deer daily for their sustenance. A wolf breeds once yearly, and the litter numbers from five to eleven pups. Seven pups are about the average litter, Mr. Williams estimates. Many wolves and coyotes come into the upper peninsula from Wisconsin and Canada, which emphasizes the need for their control. If wolves and coyotes were allowed free rein, the deer population of the upper peninsula would be exterminated within a few years, he predicts.

During the fiscal year June 30, 1930 to June 30, 1931, the following number of various predatory animals have been killed by the trappers: wolves, 71; coyotes, 666; bobcats, 161; predatory bears, 44; fox, 104; and miscellaneous, including, woodchucks, weasels, raccoons, wild dogs, minks, 3,813. In the half year, ending Jan. 1, 1932, the kill has been as follows: wolves, 51; coyotes, 377; bobcats, 56; bears, 38, miscellaneous, 2,463.

City Plants Trees Along Shore Drive

Trees were planted this week along the bay as a part of the city's landscaping program on the parkway drive at the east end of Ludington street.

The drive is constructed largely of filled-in land, and was extended last year from the end of Ludington street at Second street to follow the bay shore and join Lake Shore Drive at the intersection with First avenue south. The new park has been seeded to grass, and will be beautified with trees and shrubs.

St. Francis Hospital

Eleanor Richer of Gladstone was admitted for an operation for relief from appendicitis.

DRUNK, ALL RIGHT

Evansville, Ind.—A charge of "drunken driving" was filed against Earl Baumgartner after he had driven his car into the house of Jacob Kramer. Hospital doctors came to his aid, however, and explained to police that Baumgartner was drunk, but his intoxication was from ether taken in a dentist's office, and not from alcohol.

PLENTY OF FISH BEING HATCHED

Pike-Perch Popular; Thompson Hatchery Receives Eggs

What is expected to be perhaps the largest distribution of pike-perch or "yellow pickerel" in Michigan's lakes in years will be made by the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation within the next three weeks.

Spawning conditions in Saginaw Bay where all of the eggs were obtained, were ideal it was said, and unusually large quantities of eggs were gathered by commercial fishermen and turned over to the state.

Spawning Delayed

Spawn taking began immediately with the reopening of the pike-perch commercial fishing season April 11. Spawning had been somewhat delayed because of the fact that the freeze-up in Saginaw Bay did not come until late during the past winter. Then began a gradual rise in temperature facilitating spawning.

The Bay City hatchery is working at full capacity with all hatching jars filled. During the past year additional jars were brought from the now closed Bayport Hatchery and some jars were transferred from the Hastings station. About 1,000 jars are operating, each containing nearly half a million pike-perch eggs. Some eggs were also sent to the Thompson Hatchery in Schoolcraft county where experiments are being made with pike-perch propagation. The Lydell Hatchery also received an allotment. Some eggs were furnished the federal hatchery at Alpena.

Hatched at Chicago

Because of the fact that an extraordinary quantity of eggs were obtained by commercial fishermen this year taxing the Department of Conservation's ability to take care of all of them, several hundred quarts were given to Indiana and Chicago. Some of the eggs hatched at Chicago will be planted in Lake Michigan.

Pike-perch are planted immediately after hatching because of their cannibalistic tendencies.

Escanaba Motorists Parking Violators; Police Check Cars

Checking up Saturday afternoon on how well Escanaba motorists observe the new one-hour parking regulation, police officers found 22 automobiles overstaying their limit on Ludington street between Seventh and Twelfth street. The survey was made between 3 and 4 p. m., and 14 of the cars parked over the limit were local machines.

In a half-hour check-up Saturday evening, Traffic Officer Philip Bruce reported four violations of the "no U turn" ruling which applies between Sixth and Fourteenth streets, and found three cars operating with but one headlight. A similar survey on the previous Saturday showed up 27 "one-eyed" automobiles.

Police are planning their annual campaign against defective brakes, lights and safety equipment, and will conduct their brake inspection drive again this year, probably next month. The police department has found that this annual check-up on brakes, lights, horns and drivers' licenses brings results, and they regard it as a big factor in keeping accidents reduced to a minimum.

ROCK

Rock, Mich. (Special)—Mothers Day was very fittingly celebrated here Sunday afternoon with a special program at the high school auditorium.

The program was presented by the high school dramatic club, under the direction of Miss Genevieve Kenny, English instructor. It was composed of several musical numbers, poems, readings and a one-act play, which were all well presented, and which were well received by the large crowd present at the ceremonies. The stage was attractively decorated with flowers suitable for the occasion.

The program was as follows:

Piano solos—Miss Grace Williams—Liebestraum (Liszt); Waltz (Scott); Prelude in C Sharp Minor (Rachmaninoff).

"Origin of Mothers' Day" Lauha Hakanen.

Vocal solo, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine"—Charles Larson; Grace Williams, acc.

Poem, "My Mother" Helmi Jokinen.

Poem, "Nobody Knows But Mother" Dorothea Molloy.

Violin Solo, "Love and Flowers (Aldich) Vivian McNamee; Gertrude McNamee, acc.

Playlet, "Recompense" Mrs. Willis Irma Leppanen; Mr. Willis, Runar Sjoland; Frank Willis, Clarence Sayen; Mrs. Blair, Josephine Bridges.

Piano solo, "Shepherd's Lullaby" (Hewitt)—Bernard Larson.

Reading, "Home for Mothers Day" Frank Besaw.

Mothers Day Sermon: Part 1, Pearl Kaukola; Part 2, Evelyn Miljour; part 3, Josephine Bridges.

Violin Solo, "Charlotta" Leslie Rivers.

Humorous poem, "Ma's Tools Philip Molloy.

Poem, "The Echo of a Song" Hazel Stewart.

Piano selections: "The Parade of the Robins," Marilyn Johnson; "The Grasshopper."

Poem, "When Mother Scrubs," Edna Brow.

"Mighty Lak' A Rose" (Nevin)—Svea Sjoland.

"I Love You Truly" (Bond)—Charles Larson.

MRS. MARGARET GOLDBACH

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Goldbach, 90, one of Escanaba's oldest residents, who died early Saturday morning, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, Rev. Father Edward Leary, pastor, officiating. The body was prepared for burial at the Allo Funeral Home and Sunday afternoon was taken to the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Weber, 1314 Second Avenue south, a daughter, with whom Mrs. Goldbach lived, to remain there until the time of the services. Attending the funeral mass this morning will be members of the Married Ladies' Altar society of St. Joseph's church and of the Third Order of St. Francis to which Mrs. Goldbach belonged. Burial following the services will be in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery. Six grandsons will serve as pallbearers, Peter, Fred, Robert and Harold Weber and Louis and Sherman Nehls.

Out-of-town relatives who arrived here Sunday and Monday for the services include Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nehls and sons, Louis and Sherman of Detroit; Mrs. John Aiken and son, Jack, jr., of Milwaukee; Julia Marie Neubert, of Milwaukee and Peter Weber of Racine, Wis.

Fish in Tennessee no longer can take Sunday off. The legislature made hunting on Sunday the only violation of law.

Washington Has High Record of Dental Health

The Washington grade school building is shown to have passed the 25 per cent perfect dental health mark in the April dental honor roll report issued by the office of the superintendent of schools. Though this is a little lower record than has been set by some of the other schools in the system the report points out that this 25 per cent record very nearly equals the highest dental health rating ever previously achieved by the Washington.

According to school authorities, recent dental care given to indigent children of the Washington school primary grades by the Children's Fund of Michigan dental clinic was partically responsible for the improved dental honor roll standing made during the month.

Miss Vendela Sundquist's third grade room has the highest record at the Washington with 46 per cent of the class in good dental health. Principal Lenora Ryan's sixth grade and Miss Esther Carlson's fourth grade are tied for second place, each of these rooms having 26 percent of the class on the dental honor roll.

The names of those added during the month are:

Miss Margaret Bezold's kindergarten: Geraldine Pinozek.

Miss Elsie Nelson's first grade: Margaret Provo, Marland Moreau.

Miss Emma Wagner's second grade: Joyce Krebs.

Miss Noreen Hughes's second grade: Emma Dunn, Emil Frappier, Lucille Deiter, Robert Vannberg, Jack Woolcock.

Miss Vendela Sundquist's third grade: Allen Kidd, Bernard Steede, Lionel Krebs, Edwin Carlson, Donald Garvey, Helen Vannberg.

Miss Esther Carlson's fourth grade: Joseph Glurdenwood, Glenn Asselin.

Miss Berenice Firkus's fifth grade: Antonio Willette, Jean Knutsen, George Drivas.

Miss Helen Fesing's sixth grade: Terry Hanley, Ernest Deiter, Patricia Kidd, Parayotis Drivas.

A daughter, Joan Marie, was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pintler of Chicago. Mother and baby are at the home of Ed. Pintler in Wells.

Mrs. Leonard Lahaie, Eleventh avenue south, and her baby, Leonard Paul, were dismissed from the Maternity hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Quinn of Sparta, Wis., are the parents of a daughter, born Saturday night at St. Francis hospital. Mother and baby are both doing fine. The daughter is the second child in the family and is the first daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Quinn. Mrs. Quinn is the former Miss Dorothy Casey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Casey and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Casey of this city.

Crowning Of Virgin Proves Impressive

The beautiful ceremony of Crowning the Blessed Virgin Mother was carried out without a flaw at St. Joseph's church Sunday evening. The church was crowded.

A long line of girls in white, the pages, flower girls, maids of honor, crown bearer, and leader made a beautiful picture.

The high school girls were in evidence with their attractive uniform and sang the appropriate hymns for the occasion.

Engagement Announced

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Helen Mattson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mattson of Munising, to C. Leonard Johnson, only son of Mrs. J. B. Johnson of this city. The wedding will take place in June.

Sodality Card Party

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's church will conduct a card party Wednesday evening, May 11, at 8 o'clock in the church club rooms. The party has been arranged in honor of the annual Mother's Day observance and all mothers are cordially invited to attend. There will be no admission fee. A lunch will be served by the girls.

Dancing Girls to Add Color to "E" Men's Minstrel

Appearing in seven special dance numbers a group of girls from Miss Elaine McDermand's physical education classes will add color and variety to the E Men's Minstrel to be presented by the Escanaba high school on May 17 and 18. There will be a matinee performance on May 17 and an evening show on the 18th.

The dance numbers that have been added to the program are a regular part of the training in Miss McDermand's girls' gym classes. They are all to snappy rythms and with the gay costumes of the nimble performers promise to add a touch that has been lacking in most minstrel presentations of the past.

Favorite Recipe

Betty Ann

Orange loaf is a delicious cake, easy to make and something the entire family will enjoy. Mrs. Murray of Gladstone gives Betty Ann readers her recipe for it.

Orange Loaf Cake

One-half cup butter
One cup sugar
One egg
One cup sour milk
One teaspoon soda
Two and one-half cups flour
One orange, whole
One cup raisins, cut up
One-half cup chopped nut meats

Cream the butter and sugar, add the beaten egg, then the milk into which the soda has been stirred. Beat in the flour, add the orange which has been put through food chopper with fine knife, and then raisins and nut meats. Bake in a greased loaf pan in a moderate oven. Cover with any plain frosting or whipped cream.

"George in a Jam" Three Act Comedy Is Hilarious Fun

What would you do if you were a happy go-lucky young man accustomed to plenty of money, and your guardian suddenly announced that he was sailing for Europe and was leaving you without a cent, without even the five hundred dollars you needed so urgently, although you might continue to live in his beautiful home with plenty to eat and a fine place to sleep?

That is the problem facing George Forbes in "George in a Jam," the hilariously funny comedy which is being presented here Thursday evening in William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium by St. Stephen's Guild. That is, it is a problem until the wind blows a "Rooms for Rent" sign from next door to his steps, and he and his chum, Jack, are inspired to take in roomers.

From then on the three-act play is one lively, mirthful situation after another, for the two young men, and their roomers, to say nothing of the rest of the household.

The play, which is under the direction of Mrs. G. W. Moll, will begin Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets for it are now on sale and indications are that it will be enjoyed by a capacity audience.

Escanaba Group Hears Lecture At Menominee

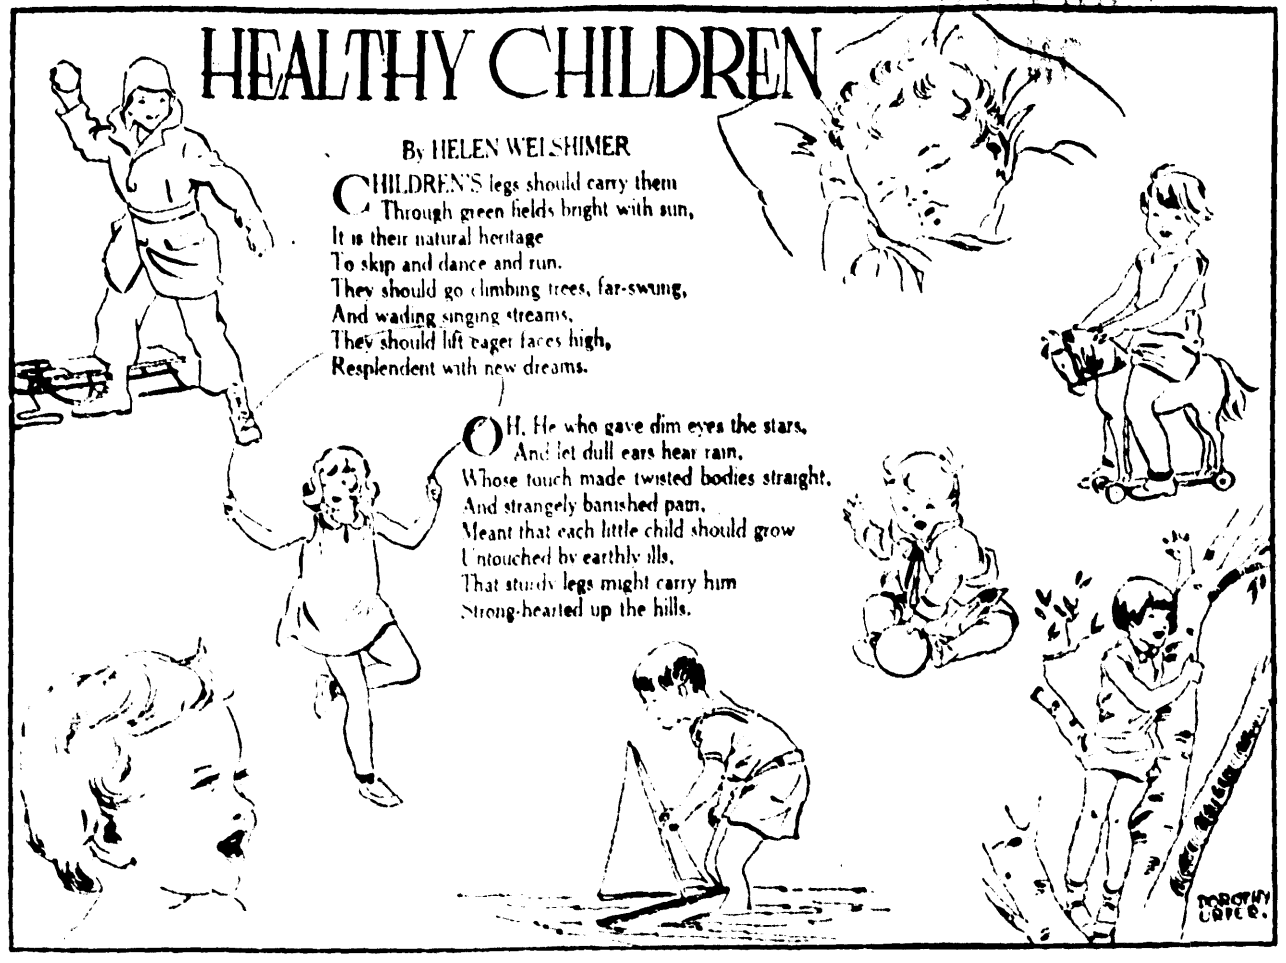
A representative group of members of the Escanaba Parent-Teacher association, in acceptance of the Menominee Parent-Teacher association's invitation, motored there Monday to hear a lecture by the Menominee guest speaker, Gary Cleveland Meyers, national child educator, of Western Reserve university.

The Escanaba group attended the afternoon meeting at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Meyers was also scheduled to speak at a second meeting last evening.

Attending the meeting were Mmes. J. H. Stephens, F. J. Earle, A. N. Wilson, Herbert LaCrosse, R. E. Cheney, Howard Johnson, A. J. Schmeltzer, E. F. O'Leary, Walter Dickson, H. I. Davies, John Fredenberg and Arthur Peterson.

Club Meeting to Be Held In Church

The Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Escanaba Woman's club at which a piano recital will be given by Mrs. W. H. Summers, will be held in the First Presbyterian church, instead of the Junior high school building, the place of the last few metings. It will begin at the usual hour, 3 o'clock.



HEALTHY CHILDREN

By HELEN WELSHIMER

CHILDREN'S legs should carry them
Through green fields bright with sun,
It is their natural heritage
To skip and dance and run.
They should go climbing trees, far-swung,
And wading singing streams,
They should lift eager faces high,
Resplendent with new dreams.

OH, He who gave dim eyes the stars,
And let dull ears hear rain,
Whose touch made twisted bodies straight,
And strangely banished pain,
Meant that each little child should grow
Untouched by earthly ills,
That sturdy legs might carry him
Strong-hearted up the hills.

Mrs. Carlton Is Named Regent of D. A. R. Chapter

Mrs. A. J. Carlton was re-elected Regent of Lewis Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the annual election at Monday afternoon's meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Perrin, 115 Ogden avenue.

Officers of the Chapter named Monday to serve during the coming year are:

Mrs. Carlton—Regent.
Mrs. R. J. Riley—Vice Regent.
Mrs. H. L. Hoiderman—Recording Secretary.
Mrs. G. R. Stegath—Corresponding Secretary.
Mrs. G. W. Moll—Treasurer.
Mrs. G. C. Craver—Registrar.
Mrs. C. S. Norton—Historian.
Miss Myra Mason—Chaplain.

Annual reports on the activities of the chapter during the year were also presented at the business meeting.

Mrs. C. C. Royce Back From West

Mrs. C. C. Royce returned to Escanaba Sunday morning and has reopened her residence at 504 South Fifth street, after spending the winter months in California. Mrs. Royce was in Los Angeles for the greater share of the time, but following the death of her brother, John Godley, accompanied his body to Oberlin, O., for burial there. She returned west as far as Atlantic, Ia., where she visited for five weeks with her daughter, Mrs. S. M. Childs, coming on to Escanaba by way of Chicago from Iowa.

Mother's Program Draws Large Crowd

St. Joseph's school's Mother's Day was given to an audience Sunday night that filled the auditorium and flowed out into the corridors down on the steps, every available space being taken.

The program was very interesting, one picture following another in masses of color, brilliant lights; dainty little maids and sturdy little lads.

The birds were there with feathers and song, Bo-Peep and her crook, Irish lassies, Dutch maids, children of Italy, Spain and America, all vied with one another in honoring the mother.

Legion Auxiliary Closes Contest This Evening

Closing of the American Legion Auxiliary membership contest and announcing the winning team will feature the meeting of the Auxiliary which will be held this evening in Grenier's hall, at 8 o'clock.

The contest has been in progress for several weeks with two teams working under the captainship of Mrs. Henry Breault and Mrs. Ed Nelson.

Following the business meeting the Auxiliary members will be guests at a social time of which Mrs. Dorothy Boyle is chairman.

Bicycling Fad Hits Society At Chicago Suburb

Chicago (AP) Chic young society matrons of suburban Lake Forest are making their social calls on bicycles these days.

The fad started at parties where guests were taken bicycling and roller-skating, but now the cycling fever has broken right out into daylight.

Several of the suburb's most prominent young married women have bought "bikes," and they take to the sport with the same enthusiasm that their mothers used to ride tandem.

Since its foundation 72 years ago, the Providence House for refugees, Spitalfields, England, has given 5,800,000 free meals for the homeless.

Glamor Is Rule Of Frocks For Cocktail Hour

BY BARBARA BEAUFORT
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

Paris (AP) "Glamor and glitter" are the style standard for the formal cocktail hour.

Gloom has no part in the 5 to 7 frolic, which has become one of the most important social sessions of the day for which smart women don glamorous frocks.

Lines Are Flattering

Lines are seductive and flattering, although pruned of unnecessary details; colors are soft and sophisticated, and necklaces, otherwise banished from the style picture, are often part of the ensemble.

Many a tea'time frock is fashioned around the shimmering necklace with which it is worn.

The design of the cocktail frock is often a cross between the dinner gown and the silk daytime dress.

Its soft full skirt is worn about eight inches from the ground, and its sleeves may be long or short, while its fabric is generally a lustreless silk crepe.

Frock Has Lace Top

One frock of dull blue green crepe is designed with a Philippine lace top finished with a little lace cape falling to the elbows and worn with a necklace of iridescent blue-green beads shaped like seashells.

Another of pearl grey flamisol, designed with long sleeves puffed at the shoulder, a close-fitting hipline and a full lower skirt, is worn with a necklace made of seven cloth-of-silver ropes, while a third of pansy blue crepe fashioned with elbow puffed sleeves is accented by a necklace and front beltline of small crimson carnations.

County Clubs in Achievement Day Program Today

Home management clubs of Delta county, who have completed their regular program for the year will hold its achievement day program and exhibit today at a big meeting to be held in the Rapid River Community building. The clubs include three groups, Ensign, St. Nicholas and Rapid River.

The county achievement day meeting will open at 10 o'clock this morning. There will be a program of interesting games to entertain members and visitors and the work done by club members will be on exhibit and will be a special attraction. Dinner will be served at noon as planned and provided for families and friends by special committees of the three groups.

The afternoon meeting will include a play based on the homemaking problems which the groups have studied during the year, to be presented by a group of members, reports of work done and awarding of certificates.

The project work this year, as a part of the extension program of the Michigan State college, supervised by the office of Joseph E. Turner, county agent, with classes directed and taught by Miss Margaret Harris, home economics leader, has been exceptionally successful. The St. Nicholas community club, enrolled in the home furnishing program, made hooked, braided and crocheted rugs, which will be on display today. The Ensign and Rapid River clubs in home management work have made efficiency note books containing timely information on household items, recipes and shortcuts in daily tasks, which will be shown.

The achievement day gathering, marking the close of the year's club work, is expected to draw a large attendance.

Theatres

Picture patrons will be able to see D. W. Griffith's latest offering at the Delft theatre, beginning today, when "The Struggle," a United Artists picture, is presented in this city for the first time. This is the first picture which the celebrated director has made since his recent "Abraham Lincoln" which latter film was declared one of the best ten of the past season. "The Struggle" has created much comment wherever it has been shown on account of its realistic scenes and dramatic power.

The central character is that of a young American working man who is unable to break an unnecessary habit even when he sees its continuance engulfing in ruin his home and his loved ones. "The Struggle" tells a dramatic story lightened throughout by human touches and compounded of the comedy and tragedy of everyday life.

Just what is the struggle from which the picture derives its title each playgoer will doubtless decide for himself. Some will see in it the struggle of a man against his own infirmities; some the struggle of a young wife to save her home and preserve her marital happiness; others the struggle of a nation against an adverse social condition.

Anita Lee and John Emerson prepared the story for the screen. Hal Skelly, who rose to stellar heights with his magnificent performance in the stage play "Burlesque," and Zita Johann, another star of the speaking stage, who is now seen for the first time on the screen, share honors in the featured roles. Charlotte Wynters, Edna Hagan, an eight-year-old actress whose performance is said to be sensational, and Jackson Halliday and Evelyn Baldwin, who portray a pair of young lovers carry the burden of the other leading roles.

The first lady of the land, Martha Washington, wore the first printed dress goods made in America. The manufacturer was John Hewson, of Philadelphia.

Eagles Honor Mothers With Fine Program

A Mother's Day initiation, a supper at which mothers were honored guests, and a program honoring them in the evening were held by the Escanaba Eagles at their meeting on Sunday at the Eagles' hall, South Ninth street.

The initiation ceremonies were held during the afternoon, the supper following. Mothers were presented with beautiful roses as gifts, and members wore a small insigna, honoring all the mothers, both living and those who have passed on.

The program in the evening was as follows:

Overture—Charles Johnson's orchestra.

Address of Welcome—Noah Marcoe, worthy president.

Address—Patrick McDonough.

Duets—Dorothy Fredrickson and Helen Jean Beck; Blanche Anetta, accompanist.

Selection—Johnson's orchestra.

Piano solo—Jeanette Lewis.

Recitation, "Mother"—James Marcoe.

Reading, "Honor Thy Mother"—O. M. Brown.

The meeting was well attended.

A Book A Day

By Bruce Catton

Most of the scientific "outline" books are pretty dismal affairs. Either they leave the obstruce propositions which they set out to explain about as dark as they found them, or they over-simplify them and fill the trusting reader with a lot of information that isn't so.

It's refreshing, therefore, to come across a book which does the job up neatly as it is done in "Rambling Through Science," by A. L. DeLeeuw. This book, which summarizes and explains the accomplishments and the theories of modern science, is just about as good a book of its kind as I have yet seen.

Mr. DeLeeuw possesses the rare merit of being able to simplify a highly complicated subject without sacrificing any of the essentials.

Using homely illustrations that the lay reader is sure to be familiar with, he discusses such things as relativity, the measurement of the speed of light, the make-up of atoms, the way radium behaves, the theory of the ether, and so on and makes those things about as clear as they can ever be to benighted souls who lack a thorough scientific education.

He also traces the history of scientific research, tells how the great discoveries were made and how the great theories were formulated and tested, and does it all in a simple, readable and intelligent manner.

All in all, "Rambling Through Science" provides you with a singularly pleasant way of brushing up your knowledge of science.

BOARD ACTS ON FINANCE PLAN

Authorize Treasurer to Sign Agreement for Funds in Bank

Authorization of the county treasurer to sign the depositors agreement in behalf of the county for funds in the Manistique bank in accordance with the banks reorganization plans, was made by the board of supervisors yesterday at the special meeting called for the discussion of finance problems facing the county.

In order to guarantee the county sufficient funds with which it could carry on its general run of business until the receipt of additional funds in October, sureties on the $40,000 depository bond agreed to make available to the county the sum of $5000.00 each month beginning with June and running through October, if and when the reorganization of said bank becomes effective. The county has $64,000.00 on deposit in the Manistique bank, $40,000 of which is secured by a depository bond.

For immediate use the county has $3,000 at its disposal it may later exercise the privilege of borrowing on delinquent county taxes or expected tax receipts.

Thompson Hatchery Experimenting With Raising Pike-Perch

Experiments in pike-perch or "yellow pickerel" propagation are being made at the Thompson Fish hatchery, according to information received from the fish division of the department of conservation. What is expected to be the largest distribution of pike-perch in years will be made within the next three weeks.

Spawning conditions in Saginaw Bay where all of the eggs were obtained, were ideal it was said, and unusually large quantities of eggs were gathered by commercial fisherman and turned over to the state.

Spawn taking began immediately with the re-opening of the pike-perch commercial fishing season April 11. Spawning has been somewhat delayed because of the fact that the freeze-up in Saginaw Bay did not come until late during the past winter. Then began a gradual rise in temperature which facilitated spawning.

Taxes Capacity

The Bay City hatchery is working at full capacity with all hatching jars filled. During the past year additional jars were brought from the now closed Bayport hatchery and some jars were transferred from the Hastings station. About 1000 jars are operating, each containing nearly half a million pike-perch eggs. In addition to those received by the Thompson hatchery, the Lydell hatchery and the federal hatchery at Alpena also received an allotment.

Because of the fact that an extraordinary quantity of eggs were obtained by commercial fisherma this year taxing the department of conservation's ability to take care of all of them, several hundred quarts were given to Indiana and Chicago. Some of the eggs hatched at Chicago will be planted in Lake Michigan.

Pike perch are planted immediately after hatching because of their cannibalistic tendencies.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Becker visited with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grimord, Mrs Becker's parents, and with friends in Crystal Falls Sunday.

Rotarians Dance And Dine Monday At Elks' Temple

Members of the local rotary club and their friends enjoyed a fine social evening at the Elks' Temple Monday evening. A dinner was served at 6:45 p. m. which was followed by dancing and other entertainment.

The function was originally scheduled as an inter-city event with members of the Gladstone Rotary club as guests. Owing to the death of I. N. Bushong, prominent Gladstone lumberman and financier, the Gladstone Rotarians canceled the engagement.

Pall of Gloom Is Cast Over City by Death of I. Bushong

The death of I. N. Bushong Saturday at St. Petersburg, Florida, cast a deep pall of gloom over this community. Manistique citizens have always held Mr Bushong in high esteem and have always regarded him as one of this city's truest friends.

To Mr. Bushong is given much credit for obtaining the Inland Steel company to locate its subsidiary, the Inland Lime & Stone company, at Port Inland in 1928. With his death Manistique loses one of its biggest boosters.

Junior High Paper Issued Last Friday

The second issue of the "Manistique School News" published by pupils of the junior high school with the cooperation of the grades, was distributed Friday. The edition featured Mother's Day.

In addition to editorials, the paper deals with cirricular and extra-curricular activities of the junior high school, Riverside school, Lakeside school, and Lincoln school.

Each edition is eagerly looked forward to by the pupils who are enthusiastically working for its success. Not only does the paper coordinate the grade schools in a more closely bound unit, thereby increasing school spirit, but serves as a basis for journalistic instruction.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. L. Blanchard To Be Held Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Leonard Blanchard, 23, of Gould City, who passed away Saturday at the Shaw hospital after a protracted illness, will be held this afternoon at Gould City with Rev. Deloyd Huenink, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city officiating. Services will be held both from the home and from the village hall.

Interment will be made in Fairview cemetery with Sven Johnson, local mortician, in charge. The deceased is survived by her husband, a son, and four sisters living in Maine, the birthplace of the deceased.

Local Woman Will Attend Rate Board Meet at Marquette

Miss Eva Jaconson, daughter of Mrs. John Carlson of this city, who is employed at the Veterans' Bureau at Detroit, has been appointed to attend the meeting of the government rating board which will be held at Marquette, Mich., May 21 to 28. Miss Jaconson has been employed by the Veterans bureau at Detroit for the past five years.

Other members of the Detroit Veterans bureau who will attend the Marquette meeting are Doctors Schroeder, Wolf, Troxler, and Miss E. Possler. Miss Jacobson will make a three weeks' visit here with her mother following the rate board meeting before returning to Detroit.

WEBER INFANT INTERRED

Last sad rites for Harold Weber, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weber who passed away suddenly Friday evening, were held yesterday morning at eight o'clock from the St. Francis de Sales church with Rev. R. J. P. Schevers oficiating. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery.

OH, A WEDDING

Denver—Louis Zebrosky, 17, was picked up unconscious by police and charged with drunkenness. His mother came to court to plead for him. "But, Judge," she began, "it was a wedding." Replied Judge Alvin H. Pickens, "Oh, that's different. Fine suspended." But no one thought to see who got married.

CITY BRIEFS

Dr. Elmer Drevdahl and family, of Marquette, visited in the city over the week-end with relatives.

George W. Baldwin of the Manistique Light and Power Co. spent the week-end with his family at Sault Sainte Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Smith were expected to return home yesterday from Hart, Michigan, where Mr. Smith has been transacting business since last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Danielson and children of Escanaba were guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Danielson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McLaughlin. They were accompanied here by Miss Dorothy McLaughlin, who has been visiting in Escanaba.

Miss Rose Barkovich visited with relatives and friends in Iron Mountain, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Paige and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clement visited in Garden Sunday with relatives and friends.

Henry Vincent has returned to Chicago after being called here by the death of his mother, who lived in Naubinway.

Stanley and Maurice Reid are moving into the formers home at the Big Spring this week. Mrs. Stanley Reid and children will join her husband at Psalm Book park in June after the schools are closed for the summer vacation.

Clifford Cool of l'Anse visited at his home here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ackerman are expected home today from a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends. Some of the visits made were with Mrs. Ackerman's brother, A. J. Smith in Land o' Lakes, Wisconsin, another brother, Earl Smith and family, at Eagle River, Wisconsin, and with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Larson in Rhinelander. They also visited for a few days on their return trip with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith in Escanaba.

Walter Drevdahl of Bessemer visited at his home here over the week-end.

Mrs. William Gardipee and daughter, Kathaleen, and son, Francis, of Little Lake, visited with Mrs. Gardipee's mother, Mrs. James Orilly over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Aanderude and sons, Theodore and Emil, of Munising, visited in the city Sunday with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Caffey of Germfask, Miss Mayme Shoemaker of Negaunee, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jago and children, Clyde and Edith, of Trout Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Detman, and children, Hiawatha Road, were guests at the Theodore Caffey home on Mother's Day.

Miss Helen McDonough, who has been working in Escanaba for the past several months, has returned to her home here.

HIAWATHA NEWS

Hiawatha, Mich., May 9. (Special) Wm. L. Byers had the misfortune to cut his foot badly last Wednesday when he was cutting jack-pine in the woods. The big toe was completely split open but owing to the quick attention of his brother in getting him out of the woods is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Leo Comrie has been spending a few days at the Jack-pine lodge with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Byers.

A new executive committee has been appointed in the grange and it is expected that they will be soon putting on some of our old-fashioned dances.

Laurence Aldrich has returned from his trip to Milwaukee where he went to bring his father back to stay for the summer.

Victor Marks is busy clearing up some of his farm on M94 and contemplates working it this summer. He has been spending some time in Chicago.

Little Nile Byers, two years old, ran away from home the other day and was found at his grandfathers about a quarter of a mile down the road. He had gone through the orchard and had tried to play with the hogs and was not a bit afraid or did not seem to mind them at all. Went on his way as serenely as an older person.

For the first time in about thirty years A. L. Byers planted some potatoes and garden stuff during the month of April. Some folks are laughing about it but maybe old weather man will be kind and we can have green peas and new potatoes on the fourth of July.

Mrs. A. L. Byers was a caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hovey at Indian lake. Mrs. Hovey has been very ill but at present is slowly gaining. This is the first time in thirty-three years that Mrs. Hovey has had to have medical help of any kind.

SQUEALED ON HIM

Seattle, Wash.—If K. Klingman ever operated another blind pig, he'll see to it that there are no real porkers around. Deputy Sheriff J. J. Best was near Klingman's place recently and noticed a pig squealing after having been caught in a fence. The deputy went over to free the pig and his nose caught the odor of Klingman's cooking mash. He investigated, bought a gallon of moonshine from Klingman, and then arrested him on the evidence.

Ionia (AP)—Fire that resulted when lightning struck a barn on the state hospital farm here early Saturday destroyed 90 tons of hay and a quantity of farm implements.

Gladstone Mourns as Body of First Citizen Is Brought Home

The body of I. N. Bushong, Gladstone's first citizen, will arrive here tomorrow morning from St. Petersburg, Florida, his winter home, where he died Saturday noon following a brief illness. Accompanying the body will be Mrs. Bushong, J. P. Bushong, his only son, Carleton Reade and George A. Vradenburg, husbands of his two daughters, and Mrs. Carl Green, a daughter of Mrs. Bushong.

Funeral services are to be held Thursday afternoon. At two o'clock (E. S. T.) a service at the home, 805 Wisconsin avenue, for members of the immediate family will be held and at three o'clock (E. S. T.) the body will be taken to the Memorial Methodist church where public services will be held. Rev. H. W. Colenso, pastor of the church, will be in charge of the services.

On Wednesday afternoon, between the hours of 3:00 and 6:00 o'clock (E. S. T.) and again on Thursday morning, between the hours of 10:00 and 12:00 (E. S. T.) the public will be admitted to the home, where the body will lie in state. Following the services, Thursday afternoon, the body will lie in state at the church for one hour.

Thursday night, members of the family, will leave with the body for Leipsic, Ohio, old home of Mr. Bushong, where interment is to be made. Services there will be held on Friday afternoon and burial made in the Bushong family plot.

City in Mourning

As the train bearing the body of Mr. Bushong is speeding northward and preparations for the funeral services go forward, the community of which he was so much a part, mourns his passing. Flags are at half mast, the mills which he conceived and built are closed, and the citizens, with whom he had lived, pause to pay tribute to him and recount the things he had accomplished and the good deeds he had performed.

On the day of the services, every activity of the city will be halted out of respect to his memory. A proclamation by Mayor Pro Tem August Goodman was issued yesterday recommending that all social, commercial and industrial activity cease during Thursday, May 12. The City Club also issued a request to its membership to close their places of business on that day.

The respect that is being paid by Gladstone is the respect that is due to one who has succeeded by his own effort and whose record of achievement is enhanced by community service. To Gladstone, he gave of his time, to the church he gave of his money, to labor he gave employment, and to his fellow citizen he gave assistance and encouragement.

A Self-Made Man.

His was the record of a self-made man. Born of parents who were poor, he set out upon life at an early age. He fought his way to the top through difficulties and remained there because of keen judgment and foresight.

On September 18, 1855, at Columbus Grove, Ohio, he was born. His boyhood was spent in the frugal home of a Circuit Rider, for his father, a minister, carried the message of religion to the early settlers of Ohio, travelling from one settlement to another astride a horse.

At fifteen, he assumed the responsibilities of manhood. Equipped with meagre education, he entered the railway service. Within a short time he had learned the Morse code and had become a telegraph operator and when he reached the age of eighteen he had advanced to a position of train dispatcher.

Not content with the opportunities that were afforded, he resigned from his position and returned to Columbus Grove where he established a planing mill and entered upon the lumbering career, through which he achieved nation-wide distinction.

Until 1886, he continued the operation of this mill. In that year, he associated himself with others in the organization of the Buckeye Stave company with headquarters at Leipsic, Ohio. This venture was highly successful and with the growth of the business came the need for expansion.

When the expansion program was decided upon, Mr. Bushong came to Michigan and to Gladstone, where he established the first unit of the present industry in 1893. Year after year the holdings were increased, the plant expanded and the business extended, until at the time of his death, the Northwestern Cooperage and Lumber company, of which he was president, was one of the largest of the lumbering industries in the north.

Looking to the future when the forests of Michigan would be exhausted, Mr. Bushong turned his attention to the west and there he secured acres of virgin timber, power sites and mills, which now form part of his estate.

Mayor of Gladstone

As time went on and Mr. Bushong's business ability became known, his interest was sought by banks, by steel industries and by mining operations. In northern Ohio, where he had made his start, his name became recognized as that of a business leader and his services were sought on the directing boards of banks and industries.

Withal his growth financially, Mr. Bushong remained a Gladstonian. He took an active interest in the affairs of the city and was one of the prime movers in securing a change in government that would provide an efficient management. He took time from his affairs to serve on the city commission and as a Mayor of the city.

Mr. Bushong also interested himself in the financial affairs of the community and was one of the organizers of the Gladstone State Savings Bank, of which he served as president until his death.

To the Memorial Methodist church, of which he was a member, he was a good friend and to him is accredited, largely, its growth and success.

Mr. Bushong was a member of no clubs or societies other than the Rotary Club of which he was an honorary member.

At the time of his death, Mr. Bushong had reached the age of 76 years and seven months. He is survived by Mrs. Bushong, a son, J. P. Bushong of Gladstone, two daughters, Mrs. Carleton Reade, and Mrs. George Vradenburg, both of Toledo, a brother, J. T. Bushong, of Columbus Grove, and seven grandchildren, Mary Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bushong, Helen, Newton and George, children of Mr. and Mrs. Vradenburg, and Wight Betty and Mary, children of Mr. and Mrs. Reade.

Mrs. Vradenburg and Mrs. Reade arrived in Gladstone Monday morning from Toledo and Mary Alice Bushong will arrive today from Northfield, Minn., to be present at the services.

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, Divine Providence has summoned Gladstone's most distinguished citizen—The Honorable I. N. Bushong, former Mayor and eminent industrial and financial leader.

AND WHEREAS, his devotion to the cause of good local government contributed immeasurably to the civic well being of the community.

AND WHEREAS, a grateful citizenship mourns his passing as a friend and kindly counselor.

NOW THEREFORE, I, August Goodman, Mayor Pro Tem of the City of Gladstone, Michigan, recommend that Thursday, May 12th, 1932 be fittingly set aside as a day of reverential observance and respect to his memory by the cessation, so far as possible, of all social, commercial and industrial activities.

Given under my hand and seal this ninth day of May, A. D., Nineteen Hundred and Thirty Two.

AUGUST GOODMAN,
Mayor Pro Tem
City of Gladstone, Michigan.

289 REGISTERED IN SECOND WARD

To Start Enrollment in Fourth Ward Monday Of Next Week

Two hundred and eighty six electors of the city had been permanently enrolled on the books of the Second Ward Saturday night when the special registration for that ward closed, according to D. J. Calder, special clerk. This number represents approximately 75 per cent of the total qualified voters in that precinct.

On Monday, May 16, Mr. Calder states, registration for the Fourth Ward will commence. The polling booth on 15th street between Wisconsin and Michigan avenues will be registration headquarters, and all voters of the Fourth Ward will be required to appear in person during the week ending May 21 to have their names properly entered in order to vote at the September election. The hours of registration will be from 11:00 to 12:00 o'clock in the morning, and from 1:00 to 5:00 and from 6:00 to 8:00 in the afternoon.

Provision is also to be made for the registration of the remainder of the electors of the Second Ward, who may appear at the Fourth Ward polling booth to have their names enrolled during the week.

Mr. Calder emphasized the requirement that naturalized voters bring evidence of their citizenship when they appear for registration. Regardless of the fact that they have voted for many years, he said, the new law requires specific information regarding their naturalization.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Song and Music Service—The usual song and music service will be held at the Salvation Army hall tonight at 8 o'clock. A very interesting program is prepared and Rev. J. O. Bergeson of Denver, Colo., will speak. The new stringband will sing and play for the first time at this meeting. Refreshments will be served. All are cordially invited.

Lady Maccabees—A meeting of the Cloverland Association of the Lady Maccabes will be held in the North Star hall, Escanaba, Thursday, May 12. The morning session will begin at 10 o'clock. A large attendance from all the Hives is desired.

Meetings Postponed—The meeting of the General Aid of the Methodist Episcopal Memorial church scheduled for Wednesday afternoon has been postponed owing to the death of I. N. Bushong. The Junior Epworth League to have been held Thursday afternoon has also been postponed.

Aid Auction—The Ladies' Aid of the First Lutheran church will conduct an auction sale at the church parlors Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock. Fancy work, aprons, quilts, etc., will be sold. Refreshments are to be served following the sale.

Prayer Meeting—The members of the First Lutheran church will hold a prayer meeting service at the home of Gust Erickson, Buckeye Addition, on Wednesday evening, starting at 7:45.

Commission Acts On Budget Tonight

The Gladstone City Commission will meet tonight to act on the audit of the books for last year and to approve the budget of next year's expenditures. A public hearing on the budget is to be held in conjunction with the meeting of the commission.

Mayor Pro Tem August Goodman will preside at the meeting in the absence of Mayor J. P. Bushong.

Bushong since the organization of the Buckeye Stave company in 1886, will arrive in the city Wednesday to be present at the funeral services for Mr. Bushong. Mr. Critten is now in charge of the Minneapolis offices of the Northwestern Cooperage and Lumber company.

O. V. Kurker Is in Critical Condition

The condition of O. V. Kurker, Soo Line engineer, who suffered a stroke a week ago was reported as critical late yesterday afternoon. Mr. Kurker has been in an unconscious condition practically all of the time since he was stricken. Sunday his condition became more serious and he gradually began to sink into a coma from which it is doubtful that he will recover.

(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 9 (AP)—Stocks backed and filled rather aimlessly today, content to stand by and await the issue of events at Washington where the tax bill was advanced to the senate.

In the year's dullest trading, market leaders edged up and down narrowly, easing a little in the afternoon when buying proved even lighter than offerings and closing with a minor fractional loss on the average. Sales totaled only 636,707 shares.

Group movements were generally indistinct, although the rails looked heavy. Advance estimates of tomorrow's freight movement report, which will cover April's last week, mentioned a probable decline. Imminence of the New York Central and Union Pacific dividend meetings may also have been a factor, even though it is almost a foregone conclusion, in Wall Street opinion, that the former road will take no action toward a payment. Central was off nearly a point net; there were slightly larger losses in Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe, while Baltimore & Ohio, Northern Pacific and Pennsylvania flirted with their old lows. Norfolk & Western dropped 2.

Eastman Kodak, which likewise has a dividend session in the offing, sagged 3 to a record minimum and American Telephone, after some forenoon firmness, fell back 1½ net. Otherwise, pivotal issues cosed with small changes.

General Motors April sales report A showed a more than seasonal gain over March. March was a very poor month for automobile manufacturers; May, however, has been running ahead of April which is normally the year's best month. Seasonal performances in all industries have been thrown badly askew by this depression.

Foreign exchanges held a firm tone against dollars notwithstanding reports from abroad that sentiment had been helped by recent developments at Washington. The inference was that Europe's fears will best be allayed by definite completion of tasks which still lie ahead of congress.

Curb Market Dull, Prices Hold Steady

New York, May 9 (AP)—The curb was inactive today and in the absence of selling pressure prices held about steady.

In view of the small turnover, approximating only 100,000 shares, traders felt that recent gains probably had not been fully tested but were nevertheless pleased by absence of offerings.

Cities Service preferred had an early sinking spell but made full recovery, closing half a point higher. Electric Bond and Share met good support, ruling at or above Saturday's final quotation and showing a small net gain.

Swift stocks improved in the late afternoon. One of the thin spots was Northern Indiana Public Service 7 percent preferred which tumbled 10 points in one of its infrequent appearances on the tape.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, May 9—New Russian purchasing of wheat led to a brisk upturn of grain prices today, but the rise was largely offset by stock market declines.

Uncertainty about the United States government crop report tomorrow afternoon, served also to pull wheat values down.

A sustaining influence was 2,779,000 bushels shrinkage of the domestic wheat visible supply, reducing the total to 174,902,000 bushels against 193,831,000 the corresponding week last year.

Wheat closed irregular, ¼ off to ¼ to 3-8 up compared with Saturday's finish, corn at 1-8 decline to 1-8 advance, oats unchanged to 1-8 to ¼ down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 2 cents.

Corn shipping demand here was the best in several days, but weather over the corn belt was generally auspicious for field work. Corn and oats mainly followed the action of wheat.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—May, 58 4-4, bids; July, 56¼ to 3-8, 57½ to 5-8; September, 58 5-8, 59 7-8 to 60; December, 61 8-4, 63. Corn—July, 32¼, 32 5-8 to 3-4; September, 34½, 34 7-8 to 35; December, 34 3-8, 34 7-8.

New York, May 9 (AP)—The bond market traveled an uneven road today with some specialties under pressure and others holding a little better than even.

Altogether, it was a comparatively dull session notwithstanding the fact that sales totaled $13,455,000, par value. The aggregate was brought up substantially by the heavy selling of National Dairy Products 5¼s which showed a net loss of 4 points.

In the matter of averages, 60 principal loans lost two-tenths of a point. The 20 selected industrials dropped three-tenths for another 1932 low; the same number of rails gave up six-tenths and 20 utilities closed unchanged.

United States government bonds generally were steady, although most of them ended with fractional declines. The easing of this list was attributed partly to profit taking.

The rails were the weakest members of the listed loans family. Heaviest declines were confined to the convertible and secondary issues.

Communications company loans kept the utilities down. Weakness was shown by bonds of International Telephone. Postal Telegraph and Western Union. Power and Light corporation liens improved moderately.

Welfare Club Play Plans Are Complete

Presentation of the Child Welfare Club play, "Mother Mine" has been definitely set for the evening of May 27, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. E. A. D'Amour, chairman of the committee in charge. The first rehearsal of the full cast is to be held this evening under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Sturgeon.

Several changes in the cast have been made and the date has been changed since the original plans were made.

In addition to the play several specialty numbers are to be presented between the acts. One of these numbers is to be a solo by Elizabeth Miller, Rapid River.

The play, "Mother Mine," is a three-act drama, which is pronounced one of the finest of recent publication. It is well adapted for home-talent production and especially suited for presentation by the Child's Welfare Club.

The cast is announced as follows:

Miranda—Mrs. C. B. Fitzpatrick.
Jerry—B. C. Chatfield.
Mary—Mrs. O. S. Hult.
Lillian—Mrs. H. J. Norton.
Jack—H. A. Cassidy.
Joe Payson—S. R. Venne.
Cynthia—Mrs. C. L. Tordeur.
Lettie—Mrs. C. A. LaFave.
The Deacon—Gale Wescott.
Lewis—O'Neil D'Amour.

Pays Tribute to Memory of City's First Citizen

A. H. Kinmond, president of the Gladstone Rotary Club, paid tribute to the memory of I. N. Bushong, honorary member of the club, whose death occurred Saturday, at the Monday meeting. Mr. Kinmond spoke briefly but in glowing terms of the value of Mr. Bushong to the community and expressed the belief that time would amplify the loss that had been sustained. At the close of Mr. Kinmond's address the club members stood in silence in respect to Mr. Bushong's memory.

The inter-city meeting of the Rotary Clubs of Gladstone and Manistique, to have been held last night, has been indefinitely postponed because of the death of Mr. Bushong, it was announced.

Auxiliary President Explains Purpose of National Poppy Day

Saturday, May 28, will be "Poppy Day" in Gladstone. On that day every person in the city will be asked to wear a bright red poppy in honor of the men who gave their lives in the World War, Mrs. Clyde Fitzpatrick, President of the local Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced. The poppies will be sold throughout the city by Auxiliary women, assisted by members of other women's organizations, and the entire proceeds will go to the relief and rehabilitation funds of the Auxiliary and Legion.

The local poppy sale will be part of a nation-wide observance of "Poppy Day," Mrs. Fitzpatrick explained. On May 28th, the Saturday before Memorial Day, more than ten million paper replicas of the poppy of Flanders Fields will be offered by Auxiliary women who will distribute the flowers on the streets of practically every city and town in the country. Thousands of disabled veterans have been working for many weeks making the flowers for the sale.

"Poppy Day" will have a two-fold message to the people of Gladstone, said Mrs. Fitzpatrick. "First, it will call to them to wear a poppy as a personal tribute to the memory of those gallant young men who gave their lives for America in the World War, and second, it will appeal to them to help lighten the burden for those who are paying the price of America's victory in suffering and hardships, the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead. Every penny which the people of the city contribute for the poppies will go to the relief of the living victims of the war, the bulk of the money remaining right here in Gladstone to finance the Auxiliary's relief activities among needy veterans and their families here."

THEATRES

head arrogantly. Bob's lips curled at the memory. What a fraud she was! Why hadn't he seen through her before?

AFTER several days that had seemed endless the doctor said the young man might go out. Feeling excited and shaken, Bob climbed into a taxi and gave the driver Susan's address. The house, when he reached it, was quite dark. There was no sign of anyone about. Hopelessly, he rang the bell once or twice. Then, failing to raise anyone, he slipped his card with a scrawled message on it into the mail box. Would Susan let him know when it would be convenient for him to come and call?

He came the next night, and the next, and the next, but always darkness and silence rewarded his effort. He began to be genuinely alarmed. Telephoning the office, he was informed by Miss Smith, the new secretary, that Miss Carey was not there and would not be any more. Some sickness in the family, she thought. That night Dunbar made another try and when there was no answer rang the bell of the next neighbor. A thin man in carpet slippers answered the ring.

"They're gone away and I don't know when they'll be back," the man said sourly. Since he did not know that Susan came over from the Miltons every day to see the fire he could not give Bob that ray of hope.

When Susan arrived the next day accompanied by Mrs. Milton, the older woman said idly, "Don't you want to look in the letter box, honey?"

Susan pointed to the heap of mail which was revealed as she pushed open the front door.

"The postman never uses it," she explained. If she had only known what lay behind that small iron flap.

Silver Wedding

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Peterson, 1507 Wisconsin Avenue, was celebrated Saturday evening by a surprise gathering of seventy-five friends at their home.

A mock wedding was presented and Mrs. Adolf Johnson gave a poem which she had composed. Following the program the guests enjoyed games of five-hundred and smear. High scores going to Miss Gladys Nelson and Ole Nelson.

At the close a delightful luncheon was served and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were presented with a beautiful set of silverware.

The party was arranged by Mrs. Adolf Johnson, Mrs. August Skogquist, and Mrs. John Larson.

LLOYD BROWN LICKS FERRELL

Victory Puts Senators Three Games Ahead Of Yankees

Washington, May 9 (AP)—Lloyd Brown held the Cleveland Indians to four hits today while his teammates pounded out six off of Wesley Ferrell to give the Washington Senators a 3 to 0 victory over the Tribe in their first encounter of the season.

The victory placed Washington three full games ahead of New York in the league standing.

Brown helped to put the winning run across the plate. With three men on in the seventh, he drove a hard grounder to Cissell, back of first. Cissell nailed Brown at first, but Reynolds was across the plate with the winning run.

In the eighth, Reynolds smashed one to the center fie'd wall for a home run, scoring Cronin ahead of him, but the seventh inning had produced enough runs to win.

The Indians never threatened seriously, their hits being well scattered.

CARDINALS WIN FROM DODGERS

Three Runs Scored After One Out in Ninth; Score, 7 to 6

St. Louis, May 9 (AP)—Pounding the offerings of the veteran Jack Quinn for four successive hits after one was out in the ninth inning, the Cardinals pushed across three runs to nose out Brooklyn, 7 to 6, in today's opener.

Sparky Adams' triple, his third hit of the game, scored a pair to tie the count and then, after two intentional passes, Jimmy Collins came through with a single to score Adams with the winning run. It also was Collins' third safety.

Up to the time of their big rally, the champions were behind all the way and it appeared the Dodgers would break their three-game losing streak. Pecking away at Flint Rhem, the invaders had piled up a 6 to 3 lead going into the last of the eighth and, with Watson Clark pitching fine ball, looked like the winners, but Clark gave way to Quinn when the Cards threatened in their half of the eighth, and the veteran couldn't hold his lead.

Rhem went the route and, though hit hard, pulled out with his fourth victory of the year. Cuccinello found him for a home run in the second. Joe Stripp knocked in three Brooklyn runs with a brace of timely singles.

Leading Batsmen In Big Leagues

(By The Associated Press)

Carl Reynolds, fleet outfielder of the Washington Senators, slugged his way to the top in the big league batting race yesterday when he hit two doubles and a home run in propelling the Senators to a 3 to 0 victory over Cleveland. The three blows sent Reynolds' average up to .420 in 19 games and enabled him to pass Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics, who was idle. The leaders:

Cincinnati Defeats Philadelphia By 4-3

Cincinnati, May 9 (AP)—A ninth inning rally gave the Cincinnati Reds a 4 to 3 victory today in the season's first tussle with the Phillies. It was Cincinnati's fifth straight victory. Making it notable again was Ernest Lombardi, ball-crashing catcher, who hit a triple and a home run.

The victory put the Reds in third place in the league standings.

Menominee Decides Not to Hold Invitational Track Meet This Year

The upper peninsula invitational track and field meet, oldest of track events in this district, will be abandoned this year unless some school steps forward with an offer to entertain the peninsular athletes at th's annual feature of the spring sports calendar.

Menominee, which founded the event and which has recently shared it with Iron Mountain, has informed school men it will not be able to handle it this year because of the expense involved. No school has been able to run any of the major track events on a paying basis, because of the limited patronage accorded them, and Menominee's board of education, estimating the event this season would cost the school approximately $200, has voted against it.

Iron Mountain, which has alternated with Menominee in conducting the events since the completion of its new stadium, will not be able to take it over as it has its newly acquired regional May 21. The Mountaineer school officials point out they could not afford to hold two major events and they can not well abandon the regional, after putting up such a sp'rited fight for it.

Escanaba, another of the track leaders, cannot handle the meet either, as it has its relays to handle.

Looks to Gogebic Schools

The only apparent hope for the meet rests in the possibility that one of the Gogebic county schools will step forward with an offer to handle the meet. Ironwood, Bessemer and Wakefield have not been as active in the spring sports, on a peninsular scale, as other towns of the district. It has been reported, however, that they intend to branch out. School men think this newly developed situation presents the Gogebic schools with an opportunity to take their place as leaders with the schools in other parts of the peninsula.

The action of Menominee breaks up what school officials had regarded as an ideal situation. It cannot be questioned that over a span of years, Iron Mountain, Menominee and Escanaba have carried the greatest share of the burden in peninsular track activities. With the newly allocated regional to this section of the peninsula, each of these leaders was assured one major event a season. Escanaba has made its relays one of the highlights of the spring sport season; Menominee has long since developed the invitational to major rating and the regional to Iron Mountain gave this city a major event. It had been decided to keep the relays at Escanaba, but alternate the individual and the regional between Iron Mountain and Menominee.

Expenses Slashed

While the invitational in other years has entailed considerable expense, arrangements were made th's yea rto cut costs to the bone. Events were to be limited to one day instead of two, with preliminaries in the morning and finals in the afternoon. Practically all teams would be able to make the trip to the meet the same day as the events and those few athletes who would have to travel the day before could be accommodated over night at private homes.

Award of medals is the major expense item of the meet.

GOLF PROS TO HOLD CLINICS

Salaried Players Will Have Troubles Get Real Airing

New York, May 9 (AP)—A "back to the farm" movement, intended to divert golf professionals' attention from tournament playing to their shop duties, has been launched by the Professional Golfers' Association of America.

Charles W. Hall, president of the association, began more than a month ago to put into motion the machinery for a professional golfers' clinic which is to be national in scope.

Copied in style after medical clinics, the professionals' infirmary will serve as a place for salaried golfers to take their troubles and discuss them with men chosen for expertness in specific phases of the game.

Clinics will be established in four sections of the country: New York, representing the east; Chicago, the middle west; a point in California for the Pacific coast and probably Atlanta for the southern region.

Completion of the selection of clinic committees for New Jersey today rounded out the eastern branch. This section was organized by Jack MacKie, treasurer of the association, in charge of New York State, and George R. Jacobus, of Ridgewood, N. J., chairman of the national group's ways and means committee.

"One of the objects of the clinic will be to help the professionals to be of more benefit to their club members," Jacobus said.

Boston Braves Win 12-Inning Contest With Pirates, 6-5

Pittsburgh, May 9, (AP) Two runners crossed the plate when Fritz Knothe whacked a long single through the gray mists in the 12th inning today and the Boston Braves took the first game of the series from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5.

A short time later, the same peppy third baseman ended the game by throwing out Traynor after the Bucs had scored a run and had filled the bases.

"Huck" Betts opposed Larry French at the star, but was hit hard and gave way to Frankhouse in the sixth. The latter hurled brilliantly up to the 12th, when he was removed for the veteran Tom Zachary, who pitched to only one man. Cantwell finished the game.

THREE SCHOOLS IN MEET HERE

Eskymos Face Menominee and Iron Mountain In Track Events

A triangular track and field meet with Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Menominee the competing schools will be held at the Escanaba athletic field on Saturday. The event will be a booster meet with admission prices considerably reduced in an effort to create more interest in the spring sport.

With a sizzling victory over Marinette, the Eskymos this week will make ready for what they regard as the supreme test of strength of the season on Saturday.

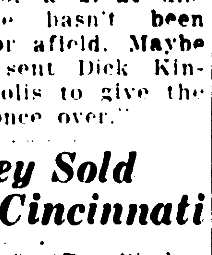
Both Menominee and Iron Mountain are rated as outstanding in the track and field sport and the Eskymos will find it nothing like the easy dual meet of last Saturday.

If the Eskymos are able to win this week's triangular, they will rank as the favorite in both the regional and U. P. invitational. The same will prove true, naturally, for both the Maroons and Mountaineers.

Eskymo officials regard this meet as more a test of their strength than either the regionals or invitational as in the latter meets other teams will take points that the Eskymos would not get anyway.

Koenecke Slipping, Says Sports Writer

Leonard Koenecke, former Escanaba baseball player, is not faring so well in the big league, according to William Braucher, noted sports writer.



Koenecke

Writing recently, Braucher said:

"John McGraw, manager of the Giants, has suffered more than one disappointment during this baseball campaign but perhaps the one that galls him most is the failure of Outfielder Leonard Koenecke to demonstrate major league ability.

"Mr. McGraw scouted Koenecke personally at Indianapolis last summer and placed upon him the stamp of a great discovery. Koenecke hasn't been clicking at bat or afield. Maybe he should have sent Dick Kinsella to Indianapolis to give the young man the once over."

Pitcher Frey Sold Back To Cincinnati

St. Louis, May 9, (AP)—Pitcher Benny Frey, whom the St. Louis Cardinals obtained in the recent trade which sent outfielder "Chick" Hafey to the Cincinnati Reds, was sold back to Cincinnati today. Vice President Branch Rickey, who made the announcement, did not disclose the terms. Frey pitched only two innings for the Cards.

BOXING

Pittsburgh, May 9 (AP) Lew Massey, Philadelphia lightweight, outboxed Tony Herrera of Chicago in 10 busy rounds tonight. The fight was all Massey's after the third round, the easterner using a short left that kept Herrera backing away.

"SEZ ME"

by Ken Gunderman

Inability of the Eskymos to secure a football game here with Stambaugh for next fall has caused more than one groan from Escanaba fans. The addition of Stambaugh to the Escanaba schedule would certainly have given the Eskymos the kind of a football card that the fans like to see them have.

o

Stambaugh is one of the best football town in the peninsula and the Stambaugh teams all possess that beautiful rhythm that Marty Mahlberg is able to inject into an outfit. It was believed the game would be scheduled as Rumor had it that the Stambaugh school officials were having difficulty filling their card for the 1932 season and would jump at the opportunity to put on their list a team of the calibre of the Eskymos.

o

Reports emanating from the Stambaugh district during the winter hinted that Stambaugh was having difficulty with their schedule because many of the peninsula teams feared their strength. The Eskymos with Oct. 15 open on their schedule figured that date would be filled with a Stambaugh-Escanaba game at Escanaba.

o

In one sense, it probably is just as well that Stambaugh rejected the game. Escanaba plays at Menominee the previous week and the Menominee game, undoubtedly the high spot on the program, comes on the third game of the season, much earlier than the local school authorities would like it.

o

Decision of the Menominee high school to drop the promotion of the Annual Invitational track and field meet is regretted by all the schools in the peninsula where track is a major sport. Menominee started the invitational meet ten years ago and was the principal factor in its growth. In recent years Menominee and Iron Mountain have been alternating from year to year in promoting the event.

Just what school, if any, will come forward and offer to sponsor the meet this year is a matter of conjecture. Iron Mountain can not do it this year as it has the regional meet on its hands. Escanaba has the Relays and that's enough of a job for one school. Gladstone, another leader in track, at present has inadequate facilities. Houghton has another of the state regionals to promote.

o

Neither Crystal Falls nor Iron River have been at all active in track so there's no hope from that quarter. Soo which has only daubled in track events in recent years apparently does not want it, couldn't handle it if it did want it, and is not in good location anyway.

o

That leaves only the Gogebic schools to take a hand in promoting the invitational meet. Both Ironwood and Wakefield have taken much interest in track in recent years and it is hoped by the schools that push track and field as a major sport that one of these two schools come forward and offer to sponsor the invitational meet this spring.

JIM LEVY NOW HAPPY PLAYER

Becomes Good Hitter as Result of Changing Place at Plate

New York, May 9 (AP)—Jim Levey, ex-marine and shortstop for the St. Louis Browns, qualifies as perhaps the happiest ball player in the big leagues today.

Like the familiar figure in the patent medicine testimonial, Levey's batting average last season was all run down, puny, suffering from almost every known ailment. It lapsed to .209 at the season's close.

Then, this spring, Manager Bill Killefer prescribed a major operation. He jerked the speedy shortstopper's righthand batting stance and installed him on the opposite side of the plate. It was an emergency measure, designed either to "kill or cure." The result is written in the records.

Today the Levey average is one of the healthiest in the American league. In 24 games Levey collected 32 hits, including plenty of extra-basers, for an average of .348. He made only 104 bingles in 139 contests last season. Only two players in the league, Porter and Averill of the Indians, had made more hits through yesterday's games.

"It's the greatest thing that ever happened to me," he testified today. "Here I'd been going along for years thinking I couldn't hit, being just an ordinary ball player. Then Mr. Killefer told me to bat left-handed, and look what's happened. Boy, I can sock that ball!"

Lansing (AP)—Wendell Brown, assistant attorney general, will hold a series of hearings in Detroit next week inquiring into charges of gasoline tax evasion. The hearings are part of a statewide investigation.

Trees Growing Fine—Memory Lane, the row of elm trees which line highway US 2-41 on either side west of Escanaba, came through the winter in fine shape, it is reported. The trees were protected last fall by the setting of posts to support the trees and prevent damage from wind and snow. The highway department has been setting out cedars, evergreens, and other trees this spring at other points on the road as a part of their beautification project. Memory Lane was sponsored by the Escanaba American Legion post.

law in all sections of the country and the failure of enforcement have created serious conditions," he continued. "We are in grave danger of losing what has been gained by the abolition of the liquor traffic and the saloon as formerly conducted solely for private profit. The fruitless efforts at enforcement are causing increased irritation and disrespect for the law generally. x x x

"The enormous revenues from this traffic, placed in the hands of the lawless and criminal element, are enabling them to carry on this business in defiance of government and to organize and develop other lines of criminal activity to an extent which threatens social and economic security."

Record Attendance Expected in State Parks This Season

Although a reduced budget may make it necessary for the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation to close some of Michigan's state parks during the coming season, the aggregate attendance for the coming summer is expected to break all previous records.

Last year the total number of visitors at the parks were in excess of nine millions.

The comparatively small expense involved in a visit to a state park or in the use of one for camping purposes is the reason given by the Parks Division for the expected increase in visitors and campers.

Because of present economic conditions, many people who formerly traveled to other states to spend their vacations will probably remain in Michigan this year and will camp at Michigan's own parks rather than in widely advertised spots in other places.

Use Surplus Labor

In some of the larger and more popular parks added facilities have been provided during the past winter months to take care of larger crowds of visitors by improving the bathing beaches, camping grounds and the erection of shelters and bath houses. Much of the work, especially at the Bay City and the Muskegon State Parks was done by "welfare" labor.

Several of the parks have already reported campers who have started arriving much earlier than in past years. The last few Sundays have also seen large crowds in several of the parks.

Within the next week the Parks Division expects to announce dates of formal openings for the various parks to be under administration for the ensuing year.

Loyola Netters Are Beaten By Normal

Ypsilanti, Mich., May 9 (AP)—Michigan State Normal defeated Loyola University of Chicago 5 to 2 today in a tennis meet which was transferred to the indoor courts of University of Michigan at Ann Arbor because of bad weather. O'Conner and Frisch won the only matches for Loyola.

ENVOYS OF BEAUTY

No section of the country has a corner on the 1932 beauty crop. For when it's apple blossom time in Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, these three girls from different states will lend their loveliness to the annual festival at Winchester. Maxine Doyle (top) is the pick of Governor James Rolph, jr., of California, Harriet Urbach (center) is Iowa's choice, and Mary Jane Dulaney (below) will prettily represent Tennessee.

Average Fisherman Catches 53 Trout; Schools Aid Tally

Lansing — The average small game hunter takes ten rabbits in a season and the average trout fisherman in Michigan lands 53 trout from May to September, tallies now being obtained by the department of conservation indicate.

Recently the educational division of the department began a game tally through the cooperation of the biology classes of the various high schools. More than 100 schools have reported and preliminary tabulations are indicating yields of game higher than had been expected.

School students were asked to report the number of adults in their respective families; the number of small game, deer, and trout licenses purchased by these adults last year, and the amount of game taken.

582 Deer Hunters

The 115 schools reported, show 2,195 small game, 572 deer and 638 trout licenses purchased. These hunters took an average of 10 rabbits each, 1 plus pheasants and two squirrels. The 2,195 small game hunters killed 335 raccoons, 1,722 ducks, 221 opossums, 1,428 partridges and 158 woodcocks. The 638 trout fishermen took 33,914 trout. The 572 deer hunters bagged 282 deer and five bears.

It is expected that most of the 600 high schools of the state will make returns and the consequent compilations are expected by the department to give an excellent cross-section of the amount of game taken in Michigan during an average hunting and fishing season.

SWAMPED BY CATS

London—When Sidney Jay sent out a call for a black cat to take part in a movie, he had no idea he'd get so much attention. Cats sidled into his office from all parts of the city and after the final count had been taken, more than 2000 had been paraded before him to show their film appeal.

ORDER CANCELLED

An old darky visited a doctor and was given definite instructions. Shaking his head, he was about to leave when the doctor said:

"Here, Rastus, you forgot to pay me."

"What for, boss?"

"For my advice."

CORNELL NEWS

Cornell, Mich.—A fire of unknown origin destroyed the house on the Pult farm, which is situated across the bridge at Cornell. The house was untenanted. Eugene Charles, former tenant, had moved to the Miron farm at Chardler a little over a week before the fire. The fire started near midnight on May 2. The house contained quite a store of furniture and dishes. Mr. Pult, owner of the farm, was notified by letter of the loss.

While coming from Escanaba last Sunday night a rear wheel came off a car driven by Raymond DeGrand. Before the auto had come to a stop, another machine coming behind, stopped, picked up the wheel and drove off. Fortunately he had an extra wheel with him so was able to reach home.

The following honor roll was submitted by Gunnar Beck, teacher at the Chandler school: Harry Carrignan, Alma Charles, Dorothy Dahn, Anna Delveaux, Clarona Flemal, Norbert Flemal, Thomas Flemal, Hector Guindon, Milton Lauscher, Alden Shiren and Gerald Stefl.

The following pupils were neither tardy nor absent during the month of April: Harry Carrignan, Laurence Charles, Pauline Charles, Beatrice DeGrand, Lucille DeGrand, Clarence Deuter, Anna Delveaux, Adelore Delveaux, Thomas Flemal, Hector Guindon, Prudence Guindon, Milton Lauscher, Lloyd Lauscher, Clifford Sahn, Kenneth Sahn, Gerald Stefl, Carlyon Vandrese, Gilbert Vandrese, Pearl Vandrese, Myrtle Vandrese and Clarona Flemal.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeGrand motored to Iron Mountain Monday where they visited at the home of their daughter, Mrs. George Miron.

RESCUED AFTER 8 DAYS IN OPEN BOAT

By NEA Service

Miami, Fla.—A pitiful tale of hunger, thirst and horror was told when Frank Oxenfelt and George Maxey were landed here after being rescued from an open boat in which they were at the mercy of a storm at sea for eight days.

The two men went fishing and their motor broke down. A storm came up and blew them out of the regular steamer lane. Two cans of tomatoes, two cans of pork and beans and a gallon of water were all the rations on board at the time.

After the second day of drifting, two sharks came to keep them constant company, following the boat constantly in wait for the ocean to toss them a meal.

On the eighth day they sighted a steamer at night, Oxenfort saturated a bunch of rags with gasoline, ignited them with sparks made by short circuiting the boat's battery, and succeeded in attracting the steamer.

Ohio with 1,710,625 registered motor vehicles stands fourth among the states.

Copr., 1932, The American Tobacco Co.

Why are other cigarettes silent on this vital question?

Do you inhale? Seven out of ten people know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So be careful. Safeguard your delicate membranes!
